Offers Plan for Union of Three Prairie Gov'ts

Premier Bracken of Manitoba Says Millions Could Be Saved—Other Provincial Leaders Express Interest in Suggestion—Fusion Would Give Unity of Thought and Action

WINNIPEG, Jan. 14 (CP).—Canada's Prairie West gnawed tonight on a new economic morsel, thrown to it by the Progressive Premier of Manitoba, Hon. John Bracken, from his sick-room here, where he is confined with a severe cold. It was suggested that this province take the lead in bringing about amalgamation of the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta into a single unit to administer government for all three provinces. The saving would be "millions of dollars" within a few years, Premier Bracken said.

An indication that the scheme had received consideration at the last interprovincial conference at Edmonton two weeks ago, was given by Premier J. T. M. Anderson, head of Saskatchewan's Co-operative Government, in commenting at Regina on the Bracken proposal. "Personal opinions expressed there were favorable," he remarked.

WOULD EFFECT SAVING

The Edmonton conference was attended by Mr. Anderson, Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, and Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General for Manitoba. Today Premier Brownlee said: "The proposal was discussed and undoubtedly it has certain attractions, the chief of them being the saving that would result from one administration instead of three."

He thought the saving might run from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year in Government administration on the Prairies. "Principally, however, the advantage would be that the Prairies would speak with one voice on all Dominion matters, whereas now they sometimes speak with different voices owing to the political views held by the three Governments."

High Commissioner to Inquire Into Plan to Send Lumber to Britain

OTTAWA, Jan. 14 (CP).—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett has communicated with the Canadian High Commissioner in London requesting Mr. Ferguson to ascertain the facts regarding the report that Russian interests and certain English importers were preparing to contract for the importation of a huge quantity of timber in 1932, and that English importers were urging the Imperial Government to give assurance that the contract would not be interfered with by tariffs and preferences to the Dominion.

If the facts confirmed the report, Premier Bennett has asked the High Commissioner to take all action which was possible to obviate the possibility of any such guarantee and which would be detrimental to Canadian interest.

PROVINCES PRESS CASE

QUEBEC, Jan. 14.—Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec today wired Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, supporting the stand of Premier S. F. Tolmie of British Columbia in connection with the proposed importation into Great Britain of Russian timber in 1932.

The following is a telegram from Premier Tolmie to Premier Taschereau, made public here:

"I have just learned that Russian interests and certain English importers are preparing to contract for the importation of a huge quantity of timber in 1932 and English importers are urging the Imperial Government to give assurance that the contract will not be interfered with by tariffs and preferences to Dominions. We wired Mr. Bennett asking him to use his efforts, through Canadian High Commissioner in London, to obviate possibility of any such guarantee to Russians and English importers. Results if successful would be disastrous to Canadian interests. Would respectfully request your support of our wire to Mr. Bennett."

SENDS WIRE TO PREMIER

In reply, Premier Taschereau has forwarded the following telegram to Mr. Bennett:

"I am in receipt of a telegram from Premier Tolmie of British Columbia informing me that he has wired you regarding a large quantity of Russian timber which is to be imported to Great Britain. Our Government most heartily supports Premier Tolmie's attitude."

CYCLIST HURT IN COLLISION

George Harris, 1125 Caledonia Avenue, received painful injuries when he was struck down by an automobile driven by J. W. Jones, 1000 Craigdarroch Road, at the corner of Fort Street and Craigdarroch Road last night.

Mr. Harris was riding a bicycle east along Fort Street when the front fender of the car hit the rear wheel of his cycle and threw him to the ground, bruising his head and shoulder. The police patrol was summoned and the injured man was taken to the Jubilee Hospital.

DOMINION IN SOUND STATE

Bank President Says Violence of Depression Must Produce Reaction

MONTREAL, Jan. 14 (CP).—"Canada is in a relatively satisfactory position and we are justified in looking to the future with confidence," Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, told directors and shareholders of the bank at the annual meeting here today.

"It has been said that it is darkest just before dawn, and in previous depressions conditions have seemed most discouraging at a time when improvement had already set in, stated Sir Herbert. The violence of the depression must of itself tend to produce a strong reaction.

ON VERGE OF RISE

"It may well be that the gold countries are now on the verge of a rise in the price level which they will be powerless to prevent, due to the steady stream of gold which must continue to flow to these countries, aided by the inflationary tendency which will result from financing Government deficits and other extraordinary efforts which may have to be undertaken to relieve the financial pressure from the rest of the world.

"In this connection it is significant that India has, since Great Britain suspended gold payments, shipped no less than £20,000,000 in gold, an outward movement for which there is no precedent.

FAVORABLE FACTORS

"Other underlying factors are favorable to increased prices at the first sign of returning confidence. The stock market has been liquidated to a point where speculative accounts are negligible, and quoted values of most securities are well under their intrinsic values. The investing and speculative public have lost their sense of proportion to a degree almost equal to that in the boom market. I am convinced that as soon as measures are taken that will restore confidence in the United States, world business will begin to improve. President Hoover's reconstruction programme seems ably designed to take care of a number of their pressing problems."

Island Cities Elect Their Officers for Next Twelve Months

PORT ALBERNI, Jan. 14.—The civic elections here today, interest in which had been running high during a campaign marked with some stormy meetings, resulted in the overwhelming defeat of Mayor Kendall in a four-sided contest.

David Warnock was elected chief magistrate of Port Alberni with a lead of ninety votes over the runner-up, Ernest Jones, Kendall trailing behind and Arthur Turner bringing up the rear. There was a fairly close contest for the three aldermanic seats to be filled, although Walter Harris headed the poll a good way in the lead of Anthony Watson and Francis Stede, the other two elected. The complete results were as follows:

AT PORT ALBERNI

Aldermen (three elected)—Walter Harris, 301; Anthony Watson, 211; Francis H. Stede, 185; Jack Woodford, 167; Walter C. Hamilton, 164;

WILL NOT SHIRK RESPONSIBILITY

Secretary of State for India Says Government Has Taken Only Action Possible

LONDON, Jan. 14 (CP).—"So long as we are responsible for the government of India, we intend to govern," Rt. Hon. Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary of State for India, frankly declared during an interview today in which he discussed recent events in India.

He spoke to a large assembly of newspapermen, representing many nationalities, gathered at the India Office. Now and again, as he spoke of the success attending the Government's efforts to maintain order, he smilingly "touched wood."

In the "Red Shirt" movement in the Northwest Province; in the no-rent campaign in the United Provinces, and in the terrorist campaign in Bengal a challenge had been flung at the Government of India which it had to accept, Sir Samuel declared.

"We took the only action any self-respecting Government could take," the Secretary of State added. "We took it drastically and we took it all at once."

Misunderstanding Is Mischievous

BIRMINGHAM, England, Jan. 14 (AP).—Sir Josiah Stamp, director of the Bank of England, told the chamber of commerce today there is a great deal of "mischievous misunderstanding" abroad regarding the circumstances under which Great Britain departed from the gold standard.

The criticism began in the United States, he said, and has come also from Holland and Austria.

Library Roof Collapses

THIS picture shows the scene of the collapse of the roof in the famous Vatican Library after the majority of the debris had been removed. Five persons lost their lives here when the historic structure crashed, and 15,000 volumes, including works of incalculable value, were lost or damaged in the accident. Almost immediately 250 men were put to work salvaging the books and repairing the damage.

Reparations Must Be Canceled Says British Economist

Sir Walter Layton, Representative at Basel, Declares Provisional Settlement Will Only Delay Flow of World's Capital—With Slate Clean Nations Still Face Heavy National Debts

By NEGLEY FARSON

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Sir Walter Layton, British representative on the Basel committee, made a strong speech in London last night against any provisional settlement based upon a two or three-year moratorium on German reparations at the coming Lausanne conference.

Sir Walter said that the world's capital could not be gotten to flow again if any possibility existed for the same situation to arise again after two or three years. "Moratorium merely means waiting—and a two years' moratorium would be worse than one," he said.

WOULD WIPE SLATE CLEAN

Stating that he had not met one economist—even German—who did not admit that Germany could pay nothing, Sir Walter stated that nevertheless, in order to remove a long-drawn-out source of irritation and war psychology, he advocated that the slate should be wiped clean. Stating that even so the people of the world would still have to continue paying for the war because of terrifically swollen national debts, Sir Walter declared.

"If you wipe the slate clean you get a remarkable picture. Speaking of gold pounds, Germany will be left with only £500,000,000 of internal debt, which is £8 per head. France will be left with an approximately £2,300,000,000 debt, or £56 per head.

BRITISH DEBT HEAVY

"Great Britain, after allowing for the wiping out of her United States debt, would be left with a £6,600,000,000 debt, or £150 per head, and the United States, with the next largest debt, will be left with an internal debt of £3,200,000,000, or £27 per head."

If the slate of war debts could be wiped clean by agreement, Sir Walter declared, it would repay itself a thousand fold, "and if France wants to make her position really secure, the best thing she can possibly do is to take the lead either to wipe out the reparations liability or to make them at the nominal pound (about $3.40)."

Ice Jam Is Dangerous In Ontario

OTTAWA, Jan. 14 (CP).—Feverish efforts were exerted by more than a score of men today to prevent the threatened destruction of a concrete dam and bridge on the Quyon River, thirty-five miles northwest of Ottawa, where an ice jam has precipitated flood conditions.

Several residents of Quyon district were forced to abandon their homes early today; streets of the village were flooded, while adjacent farm lands were inundated and buildings isolated.

SEES BRIGHTER TIMES COMING

Minister Addresses Surveyors—Victoria Man Heads Provincial Organization

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—Hon. Nels Lougheed, Provincial Minister of Lands, pointed to brighter days ahead for surveyors in addressing the annual dinner of the British Columbia Corporation of Land Surveyors here tonight.

Reviewing the general situation as affecting surveyors, the minister explained that because their work is so closely connected with the great basic industries of lumbering, mining and farming, the profession generally prospers when these industries prosper, and suffers when they decline.

Mr. Lougheed assured the surveyors that as far as they were concerned the present lull was only temporary. More work was opening up for land surveyors in the Peace River Block. Moreover, the Government, though forced by reduced revenue to stick to bare essentials at present, appreciated the valuable information to be gained by further surveys.

He stated that as soon as revenue

NO INCREASE IN TAX RATE IS FORECAST

ANNUAL REPORTS REVEAL PROGRESS

Twenty-seven mills probably will be the tax rate in Oak Bay for 1932. This was the qualified promise given by Reeve E. C. Hayward at a meeting of the ratepayers held in the Municipal Hall last night.

Replying to a question put to the meetinf after the reeve and councillors had given reports of their stewardship, Reeve Hayward said, "I feel that I can promise the tax rate of twenty-seven mills will not be increased this year."

In rendering his annual report, Reeve Hayward thanked the electorate for honoring him with a re-election by acclamation, and paid tribute to the earnest endeavors of all councillors who had served with him during his regime.

RAPID GROWTH

Pointing to the growth of the municipality, he said that while the Dominion census figures had not been made public, it was estimated there were 6,500 residents in Oak Bay, a 50 per cent increase during the past ten years.

A most encouraging sign was seen in the building figures of the municipality, and in this respect he pointed out that whereas in 1915, when assessments were at their height, improvements amounted to $3,449,000 as compared with $8,155,000 in 1931. Total assessments had increased from $11,543,000 in 1915 to $12,617,000, indicating there had been a downward revision in assessment for taxation purposes, with a corresponding rise in valuation due to the increased number of homes.

SCHOOL COSTS

Dealing with taxation, he said the mill rate last year was twenty-seven, divided as follows, 14.5 for schools, 2.2 for police, 2.8 for debt and the balance for general purposes. Increasing cost of education made it hard to keep the tax rate down, but every effort would be made to keep within last year's rate.

It was with pride he pointed to the new low record for land reversions during 1931. Only fourteen parcels were delinquent in taxes and these would not be sold at sacrifice prices, due to the fact it was considered adjacent property would depreciate in value if such were done.

RELIEF PROGRAMME

Unemployment relief had cost $13,000, of which $6,000 was contributed by the Provincial and Dominion Governments. Seventy-two men had been given relief work, he said.

First signs of Oak Bay's age were revealed in the statement that some

TORNADO KILLS SEVEN PERSONS

Death and Injury Follow in Wake of New Jersey Windstorm

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 14 (AP).—Seven persons were killed and at least five injured by a tornado which struck Easton and Lex, small towns near here, at 5:30 o'clock this evening.

The first reports of the deaths and injuries was communicated to the Home Telephone Company operator here by an undertaker, who sent several ambulances to the scene.

The ambulance driver said he was bringing five injured persons here and that seven, whose names he did not know, had been killed. Two persons were reported missing.

Calls for help were delayed by broken lines of communication.

The telephone operator said the line to Eaton was down, but that her information had been received over a crossed line.

Six doctors and several nurses were sent to the stricken communities. Both towns are small communities.

ALBERTA TO HAVE MOUNTED POLICE

Federal Force Will Take Over Present Duties of Provincial Police in April

OTTAWA, Jan. 14 (CP).—From April 1 next the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will take over the duties in Alberta now performed by the Alberta Provincial Police, according to an official announcement made here today. The agreement which will be made between the two Governments—Provincial and Federal—will be on the same basis as that reached with Saskatchewan several years ago when the Royal Mounted absorbed the provincial police in its ranks.

An annual sum of $175,000, plus certain recoverable claims by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will be paid by the province to the Federal Government, in exchange for which the two forces will amalgamate and be controlled by the Royal Mounted.

Two Hundred Japanese Reported to Be Killed By Chinese Volunteers

Engagement at Tahushan Ends With Chinese in Control of Town—Peiping Agitated by Sudden Declaration of Martial Law Following Report of Contemplated Night Manoeuvres

SHANGHAI, Jan 14 (AP).—A Chinese dispatch said today that 200 Japanese soldiers were killed in an engagement with Chinese volunteer militia at the Tahushan Railway junction, seventy miles northeast of Chinshow. The engagement, apparently the most serious in several days, ended with the Chinese in control of the town.

PEIPING, Jan. 14 (AP).—Police precautions have ben taken in Peiping and North China, the newspaper Leader, Nationalist organ, said today, to guard against untoward incidents as a consequence of the arrival of Japanese troop reinforcements.

MUCH APPREHENSION

The reinforcemnts, which were reported to have increased the garrison to more than 3,000, have caused much Chinese apprehension, the newspaper said.

Martial law was suddenly declared last night, owing to a report, which Japanese military authorities denied, that members of the Japanese Legiation guard planned night manoeuvres outside the legation's quarters.

The people were alarmed when the gates of the city were closed, theatres stopped performances and all street traffic was prohibited after 10 p.m.

REPLY DELAYED

TOKIO, Jan. 14 (AP).—Japan was to have delivered its reply to the United States note invoking the nine-power pact today, but the formality was delayed so that Kenkichi Yoshizawa, the new Foreign Minister, might deliver it in person to Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes.

The Government issued a statement today revealing the text of a secret understanding concluded with China in 1905, by which the Chinese agreed to build no railways paralleling Japanese roads in Manchuria.

A summary of the agreement was filed in 1906 with the British and United States Governments, the statement said, but the agreement never was made public, at the special request of the Chinese, who said they did not want their people to know about the arrangement for political reasons.

When Dr. Wellington Koo was Chinese Foreign Minister recently he asserted that no such agreement ever was made.

Quebec Opposes Development of Proposed Seaway

QUEBEC, Jan. 14 (CP).—The Quebec Legislature today placed itself on record as being opposed to the immediate development of the St. Lawrence waterways when a resolution to that effect was adopted by a vote of 54 to 7.

C. E. Gault, Opposition House leader, and P. A. Lafleur, (Conservative, Verdun) voted with the Government in supporting the resolution, which was introduced some weeks ago by Hon. Anthanase David, Provincial Secretary.

ADVERSITY IS ONLY RESULT

Civil Disobedience Campaign Brings India's Business Almost to Standstill

BOMBAY, Jan. 14 (AP).—With the Government's ordinances still in effect, Nationalist India faces adversity in commerce as a result of the "nonviolent" civil disobedience campaign conducted by the Nationalists.

Since Mahatma Gandhi was imprisoned two weeks ago, the campaign has been without major disorder, but business has almost come to a standstill.

SPORADIC DEMONSTRATIONS

Sporadic manifestations against the Government continue. A volunteer of the Nationalist Congress broke a leg in an attempt tonight to haul down the Union Jack from the top of the congress headquarters, now in possession of the police.

As he was climbing to the flag, he was seen and challenged by a sentry. One of his legs was fractured in his attempt to escape. He was arrested and taken to a hospital.

Of minor interest today was the imposition of a fine of twenty-five rupees on four boys who had urged that their school at Surta be closed in protest against Gandhi's arrest.

HEADQUARTERS CLOSED

The headquarters of the local branch of the Nationalist Congress at Lucknow was closed by authorities and forty persons, most of them volunteers, were arrested. Nationalist organizations in the Bengal district to the number of 272 were outlawed by officials at Calcutta.

Advocates Union of Prairie Provinces

PREMIER JOHN BRACKEN of Manitoba yesterday put forth a suggestion that the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta be amalgamated into a single unit to administer government for all three provinces.

Tallahatchie River Still On Rampage

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 14 (AP).—The main Tallahatchie River levee at the Seawright plantation collapsed at 8 o'clock tonight, hurling an eight-foot wall of water into the already partly flooded Tippo basin. The break was directly across from Glendora, through whose business district streets water has been flowing for more than three weeks. It is about four miles south of Sharkey, where the levee broke last week.

W. R. Gay, levee commissioner, issued an urgent call for boats to rescue the estimated 5,000 persons who are still in the Tippo basin. He said it would be necessary to bring all of them out.

Close Contests in Civic Elections at Mainland Centres

Bridgman Re-elected in North Vancouver—Tie Vote at Chilliwack—Former Mayor Defeated in Vernon—Several Chief Magistrates Return

NORTH VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—Electors of North Vancouver today returned Mayor E. H. Bridgman to office by a majority of nearly two to one over his single opponent, Harry Hooper. At the same time ratepayers rejected, by a vote of almost three to one, the proposal to bring in the British Columbia police to police the city.

Final count in the mayoralty contest gave Mayor Bridgman 847 votes to 487 for Hooper.

TWO CANDIDATES EQUAL

Ald. W. I. Wilson headed the aldermanic poll with a total of 623 votes out of approximately 1,400. Ald. Charles Cartwright was second with 529. For third place, Garnet H. Page and Col. J. J. Thomas tied with 427 votes each on the first count. A hasty recheck gave Thomas 430 against 429 for Page, but Returning Officer Shepherd refused to make a declaration until he had made an official recount Friday.

Other aldermanic candidates, in order of the voting, were: J. N. White, 417; E. L. Williams, 308; W. L. Keene, 279; Arthur Prior, 256; F. H. Fallows, 253; J. W. Hewett, 240.

AT CHILLIWACK

CHILLIWACK, Jan. 14.—It took the casting vote of the returning officer to elect the second member for the parks board at the city election here.

F. D. Hall topped the poll in the election for two park commissions with a vote of 250. The other members elected was T. T. Knight with 242, who received the casting vote of the returning officer to defeat J. L. Davies, who polled 241 votes.

Fred Menzies, with a vote of 265, and F. G. Leary, with 204 votes, were elected school trustees. C. A. Barber, defeated candidate, received 268 votes.

WINS AT VERNON

VERNON, Jan. 14.—Following are election results in Vernon today. Dr. E. W. Prowse, with 281 votes, topped the poll for mayor, defeating ex-Mayor Stewart and ex-alderman Townrow, who polled 182 and 224 votes, respectively. Ex-Alderman Bowman and Rube Swift were the

HOLD MEETING BY RADIO TELEPHONE

Men in London and Australia Converse by Wireless—Reception Is Quiet Clear

LONDON, Jan. 14 (CP).—While traffic rumbled down Whitehall just after noon, fourteen men on the second floor of the Board of Trade held a joint meeting by wireless telephone with a similar gathering in Sydney, Australia.

Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, with representatives of the British Standards Association, sat at one end of the wire; at the other were representatives of the Standards Association of Australia.

The Board of Trade president spoke of the contribution made to interempire trade by the development of standardization in the different parts of the Empire. Sir Henry Barraclough, professor of engineering at Sydney University, replied.

As the Sydney professor spoke, a paper could be heard rustling on his desk, 13,000 miles away.

BRIAND TO COLLABORATE

PARIS, Jan. 14 (AP).—Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister in the last Laval Cabinet, will collaborate in some manner with the new one formed last night, the Premier announced this evening, but what form his collaboration will take is not yet certain.

MAKING IT HOT FOR GAMBLERS

Vancouver Police Close Up Bookmakers and Chinese Gaming Houses

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—Doors of bookmaking establishments closed to patrons today when telegraphic service on races on foreign race tracks was discontinued.

Abandonment of the service is due to persistent work of the anti-gaming squad of the city police. During the past two months these officers have arrested 100 bookmakers, who pleaded guilty in police court and were fined $50 each, and a number of patrons of bookmaking establishments.

Previous to the voluntary closing down of bookmaking activities, the officers closed up twenty-two premises where bets were being accepted. Some of the occupants of these places refrained from accepting bets again, while others moved to new premises only to be once more arrested.

Police say that every effort will be made to prevent a resumption of telegraphic service.

CHINESE WARNED

Warning that they must close down all forms of gambling was given to operators of gaming houses in all parts of Chinatown, this afternoon, by Colonel C. E. Edgett, Chief of Police, and Inspector George Sutherland, head of the anti-gambling squad.

The police officers made a personal visit to all the known gambling joints in Chinatown and delivered the ultimatum.

Chief Edgett has taken the stand that the police department is not a revenue-collecting agency, and that repeated arrests and fines have not apparently solved the gaming problem. Therefore he intends to take sterner measures.

Japanese Leader Coming to Coast

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—Yusuke Tsurumi, former leader of the Liberal bloc in the Japanese Diet and an authority on Sino-Japanese relations, will arrive in Vancouver from Yokohama on R.M.S. Empress of Japan, Sunday. He served as chairman of the Japanese Council of the recent sessions of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

He is coming to the United States to lecture at the University of Chicago and to attend the Williamstown convention as a delegate from Japan.

GOLD OUTPUT INCREASING

A. Carmichael Says Canada Has Nothing to Fear in View of Production

In view of the production of gold and the prospects of still greater discoveries of the precious metal in this country, there was every reason for feeling confident that Canada would have no difficulty in weathering the conditions which had to be faced, said Alfred Carmichael, in addressing the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday on the subject of placer mining. He referred to the fact that the Dominion of Canada stood second among the countries of the world in the matter of gold production in 1931.

Canada, according to the figures given out, had produced $55,394,892 worth of gold in the past year. Of this British Columbia had produced 163,529 ounces, which would carry a value of $3,372,137.

With the past year's production Mr. Carmichael coupled the statement of Sir John Aird that within a short time it was safe to prophecy that Canada would be producing gold to the value of $100,000,000 a year. The speaker pointed out that there were reasons to expect that in Canada there would be fresh discoveries of gold, but none could foretell where they were to be. This would be followed by tremendous rushes in view of the demand of the present day for this metal.

These references were made by Mr. Carmichael in concluding his address about his own personal experiences in the Atlin placer fields, when he went in in 1899 with a syndicate that was formed here. Atlin was then a town of tents numbering about 1,900 people. He described graphically the alluring work of searching for gold, producing a miner's pan to show how the prospecting was carried out with it.

ECONOMY URGED BY CANDIDATES

Esquimalt Ratepayers Hear Appeals for Support From Many Nominees

Platforms of strict economy, which, they promised would be practised to the fullest extent, were outlined to a large gathering of Esquimalt ratepayers, by candidates in the forthcoming municipal elections, at a meeting held in the Sailors' Club last night. I. Thomas presided over the meeting, which was called by Alexander Lockley, former councillor, seeking the reeveship.

Sixteen of the candidates seeking municipal office attended the meeting and, with the exception of Councillor Albert Heald, Mr. Lockley's opponent, appealed to the ratepayers for support in Saturday's polling. Councillor Heald, when called upon to speak, stated that he had not come prepared to do so, and any criticisms made against his past work would be answered by him at a meeting to be held tonight in the Parish Hall.

GEORGE WALCROFT

George Walcroft, candidate for municipal council, voiced criticism against the 1931 council, stating that it had not given full attention to unemployment matters. If elected, he stated he would interest himself more in the matter. The Friendly Help money had been spent too freely, he said, and if it had not been, conditions would not be as bad now.

R. J. STEWART

R. J. Stewart, candidate for the council and school board, stated that he would practice rigid economy if elected. He favored low indemnities to the councillors, feeling that this should be an honored position in the municipality.

GEORGE WISE

George Wise, by-election nominee, said he would make no outstanding promises in his campaign, but would be economical in his work if elected. He expressed the hope that the school board, in making out its estimates for 1932, would take into full consideration the $4,000 surplus of last year and endeavor to cut down the expenditures during the coming year.

ADAM McBEATH

Adam McBeath, also a candidate in the by-election test, expressed his belief in platform of economy, and stated that, if elected, he would do all in his power to advance the welfare of Esquimalt at all times.

MAJOR CROMPTON

Major J. A. P. Crompton, council contestant, said he had held office on the school board for a number of years, and although he had not had council experience, his interests would always be those of the ratepayers. Major Crompton expressed faith in the 1931 council, asserting that its members had done their best. He would practice economy in a straight and forward manner if chosen for the council.

PHILIP S. GOING

Philip S. Going, also seeking office on the council, promised his wholehearted support, if elected, in harmonizing actions of the council in the interests of Esquimalt. Mr. Going announced opposition to economy to the extent of cutting wages, adding that he did not believe this was "the road to prosperity." It would be his endeavor to pay reasonable wages, he concluded.

ROBERT W. DENT

Robert William Dent, nominee for the one-year council term, voiced his interest in the move for a Greater Victoria. As regards unemployment, he believed that the onus of this should be in the hands of the Government and the municipality should not have to bear it.

COUNCILLOR HADFIELD

Councillor Thomas Hadfield, seeking re-election, contended that the 1931 council had not been lax in considering unemployment, as stated by the previous speaker. That body had sought the aid of the Provincial Government, he said, and some results had been obtained during the year. When the Government relief was curtailed, he stated, the council had no money with which to continue. He denounced any move to make further staff reductions. Councillor Hadfield presented a brief review of the past year's work of the council, and concluded by saying that he was in favor of continuing the library agreement with the municipality.

COUNCILLOR SMITH

Councillor Charles Smith, also standing for re-election, assured his audience that the 1931 council had done its utmost to secure relief for unemployment. He also favored continuation of the library services.

A. T. FARLEY

A. T. Farley, present member of the School Board, seeking office on the council, felt that the matter of how unemployment should be dealt with by the municipality and the council, should have been put to the people. He also promised to maintain strict economy, if elected.

THOMAS BRIGDEN

Thomas Brigden, council candidate, stated that if elected he would adhere to economical moves in the interests of the ratepayers.

COMMISSIONER BOWDEN

Commissioner Sidney R. Bowden, seeking re-election to the police commission, referred to the matter of introducing the Provincial Police into Esquimalt, stating that he did not consider the move a favorable one at this time. Commissioner Bowden read the report of the police force for the past year, reiterating that it showed a large sum had been collected by the police in pound fees and tax collections, which, he added, would not be done by the Provincial Police.

MRS. J. McFARLANE

Mrs. J. McFarlane, School Board candidate, stated that, if elected, she would work entirely in the interests of the ratepayers.

MAJOR WARDER

Major A. A. Warder, also standing for the School Board, said that he had been a resident of Esquimalt for many years past, and had always had the work of the schools at heart. He realized the necessity for an economical policy, he stated, and would continually work on this basis if elected.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach or a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and often effects the heart.

It is folly to neglect such a serious condition, or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead, get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (powder or tablets—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

STILL PLAYS GOLF AT NINETY YEARS

FREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 14 (CP).—If John White, of Saint John, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday here yesterday, is not the oldest active golfer in the British Empire, he would like to know of anyone who can justly claim the distinction. White, it is believed here, takes second place only to John D. Rockefeller as the world's old age champion in the game originating in the former's native Scotland.

"I began playing golf in 1858 in my native Fifeshire in Auld Scotia," he said today, "and I was one of the last to go over the links before the cold weather set in this last season at Riverside (Saint John)." This would make his golfing career extend over seventy-four years. He still uses a cleek he brought from Scotland in 1862.

FERNIE RESULTS

FERNIE, Jan. 14.—The results of today's civic elections in which seven candidates contested for three seats on the City Council are as follows: Harold White, Andrew L. Walker and Edwin Rutledge (elected).

LARGE VOTE AT CRANBROOK

CRANBROOK, Jan. 14.—Five hundred voters went to the polls today in the civic contests. T. M. Roberts was returned in the mayoral contest by a majority of 176 over his opponent, Joseph Jackson. The vote stood 320-144. The three aldermen whose terms expired, headed the polls, the vote standing: Little, 251; Flowers, 221; Scott, 205; Sainsbury, 202; Leigh, 189; Dubois, 85; Lindsay, 65.

RETURNED IN ROSSLAND

ROSSLAND, Jan. 14.—Mayor W. A. Turner was returned today as chief magistrate in Rossland when he secured 255 votes to 80 by his opponent, Percy E. Taylor.

NELSON, Jan. 14.—H. B. Lindsy, J. B. Gray, W. R. Campion, all former aldermen, were elected.

PRINCE RUPERT, Jan. 14 (CP).—In today's civic election Aldermen George Rudderham, James Black and J. H. Pillsbury were re-elected. George B. Casey was elected to the aldermanic board.

GRAND FORKS, Jan. 14.—Joe Willis, William Liddicoat, O. G. Dunn and R. J. Gardiner were elected aldermen in Grand Forks today. Mayor T. A. Love was elected by acclamation on nomination day.

KASLO, Jan. 14.—William J. Murphy was today elected mayor of Kaslo over Mayor F. E. Archer by a majority of 14 votes. All other seats were filled by acclamation.

TRAIL, Jan. 14.—Mayor Bruno Lerosa defeated G. Harvey for mayor. The referendum by-law for two-year term for mayor was defeated.

CONTINUES CASE AGAINST MELLON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP).—Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, was charged today by William Patman, member of the House of Representatives, with using his control of public buildings to further the use of aluminum.

The Texas Democrat, speaking before the House Judiciary Committee on his resolution to impeach Mr. Mellon, exhibited a copy of The Federal Architect, a Treasury publication.

"It is no secret that Mellon controls the aluminum company of America," Patman said. "And it is known that where aluminum is used there is no chance of competition.

"This publication tells outside architects what will please the Secretary of the Treasury. It tells them in no uncertain terms how to use aluminum."

Seven in Ten Past 40 Need This Special Treatment

Writer Explains Wondrous Value of Doctor Southworth's "Uratabs" and Invites All to Try Them Without Cost Unless Pleased

With middle age ailments attacking over two-thirds of those past 40, everyone who notices such distressing symptoms as Lameness, Pains in back and down through groins, scanty but frequent and burning Urination, "Getting-Up-Nights," Nervous Irritability and Lack of Force—should at once try the amazing value of Dr. Southworth's URATABS.

While new to many, the truly remarkable value of URATABS has been thoroughly proven by more than forty years of successful use in the private practice of Dr. H. C. Southworth. Reports from doctors and users alike offer convincing proofs: "I have never found anything to help my case until I tried URATABS." "URATABS are the best thing for Bladder Weakness and Irritation I have ever used." "No more backaches, no more pain, no more daily embarrassment or getting-up-nights. I now sleep soundly and get up in the morning full of pep—thanks to URATABS."—This is amazing evidence!

No matter how long you have been troubled, or how stubborn your case may seem to be, a ten-day test of Dr. Southworth's URATABS offers comfort and relief—and you can make the test without risk of cost, for any good druggist will supply you on guarantee of money back if not satisfied. Try URATABS today. (Advt.)

Shipment of Fijian Yams Successful

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—In response to the increasing appeal for a stronger interempire trade between the British Dominions, growers in the Fiji Islands this year sent a trial shipment of 9,000 pounds of yams to a local firm to test out their product on the Canadian market.

The British Columbia householder has been used to buying California yams and sweet potatoes. The Fiji yams are equal or better in flavor than the United States product, according to restaurant owners of Vancouver who are using them.

The California sweet potatoes were listed at four cents a pound on today's market, whereas the Fiji yams are selling at two cents.

Curtailing of Distribution of Small Arms Is Federal Matter, Hon. R. H. Pooley Says

Attorney-General Pooley declared yesterday he was much in sympathy with action which would bring about more rigid control over firearms that can be concealed on the person. While the Provincial Government has no control over the matter, it would be favorably disposed towards any recommendations that might be advanced to the Canadian Government at Ottawa.

As the Criminal Code stands at present, it is an offence to carry concealed weapons, punishable by confiscation of the weapons and imprisonment. More stringent control over the distribution of firearms, however, would be welcomed.

The issue was raised after a recent statement by Magistrate McKay, in Vancouver, which was endorsed by the Vancouver police commissioners.

Control of manufacture and distribution of firearms in Canada is under Federal jurisdiction, however, and while Canadian provinces might make proposals, they could not enact effective legislative dealing with the subject, it is foreseen.

NO INCREASE IN TAX RATE IS FORECAST

old dwellings had been ordered pulled down and others repaired. This is the first time that the council has had to take such action, Reeve Hayward declared.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

Referring to public improvements, Reeve Hayward said it was the policy of the council to "pay as you go," and it was with pleasure that he noted that, apart from schools or local improvements, only $14,000 had been borrowed since 1915.

Hospital costs to Oak Bay during the year amounted to $6,000, he said, of which $2,000 was by special grant.

Councillor A. D. Crease told the audience the council was determined to stand by the right to pay off its maturing debentures in New York in "lawful Canadian currency." Such action would save the municipality $8,000 and he felt the municipality was in its rights in doing this, particularly in view of the great difference in the exchange rate.

WANTS GUARANTEE

A similar stand was taken when $15,000 in bonds was offered as sinking fund investment. A guarantee that principal and interest be payable at par, $4.86, was demanded, but when no written guarantee was forthcoming, the deal fell through.

The council was pleased, he said, to report that collection of taxes had exceeded the expectations of everyone. It was estimated that 1931 collections would be 91 per cent of the total. The final figures revealed the percentage was 91.63.

Councillor T. J. Goodlake, chairman of the public works committee, reviewed the past year's work, spoke of the sea wall constructed, of new sewerage extensions, surface drains and other public works, and expressed the hope that more property owners would take up the plan of improving their streets under the local improvement scheme.

SURPLUS REPORTED

On behalf of Trustee C. Maconachie, who was unable to be present, Reeve Hayward read a letter from the trustee, in which it was revealed that the school board had a surplus of $4,595 at the end of the year, which took care of the $4,000 deficit incurred in the previous year.

Police Commissioner H. L. N. Edwards paid tribute to Chief of Police John Syme and his force and congratulated him on keeping the municipality practically free from crime.

The new trustees elected by acclamation, S. J. Drake, R. W. Murdock and J. Vaughan Roberts, also expressed their appreciation for the honor bestowed upon them by the electorate.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP).—Judgment was reserved by the Appellate Court at Osgoode Hall today on the appeals of the eight men convicted of being "members and officers of the Communist Party of Canada" and of "seditious conspiracy."

CITY PAYS FOR U.S. DEPORTEES

Police Commission to Ask Ottawa for Ruling as to Responsibility

The City of Victoria does not want to be saddled with the cost of caring for deportees from the United States and Vancouver is complaining that Victoria is shipping practically destitute men to that city because the Capital City provides deportees with passage to the Mainland to assist them on their way to their homes.

The matter was aired at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon and, on motion of Commissioner Andrew McGavin, the board will appeal to the Department of Immigration at Ottawa for a decision as to the responsibility of caring for deportees on arrival in Victoria.

Commissioner McGavin informed the board that it has been the practice of the immigration authorities here to ask for a constable to meet boats with deportees aboard, escort them to the police headquarters and care for them until they can be sent forward.

Mr. McGavin was of the opinion that work should be done by the immigration depot here. Victoria, it was pointed out, is now a port of entry for all deportees from the Pacific Coast states.

LIBRARY VAN SERVES MANY COMMUNITIES

THOUSANDS SERVED IN RURAL CENTRES

By MARTHA LINDLEY HALL
(Special to The Colonist, Copyright)

If you were to happen into a little seaside village in the southwest part of British Columbia upon a certain Thursday you would be surprised to see a company of some three hundred people expectantly waiting. When a great, blue motor-van came rolling in and an efficient young man skilfully parked it and let down its gold-lettered sides on their hinges, exposing hundreds of brand-new books in their attractive bindings, your curiosity would have been satisfied. This was a traveling library.

It is all a part of a widespread plan to serve the rural districts as satisfactorily and as economically as the cities. Varied schemes for doing this have been planned in both Europe and America. Some, by traveling libraries where individual fees are charged, others through co-operation with the nearest city library, the rural community helping defray the expenses by a special tax.

TRIED OUT IN EUROPE

Some time ago the Carnegie Corporation, admitting the need of the rural districts, which the hundreds of Carnegie libraries have failed to meet, began a laboratory experiment to determine if in some way service could not be satisfactorily extended to the most isolated districts. Three areas were selected for a try-out, one in a district on the border of England and Scotland, one in the remote districts of Louisiana, and the third in the south portion of the Lower Fraser Valley of British Columbia, a district intensely rural, there being no town with a population of more than three thousand.

The largest centres are served by means of branch libraries where a custodian is on duty a part of each day except Sunday, and where a public reading-room is maintained, for the best magazines are a part of the available equipment. On the shelves are several hundred books which are changed as the demand justifies. Smaller centres have what are known as sub-branches, much like the branches except that the service is slightly less, with fewer books on the shelves and no public reading-room. Still smaller places have a deposit station only, where a few books are kept and where a weekly exchange is made possible. Communities not compact or large enough to maintain a station are served by the van every two weeks, rain or shine.

The system was inaugurated in August, 1930, and there are now in the Valley, which has an area of 1,600 square miles, with a population of approximately 45,000, seven flourishing branches, two sub-branches, seven deposit stations, while the van calls regularly at forty points. In the system as a whole there are over 15,000 volumes, there are nearly 11,000 subscribers, 50 per cent of them adults, and approximately 160,000 volumes have been circulated for home use. These figures cover a period of nine months. The commission has in mind the needs of the public schools and eventually some plan of service will be offered to them.

The organization is a fairly simple one, with a minimum of machinery. It is composed of the Library Commission of British Columbia, which is the local body through which the Carnegie Corporation finances the plan. The director of the system, which is known as the Fraser Valley Public Library, is Dr. Helen Gordon Stewart, a woman with broad experience in library work in both Canada and the United States; to her should be credited the almost unbelievable rapidity with which the work has advanced. Associated with her is a staff of four trained librarians, each an expert in her own line. Two accompany the van on its rounds and the others serve as cataloguers and statisticians.

RULES OF COURT ARE REISSUED

County Regulations Subject of Revision by Local Officials, Now Being Distributed

Long-sought revision of the County Court rules in British Columbia has been carried out with the concurrence of the Government by H. J. Crane, Land Registrar, and B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake, Supreme Court Registrar, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings yesterday.

The revised version of the rules has been printed by the King's Printer in a compact volume, and is now available for distribution. Suggestions made by the courts and legal profession from time to time have been embodied in a careful restatement of the rules.

The rules were last revised in 1924, and intervening years have altered practice in several respects. The new version may be obtained from Charles F. Banfield, the King's Printer, Victoria.

STYLE INFLUENCED BY NUDIST COLONIES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14 (AP).—Bathing suits will be even more revealing for the approaching beach season, Gerry Fitzgerald, promotion manager of a large Los Angeles drygoods company, told the Western States Merchants' Association convention here yesterday.

"The style makers," said Fitzgerald, "apparanely have been influenced by the publicity given the European nudist colonies."

The Traveling Library

SMALL villages away out in "the sticks" do not have to wait months for their reading material any more. In British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces, such centres which cannot afford to pay for public libraries, are served by a traveling library, which makes regular calls every week, rain or shine. In B.C. one "library on wheels" serves an area of 1,600 square miles along the Fraser River, carrying literary gems into the homes of 45,000 people a year with its fifteen thousand books. The trucks carry over three hundred books every journey.

Island Prospectors Elect New Officials

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING HELD

Many Attend Business Gathering of Christ Church Cathedral Parishioners Here

An enthusiastic assembly of parishioners of Christ Church Cathedral filled the chapel of the Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening on the occasion of the annual vestry meeting. The Dean presided, and he was assisted by his warden, H. E. Beasley, and the vestry clerk, Major F. V. Longstaff. The statement of accounts for the parish and the Memorial Hall was adopted.

The remarks on the financial statement for 1931, written by the people's warden, Mr. Hinton, were, by reason of absence of the warden through illness, read by the chairman. The chief increases under receipts are the Women's Parish Guild, $100 (total sum contributed, $1,400); Cathedral recitals, $559; the Sunday school, $527, and the total decrease being a little more than 4 per cent of total income for the year 1931. The Men's Parish Guild contributed $300 to the Memorial Hall maintenance.

ENDORSE RULE

A motion, "That this meeting heartily endorses the spirit of the Toc H Rule, 'Service is the rent we pay for our room on earth,' and that consequently votes of thanks are not necessary in parish work," was carried unanimously.

The Dean appointed George Carter, formerly of Moose Jaw, to be his warden. The Vestry re-elected J. H. Hinton by acclamation to be people's warden. For the parish committee, there were fifteen nominations, and the following ten were elected by ballot: H. E. Beasley, R. F. Davy, S. Figueiredo, A. H. Finlinson, R. Freethy, Major F. V. Longstaff, W. S. Miles, Dr. J. S. Plaskett, F.R.S., G. H. Slater and H. H. Smith.

The executive committee of the Men's Parish Guild was authorized to act as the parish missionary committee, thus enabling the men of the parish to add their power to that of the W.A. For the lay delegates to the synod, nine nominations were made and the following six were elected by ballot: R. A. Bainbridge (St. Matthias'), H. E. Beasley, G. Carter, A. J. Dallain, J. H. Hinton and Dr. J. S. Plaskett. For the ruridecanal conference, four were nominated and the following were elected by ballot: Major H. H. Woolison, H. H. Smith and G. H. Slater.

The twenty-two sidesmen were re-elected en bloc, with the addition of B. Moffatt and K. Overton, who have passed their probationary period.

DEPARTMENT REPORTS

While the scrutineers were at work on several ballots, the following gave brief remarks on the work of their departments: Rev. A. G. E. Munson, on St. Matthias' Mission Church, reporting increase in church attendance and of communicants, and the record number of more than one hundred in the church school. The people's warden, H. D. Patterson, reported a most satisfactory financial year. Rev. E. W. P. Carter, superintendent of the Cathedral school, reported an increase in registrations of all the four departments. Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle reported on parish work of all kinds in James Bay district, indicating much faithful and effective work.

SAY BEAUTY SHOPS DISOBEYING LAWS

Beauty parlors in Victoria that have not been conforming to the city's shop closing by-laws are to receive a call from the chief of police, who was given instructions at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon to investigate the complaint of one of the profession.

The board was advised, by letter, that some of the beauty parlor operators were keeping their establishments open on Wednesday afternoons and in the evenings. The chief informed the board that he had been investigating the complaint and would report to the commissioners what action was taken to curb the practice.

AUTOMOBILE PRODUCTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—December production of automobiles in the United States and Canada totaled 120,127 cars and trucks, against 70,114 in November and 161,323 in December, 1930.

REORGANIZATION NOW COMPLETED

Forest Branch Personnel Greatly Reduced in Readjustment Ended

Reorganization of the interior and exterior staffs of the Department of Lands, in line with the Provincial Government's move for economy, is understood to be practically completed, with an effective reduction of forty-five positions in the forest branch, and a number of adjustments in other services of the department.

Five additional employees received notice of retirement this week, including three rangers, one junior forester and an office assistant. Last week six retirements were effected, including four clerks from the Vancouver office of the Forest Branch, one ranger and one clerical assistant.

Thirty-six retirements were made by the same branch previously, either in direct retirement, with or without superannuation, or else in the leaving vacant of positions formerly filled.

ANNUAL CUT LESS

Desire for economy and the fact that lumber production in British Columbia has materially declined from 1929 were component elements inspiring the move. Total lumber production in 1929 was 3,346,000,000 board feet, compared to 2,000,000,000 board feet as estimated for 1931.

With a greatly reduced personnel, the department is caring for a larger area than before, consequent on the addition of the railway belt lands last year. Administration of the railway belt lands was carried out this year at a material saving over what it had formerly cost, with a greatly reduced personnel in the operating control of the new area.

It is understood the present action completes retirements from the Department of Lands at present contemplated, and save for some interior reorganization of the work of the various branches, ends the revision of its duties carried out as part of the general move by the Government to lower its operating costs for 1932.

HURRY PAYMENT OF RELIEF AID

Extra Staff in Accounting Branch to Catch Up With Work

To expedite settlement of accounts in connection with unemployment relief, a night staff has been put on by the accounting branch of the Department of Public Works, it was announced yesterday by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, chairman of the Unemployment Committee in the Cabinet. Five hundred per cent increase in the work of the branch has made this necessary, and the added assistance has been drawn from experienced officials who had been laid off when the department reduced its personnel recently.

"The attention of the Government has been called to the fact that there has been some delay in issuing cheques for the payment of goods supplied to the unemployment relief camps," stated Mr. McKenzie. "Through the unprecedented volume of work occasioned by the relief programme, Government departments, particularly the Public Works and Finance departments, have found themselves overwhelmed with a vast amount of routine work. This has resulted in many creditors suffering delay in settlement of their accounts.

WILL SPEED SETTLEMENT

"In order to relieve this situation, particularly for many small creditors, such as farmers, who are given a preference in the matter of supplying the camps, instructions have been issued to departmental heads that special efforts must be made to effect payment of accounts. The accounting branches have put in long and arduous hours in recent months endeavoring to cope with the situation, and fully 80 per cent of the accounts have been paid. Steps have recently been instituted whereby a night staff has been put on in the accounting branch of the Department of Works, to expedite settlement of the balance.

"Some idea of the problems that Government officials have had to contend with may be appreciated when it is pointed out that the accounting organization, set up to deal with between 50,000 and 60,000 vouchers in a normal year, has had to deal with 21,000 vouchers in two months. These vouchers include grocery bills for 15,000 men, entailing an abnormal amount of detailed checking. Further, owing to the requirements of the Federal Government, the vouchers have to be presented in a form which involves considerably more work.

MUNICIPAL PROGRAMMES

"In addition, the detailed accounts of payrolls and materials submitted by some seventy municipalities in connection with the large programme of municipal work are being handled by the accounting branch of the Department of Works, and the normal duties of the staff have been increased by about 500 per cent," the minister concluded.

The additional staff required to speed up the work has already been engaged, it was made clear, preference in this case being given to those who were familiar with the work, and who had been in the employ of the Province previously.

A military officer and a lawyer were talking of war and the former was recounting the dangers of his profession, when the lawyer observed "that those who lived by the sword must expect to die by the sword."

"By a similar rule," replied the officer, "those who live by the law must expect to die by the law."

A WANTON ATTACK

In attacking the methods of the Royal Commission on Transportation, Mr. Mackenzie King is, incidentally, attacking his own familiar friend—Sir Henry Thornton. The latter, together with Mr. E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, has stated that the holding of certain sessions of that commission in camera is the only way "to get at the facts of the situation." Mr. Mackenzie King knows Mr. Justice Duff, the chairman of the Commission, well enough to appreciate that he is far removed from any ulterior motives. He may not know Lord Ashfield, but the latter's reputation is also beyond suspicion, as is that of every member of the transportation board.

Even the exigencies of party politics, and they are desperate ones for the Liberals in the Federal arena, are not sufficient to warrant a wanton attack on such a body of men as comprise the Commission on Transportation. Obviously, Mr. Mackenzie King's desire is to depreciate in advance the recommendations of that commission, and thereby accentuate the difficulties affecting the railway situation which were largely created by the late Liberal Government. The Liberal leader in late pronouncements has shown himself strangely full of spleen. He is a disappointed man, the more so because there has been a plot in the ranks of his followers to remove him from the leadership, originating with those who believe that the party will never be able to regain its lost prestige so long as he decides its policies. The shadow of Beauharnois seems to have destroyed Mr. Mackenzie King's judgment. Were it not so he would never have fulminated against the actions of such a body of men as those who comprise the Transportation Commission.

It was Mr. King and his Government, through laxity in supervision, who created the grave problem affecting the Canadian National Railways. He allowed his friend, Sir Henry Thornton, to run riot in expenditures. Because of the lack of watchfulness on the part of the late Liberal Government hundreds of millions of dollars, which might have been saved, were expended on services which could not have been made to prove economical ventures. Mr. Mackenzie King endorsed, by the non-interference of his Government, the policy pursued by the Canadian National Railways of engaging in cut-throat competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway. His Government, indeed, and has followers in Parliament, acted as rubber stamps to set their seal of approval on the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars of the people's money at the dictation of the state-owned railways. The debt of that system is now upwards of two and a half billion dollars, which is, in reality, a part of the national debt of the Dominion. The system this year will have to appeal to Parliament to make good deficits of from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000.

That is the situation for which economic conditions are only partly responsible. A considerable percentage of the responsibility must be assigned to Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues in the late Government, as well as to his followers in Parliament. They were recreant to their obvious duty of seeing that the purposes and the expenditures of the Canadian National Railways should be kept within bounds. They regarded the Canadian National Railways and the management of that system as something sacrosanct, as something, to help out the ambitions of which, there was a Fortunatus purse available in the pocket of the taxpayers of the Dominion.

One conclusive reason why a Transportation Commission is at work today is because of the laxity in office of Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues. The commission is one of the agencies created to correct the errors of an effete administration. Mr. Mackenzie King knows this full well, but he prefers to play party politics, and hence his attack on the Transportation Commission which is endeavoring, through the mass of evidence it is assembling, to reach a judicial decision on what policies are best for the future credit of Canada as it is affected by railway finances. That is a big task, and there are no hands to which it could be committee more capable than those of Mr. Justice Duff and his colleagues of the transportation board of inquiry.

MANITOBAN POLITICS

Premier Bracken of Manitoba has been seeking to form a Coalition Government and has invited the other political constituents in the Legislature to combine, for the time being, under his leadership. The invitation has been accepted by the Liberals. It has been refused by the Conservatives and by Labor. An election is due in Manitoba, and the Conservative leader, Colonel F. G. Taylor, maintains that Premier Bracken should appeal to the people first, and when the result of such an appeal is known it will be time enough to talk of coalition. If that course were followed, Colonel Taylor asserted that his party would do what it considered in the best interests of the province.

There are some indications that the people of Manitoba are tired of the policies pursued by the Bracken Government. There is no enthusiasm in the province for a coalition ministry, especially on the eve of a time when a general election is due. Manitoba has had to cope with difficult situations, perhaps more difficult there than in some other provinces because of the distress among the farming population. The province is spending $2,000,000 on unemployment relief. It faces a liability on the Wheat Pool guarantee of $3,374,939. It has also to pay a heavy premium on moneys due in New York.

In Manitoba there are fifty-five seats in the Legislature. The Progressives, who follow Premier Bracken, hold thirty of these. The Conservatives, under Colonel Taylor, have fourteen seats; the Liberals, five, and the Laborites, three. There are two Independents and a vacancy in the Legislature. The Liberals and Laborites are supporting the Progressives, who thus have a very substantial majority. Premier Bracken, however, fears defeat at the polls, and that is one reason why he has suggested a Coalition Government. Presumably, since the Conservatives have not acquiesced in this proposal, an election is an eventuality of the near future. In the meantime the indications are that, "Progressive" administration in Manitoba, as elsewhere, has not proved the success that its proponents prophesied for it. Ontario tried it, and after a trial repudiated it overwhelmingly. Manitoba may do the same when the chance arises.

CHINA AND SILVER

One of the arguments advanced by the advocates of free silver and those who want to put world currency on a bimetallic basis is that the fall in the price of silver has militated disastrously against the trade of those countries where silver is a standard of value. There has been undoubtedly a decline in the gold value of silver. This has meant, inversely, a rise in the silver value of gold. It is true that in countries on a silver standard the international purchasing power of silver has declined. The advocates of a silver standard point particularly to China as an illustration of what is happening. China, indeed, is their stock in trade argument for a new currency dispensation.

Professor T. E. Gregory, writing in The London Spectator, points out that that it is not the fall in silver that has checked Eastern trade. It is the decline in world prices, "of which the fall in silver is only one part." He says, moreover, that "the fall in the gold value of silver leads to consequences the reverse of unfavorable to silver producers. Then he goes on to say: "So long as Chinese prices (which are silver prices) have not risen as fast as the gold value of silver has fallen, this very fact encourages silver exports to China, and causes rising prices there and prevents that distracted country from suffering in addition to invasion and banditry and misgovernment, the evils of deflation as well."

Bank failures are the exception not the rule in this country, and that the Dominion is weathering the present depression without the collapse of such financial institutions is an evidence of the strength of our banking system. In the United States in the last ten years there have been 6,978 bank failures, banks which had deposits of $2,586,000,000. In the last two years 3,000 banks in that country have disappeared. The banking system in Canada is built on a solid basis, and one reason for this is that credit cannot be given indiscriminately. The history of our banks in latter years, and in the face of world-wide economic depression, is the completest of possible answers to their detractors.

The object of all wages paid ought to be to strengthen initiative. It is in this respect that the world is getting too far away from the ideal of service. Where wages are simply regarded by the recipients as a quid pro quo for services rendered and where they do not act as an incentive they become perilously like a dole. There is too much of the dole complex abroad in the land.

A novelist, Sir Philip Gibbs, has put his finger on the root of our present troubles even more unerringly and more tersely than the greatest of the economists. He says that the source of the present depression "lies in the illusion that we could live more luxuriously after the war than before the war."

Professor Albert Einstein says that since hearing some formal speeches he has got a new idea of infinity. To confirm that idea he should hear Mr. Mackenzie King.

SNOW AT TWILIGHT

A prisoner of pain, I lie and wait
The delicate magic you may set at play
Beyond my windows, though the sullen day
With clouds low hanging seeks as if in hate
To muffle up your beauty and to abate
Your one brief hour of sovereignty. So grey,
So dark it is, you well might cast away
Your wand ere noon be gone, and drowse too late.
Now evening hovers; the ashen web of trees
Blends with a heaven of ashes, then fades from sight,

—Amelie Rives TTroubetzkoy, in The Virginia Quarterly.

Self-reliance is a noble and manly quality of the character; and he who exercises it in small matters schools himself by that discipline for its exercise in matters of more momentous importance.—William Rathbone.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

If there ever was a time when none should be for the party and all should be for the state, this is that time.—Winnipeg Tribune.

We believe the above adaptation of the well-known lines written by Macaulay are extremely apropos of the speech delivered in Winnipeg by Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. The leader of the Liberals has been "viewing with the utmost alarm" the general economic situation in Canada, and with dismal forebodings the future relations between this country and the Mother Country. But we venture to suggest that it is the future of the Liberal party of Canada that is the chief concern at the present time of the Liberal leader.

Whatever the speech of the Liberal leader may have been, it certainly was not the speech of a statesman whose chief concern was the future of his country. It was the speech of a fault-finding, petty politician, disgusted at the loss of position, and willing to resort to the most despicable tactics for the purpose of regaining position. In his speech, which was given wide publicity, for reasons which were not dependable upon its merits, Mr. King harped upon three strings. One of the strings struck was unemployment. Another string was tariff reductions. The main string was the Conference shortly to be held in Ottawa for the purpose of considering and adopting a policy of preferential trade within the Empire.

The Liberal leader blamed changes in the tariff for unemployment in Canada. He might as logically have blamed the monthly changes of the moon for the unemployment situation. There were unemployed in Canada when the King Government was in power. The number of the unemployed was increasing in the latter days of the King regime; but the leader of the Government would, not admit that there were unemployed, and declared that even if there were unemployed, that was not the concern of the Government; that it was the concern of the municipalities first and of the Provincial Governments next, and that if the situation were as serious as it was represented to be, that was not a matter for Federal concern at all, and that the Federal Government would not contribute a five-cent piece to relieve it. Now that Mr. King is out and Mr. Bennett is in (which, of course, is the kernel of the situation), the Government is being assailed venomously for not doing enough for the relief of the unemployed.

There of course never was a vestige of humor in the cosmos of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. Probably that is why he has never attained to the dignity of a statesman, and why he has always taken himself so seriously. If the Liberal leader were endowed with even the rudiments or a grain of humor, would he have demanded that at the next session of Parliament the Bennett Government should change its tariff policy, because that policy was a menace to the success of the coming Imperial Economic Conference, when the fact is apparent that it was the Bennett tariff policy which prepared the way for the adoption of the policy of preferential trade within the Empire; that it was the Bennett tariff policy, as stated by the Canadian Prime Minister at the last Imperial Conference, which arrested the attention of the British people, and was one of the instruments in the defeat of an Imperial Government which would not even consider the policy of preferential trade within the Empire. It was as a result of the Bennett tariff policy that a treaty of trade and commerce was arranged between Canada and Australia, and that a similar treaty is in process of being arranged between Canada and New Zealand. Thus a policy of Imperial preferential trade already has been established within a portion of the Empire, and there is no doubt whatever that, after the Imperial Conference has held its next meeting in Canada, a policy of preferential trade will be established throughout the whole of the British Empire.

* * *

Mr. King knows that what is stated here is the truth, and he is alarmed because he realizes that it is the truth, and because he knows that a policy he advocated for years with his lips but opposed in his heart and with all his power, is about to be adopted, despite his opposition. The difference between the Liberal leader and the Conservative Premier is that, while the first is glib of speech but has never had the courage to face a situation and deal with it effectively, the other is a man of courage and determination, and acts effectively.

Mr. King knows that the next Imperial Conference will be a complete success; that all the conferences he attended were failures because they were completely destitute of capable and far-seeing leaders. Mr. King knows that the next Imperial Conference will be a success and that, as a result of it, there will be a wonderful change in the tide of Canadian business. But he hopes it will be a failure, because he knows that, if it is a success, his failure as a public leader will be demonstrated and that he will be chiefly responsible for the consequences to the Liberal party of Canada. That is why Mr. King's latest speech may be considered as practically his swan song as an important factor in the public affairs of Canada.

* * *

Mr. King's speech in general was merely a tissue of nonsense, but his reference to the Railway Commission and his insinuations that the Railway Commission is holding secret sessions because the members of the commission are merely tools of the Bennett Government, because that Government has designs upon the independence of the Canadian National Railways, is nothing but unmitigated nonsense. A political infant could not be deceived by such rubbish.

DEALERS PREDICT PRICE INCREASE

Sudden Drop in Temperature May Cause Change in Food Prices Here

If Jack Frost prolongs his visit, the prices of many household commodities are due for a decided increase. Among the foodstuffs which will doubtlessly be affected will be meat and eggs. Both these products have been retailing at extremely low figures lately, but dealers all predict that these present prices cannot last.

The sudden slump in temperature in this city has made local wholesalers very uneasy regarding the handling of fruits, for the least touch of cold turns many tropical products black.

Lettuce was a little cheaper yesterday than it has been for some time past, chiefly due to the arrival of a large shipment from California.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

A PRAYER

May I not weary at close of day—
This is always my dream—
May I find such beauty in sunset's ray
As I knew in the dawning gleam.

My spirit's sword—may it still be keen
To thrust the wrong aside;
May its blade be stainless still, as clean
As in hours of my youth and pride.

May I not yield to a weak regret
For the things that could not be;
May I face the time when the sun will set
Still confident, tranquil, free.

This is always my prayer—
Old ships are gallant and old trees gay,
So may I find dusk fair!

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any time, add 16.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

ESQUIMALT ELECTIONS

Sir,—As an election for municipal honors is approaching, I, as a candidate for council, if elected, would study strict economy. I think that the unemployment situation could be handled more efficiently and more work could be meted out to those who are only too willing to work, and, alas, have not the opportunity offered, and 99 per cent would be only too glad to do so rather than expect help through charitable institutions. Of course, there are others who cannot work, through no fault of their own. They should receive help, and, as I am well informed, are receiving the needed assistance.

I am in favor of the Provincial Police handling our police affairs, where I think there is room for economy. If elected, I intend to fight for the arterial highway, thus giving employment to the men in our fair municipality. I am strictly in favor of the councillors giving their services free. It should be an honorable position. I have been a resident and a ratepayer for over twenty years and I am an independent candidate. If elected, I will practise strict economy.

ROBERT J. STEWART.

SAANICH POLICE

Sir,—I wish to indorse the letter in your paper of January 14, re Saanich Police, signed by T. Bridges.

Why these complaints at so late a date, especially on the eve of an election, against the police, who cannot defend themselves on the public platform or through the press? Any complaints should be reported at once to the police commission, who would investigate the matter in a fair and proper manner. Why hold back until now?

I remember reading in your paper some time ago of a young man, charged in Saanich with a minor offence, and the chief recommended a suspended sentence, adding he would find the man a job, which I understood he did.

Surely actions of this kind should show that the police are anxious and willing to help in every way, and a little appreciation should be shown instead of these last-minute whisperings.

I think the majority of the people in Saanich realize the efficiency of the police and appreciate the courteous manner in which the entire force carries out its duties. H. G. HUMBER.

POLICING OF ESQUIMALT

Sir,—Would you kindly publish the following facts regarding the substitution of the Provincial Police for the municipal police for the Municipality of Esquimalt.

In offering myself as a candidate for police commissioner in Esquimalt, I am in favor of efficiency, strict economy, and I consider that a plebiscite should have been submitted to the taxpayers for their consideration at the election.

If elected, I will use every endeavor to have the Provincial Police take over the policing of the municipality.

The following 1930 figures for municipal policing costs and figures submitted by the superintendent of the Provincial Police should speak for themselves, taking into consideration that a saving of $3,272.31 is disclosed by these figures.

I may state that I have been approached by a large number of taxpayers to advocate the above policy.

Present (1930) municipal policing costs, $8,742.78; costs under Provincial administration (one first and one third class constable, plus annual uniform), $3,491.50; municipal expenses: Upkeep of cars, $200; magistrate, $625; magistrate's clerk, $300; police phones, $200; keep of prisoners, $350; interpreters' fees, $12.50; traveling expenses, $100; typing depositions, $41.50; medical fees, $137.34; stationary, $12.63—$1,978; total of salaries and expenses, $5,470.47.

"KIRK MUNROE"

Sir,—In connection with a forthcoming biography of my husband, the late Kirk Munroe, I would like to use your columns to ask a few questions of your readers.

A generation ago Kirk Munroe was the loved author of thousands of children, now of men and women in the prime of life. He knew and corresponded with a great many of his readers, many of whom wrote for his picture and autograph.

Did any of you who may see this letter know or receive letters from Kirk Munroe? If so, and you have kept them, will you be helpful enough to loan them to the writer for a short time? Great care will be taken of them and of any photographs or other data which you may be able to supply.

This life will be a story of adventure, for nearly every adventure in Kirk Munroe's stirring tales was lived either in whole or in part by the author.

MABEL STEARNS MUNROE.

ESQUIMALT ELECTION

Sir,—In announcing my candidature for the one-year term in the forthcoming election, I notice you have made one serious mistake in saying that I am in favor of a Greater Victoria.

In talking to your reporter, I mentioned that I was interested in this subject, but it is impossible that I should be in favor of it until some scheme is propounded that would be acceptable to the taxpayers of Esquimalt.

With a mayor elected in Victoria City who is wishful to push some scheme of a Greater Victoria to the forefront, it is certain that this subject will be discussed in the near future. It is only one of the many subjects that would receive my earnest attention if elected. ROBERT W. DENT
Esquimalt, B.C., January 14, 1932.

SAANICH POLITICS

Sir,—In your issue of the 13th, I see a letter from our reeve in which he states that hereafter he will not take part in any mud-slinging. I heartily agree with him in his decision and think that the people of Saanich realize that it is impossible for him to put in all his time replying to the various attacks that may be made by persons with axes to grind. It also appears to me that it is not in accord with fair play to concentrate all criticism on the reeve. His is not the sole responsibility in municipal matters. The council is elected by the people, and the reeve presides and suggests. The council decides and it is neither fair or in accord with the position of the reeve for him to have to put in his time replying to petty bickerings.

I also note two other letters, one from H. H. Grist and one from H. Hastings. Mr. Grist's letter is hardly deserving of notice, except that it may be misunderstood. Perhaps it is intended as a joke, as I see that he wonders why we have to pay traveling expenses when we ship persons to prison. Perhaps the transportation companies can make this clear to him. The rest of his letter seems about on a par with this.

In regard to Mr. Hastings. My information on the question of accounts is as follows: The accounts were submitted on October 22, October 27, November 14, December 4, December 18 and December 26. Mr. Hastings well knows that he is shadow boxing, and it would seem obvious to all that he is endeavoring to make a case where all the facts are against him.

The other item from Mr. Hastings' letter of the 13th, is where he repeats a previous statement to the effect that the agreement reached the Government offices on December 23, and that the reeve needs untwisting. The facts are as the reeve has stated. The Saanich office received the agreement on the morning of the 23rd On the evening of the 23rd, the council authorized the execution of the agreement, and the same was handed in at about 10 o'clock on the morning of the 24th, at the Parliament Buildings, by our clerk. DENNIS HOARE, Councillor.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Sir,—In reply to "Dollar at Par" article in your paper of January 7, by A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., I would like to ask Mr. Goward where he struck such luck. Canadian money (bills) of Montreal Bank, also Royal Bank of Canada, have been refused by some of the largest stores in Southern California, and, if accepted, at a rate of from 3 to 5 per cent higher than quoted in papers. One man was charged 25 per cent. Some people who came South in October expecting to spend the Winter, as in other years, have returned to Canada. One gentleman went into two of the largest banks, wanted some American money, offered as security a $1,000 bond of the B.C. Power Co. They would not accept it as security for sufficient to pay his rental of less than one hundred and fifty dollars.

Statements like Mr. Goward made are very misleading. Even in Victoria, B.C., the steamship company refused to accept Canadian money at other than the rate of the day in payment of passage South. W. D. McCULLUM.

THE CASE OF COPPER

Sir,—There is a concrete case of international finance, finesse manipulation and monopoly in copper. For months the powerful producers all over the world have been conferring over the limitation of production and the division of the spoils. Less than a month ago copper quotations were 6¼ cents; today, 7¼ to 7⅝ cents a pound, call it a cent a pound advance, equivalent to an extra profit of 14¼ per cent.

Doubtless this organization is intended to continue, affording an example of and encouragement to owners of other primary products—all the other metal producers, cotton, timber, wool, cereals, etc.

Now let us assume that the present limitation and price is reasonable and all the other primary producers adopt this model. What is to hinder all of them from jacking up the price at their own sweet will on all the different commodities at any time?

If international restraint of trade is to run rampant it will appear as if an international tribunal would have to step in between the monopolists and the consumers.

JOHN DEAN.
572 Head Street, Esquimalt, B.C., January 13, 1932.

H.M.C.S. SKEENA

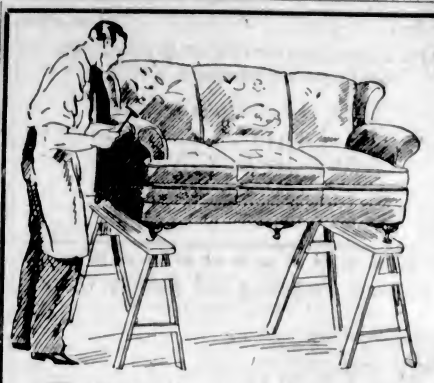

Sir,—There appeared in your issue of January 13 an announcement that H.M.C.S. Skeena had sailed south with a consignment of British Columbia commercial products aboard, apparently for the purpose of exhibiting them on board at her various ports of call.

It would be a matter of great interest to learn (1) whether this very extraordinary procedure had the consent of the naval authorities at Ottawa? (2), what the Governments of the other provinces think of the use of a Dominion vessel for this purpose? (3), what the owners of mercantile vessels think of this encroachment on their legitimate activities? (4), what the majority of the people of Canada think of one of their ships of war being put to such a purpose? (5), If there is anyone on board the Skeena authorized to receive and forward orders for these products, and what commission will he receive, if any? Or, is it all a joke?

T. L. THORPE-DOUBBLE.
Capt. Royal Navy (Retired).
1712 Monteith Street, Oak Bay, B.C., January 14, 1932.

A deputation of ratepayers had called upon the local council to protest against the condition of a certain road. After all had been heard, the chairman of the board, in a polite manner, said: "From all reports, I'd say the road was fairly good, taken as a whole."

"True," said the spokesman for the complainants, "but we want to use it as a road, not as a hole."

Weiler-Built - - - Means Better Quality and Value

THE style of a Chesterfield suite and the outer covering are things you actually see before making a purchase, but for your ultimate satisfaction it is far more important to know something about the hidden details of materials and workmanship. These are factors which determine durability, comfort and actual value.

The way to make sure of sound workmanship and materials throughout is to have your Chesterfield suite made in the Weiler factory. The Weiler guarantee safeguards your investment.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of January 15, 1882)

First Cargo—The schooner Bonanza arrived at Esquimalt on Sunday with 220 tons of sandstone for the graving dock from the Beltorpine Island quarry. This is the first cargo, and the second is expected in about two days' time. About twenty men are now employed quarrying, and a number of hands will be immediately put on at the dock, preparing the stone for use.

Too Fast—The third camel slipped from the ways yesterday morning into the water before the caulking was completed, and as a result filled with water and had to be beached and drained out before work could be resumed.

Swearing In of Council—At half-past eleven yesterday morning the new mayor and members of the council were duly sworn in by Sir M. B. Begbie, Mayor Shakespeare and Councillors Kinsman, Boyd and Wrigglesworth being the officials taking the oath.

The Caisson—All local ironworkers have declined to tender for the construction of the caisson in connection with the graving dock. It seems a pity that outside companies should have to be called in to do work which the city's contractors are capable of performing.

Victoria's Police Force Maintains High Standard

Chief of Police Thomas Heatley Gives Review of Activities of Department in Annual Report to Board of Police Commissioners

When Chief of Police Thomas Heatley stepped into the position of Chief Constable of the City of Victoria, following the police department shuffle almost a year ago, he went into office faced with the unpleasant task of a complete reorganization of the department and, in that, he has been successful.

By placing the responsibility of each department upon the shoulders of the officers in charge of that particular branch, Chief Heatley has instilled into the force individual initiative with the result that the departments have been able to function with a degree of interest and ambition which has been of great value to the force as a whole during the last year.

FEW SERIOUS CRIMES

The year 1931 in Victoria was practically free of serious crimes. Due partially to unemployment, other cities in the Dominion and elsewhere have experienced crime waves, but the Capital City of British Columbia's losses through crime are much less than the previous year, and one-third of the 1931 total losses from theft and burglary went in one night's work.

The annual report of the work of the department submitted to the meeting of the Police Commission yesterday afternoon by Chief Heatley contains much valuable information concerning the operation of one of the most important branches of the city's administration.

For instance, out of a total of 1,183 cases handled by the department through the courts in 1931, 1,048 of those were convicted of various offences and only 112 cases were withdrawn or discharged. In the Chinese section of the report, 457 cases are shown and convictions total 428. In all, 1,651 cases came under police notice during the year.

POLICE CONVICTIONS

The largest number of convictions was for breaches of city by-laws, breaches of the Motor Act came second with 165, drunkenness third with seventy-two for the year. Twenty-four persons were convicted for housebreaking, twenty-three for obtaining money by false pretences. Fifteen persons were convicted under the Deserted Wives Maintenance Act.

Fines for 1931 amounted to $13,367, with $89.50 costs, as compared with $10,819 and $64 costs in 1930. The largest amount collected was from infractions of the Government Liquor Act, the amount being $2,850. Breaches of the Motor Act provided $1,925 and breaches of city by-laws $1,607. Selling lottery tickets brought a return to the department of $1,050. Indians contributed $115 in fines, and Chinese $3,304.50. The white population paid $9,922.50 in fines during the year.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Under the heading of accidents in traffic, the Chief Constable reported six persons killed, or fatally injured, the same number as in the previous year. Thirty-four persons were seriously injured last year as compared with forty-one in 1930. Fifty-nine were slightly injured as compared with seventy-four the previous year. The police patrol responded to 2,970 calls. During night patrol police found 303 places insecure as compared with 210 in 1930. Twenty inquests were held during the year.

In the juvenile department, three boys were committed to an industrial school, thirty-three were placed on suspended sentence, to report; seventeen were placed on suspended sentence without reporting and eight were discharged with cautions. Only one girl was apprehended during the year, being discharged with a caution.

TERMS OF SERVICE

In his preliminary remarks, the Chief of Police comments on the future appointments to the force. He says: "I have come to the conclusion that the present system, whereby a man serves two years before reaching the rank of a first-class constable, is unsatisfactory. From personal experience and observation, it seems to me that two years is too short an embryonic period for a police officer and I therefore recommend that this period be increased to three and one-half years, as follows: Probationary period, six months; third-class constable, one year, and second class constable, two years.

Coast Cities Joined by Telephone

WITH 400 miles separating Victoria and the city of Prince Rupert, there is inaugurated now by the B.C. Telephone Company a system whereby telephonic connection may be established directly between private offices or houses in these cities. From here to Campbell River there is a telephone wire. At the latter point transfer takes place without the assistance of any intermediary relaying and the spoken words are conveyed by the medium of radio to Prince Rupert, to be in turn transferred again to the wire from the radio receiving station to the telephone company's wires, where it is received by the person at the Prince Rupert end of the service.

CAN PHONE TO PRINCE RUPERT

By Radio-Telephone System Direct Communication Can Be Obtained With North

Through the medium of the radio-telephone link which has been inaugurated between Campbell River on Vancouver Island and Prince Rupert, telephonic conversations can be carried on between here and the northern coast city with the same facility as between cities that are joined by ordinary long distance telephone lines.

The formal inauguration of the service will take place this morning at 10 o'clock at the local offices of the B.C. Telephone Company. It is expected there will be a linking up of the coastal cities of Victoria and Vancouver with Prince Rupert and felicitations will be extended by the mayors of the different cities.

This new service has been brought into practical being through the providing of radio connection between Prince Rupert and Campbell River. This covers a distance of more than three hundred miles and couples up with the wires of the telephone company and its connections throughout the continent. At the other end of the service in Prince Rupert the telephone wires will connect directly with the radio service between Campbell River and the northern city.

Under the arrangements telephonic communications can be carried on without any break between the private phones of those living in Prince Rupert and in Victoria or elsewhere.

SUIT OVER ANCIENT MASONRY

The Corporation of Glasgow, Scotland, has been ordered to pay damages to Abraham Glass, wholesale fruit merchant, because a heavy slab of cement mortar, which had stuck to the second story of a tenement building for several hundred years, finally fell off and injured Glass in the head. The building was owned by the city. Glass asked for $12,500 damages, but got $4,500.

Obituary

HUME—Funeral services for Harry Hume, who passed away in this city on Monday, were held yesterday afternoon from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. There were many friends present, and beautiful floral tributes were received. Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiated, and interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: Harold Bradshaw, Frank Toms, J. Blackwood, A. Marsden, A. Hodgkinson and James Nightingale.

SHERRATT—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Sherratt will take place on Saturday afternoon, proceeding from McCall Bros. Funeral Home to Oaklands Gospel Hall, where service will be held at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

CUMMINS—The death occurred yesterday morning, at Tranquille, of Edith M. Cummins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cummins, of Vancouver. Born in Chilliwack, the deceased was seventeen years of age, and for a number of years resided with her parents at Colquitz. Besides her parents, there survive five sisters, Mrs. Davison, of Smithers; Evelyn, of California; Dorothy, Florence and Olive, at home, and two brothers, Edwin and Patrick, of Colquitz. The funeral will take place in Vancouver this afternoon.

VYE—There passed away yesterday morning, Mrs. Margaret Jane Vye, at the family residence, 1775 Carrick Street. Mrs. Vye was born in Richibucto, N.B., seventy-eight years ago, and had been a resident of this city for the past forty-eight years. There survive, her husband, Alexander Vye, at home; four sons, Dr. J. P. Vye and Herbert Vye, of this city; Frank and George Vye, of Duncan; one daughter, Mrs. H. H. Allen, at the family residence; also twenty-three grandchildren. The remains are resting at the Sands Mortuary Chapel, and the funeral will take place on Saturday at 3 o'clock, interment at Ross Bay Cemetery.

BELL—The funeral of Henry Donald Bell took place yesterday at 3:30 o'clock from the Sands Mortuary Chapel. Relatives and a large gathering of friends were present, and beautiful flowers testified to the popularity of the deceased. G. McAdams conducted a very impressive service. The hymn sung was "Brief Life Is Here Our Portion." The pallbearers were, J. Goverdale, A. Ashby, G. McAdams, J. Milne, J. Snobien and J. Woolley. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SIMESTER—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for William Alfred Simester at 2 o'clock from the Sands Mortuary Chapel. Relatives and many friends were present, and there were many beautiful flowers. Rev. E. F. Church officiated. The large number of sympathising friends sang the hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." The pallbearers were, J. W. Buckle, C. Schofield, H. Thomas and F. Feddern. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SAVED BY PHONE CALL

How a man was saved from death by a telephone call was told at the inquest into the explosion which caused the death of 45 miners at the Bentley Colliery, near Doncaster, England. A colliery worker named Swift said that he left the pit a few minutes before the blast owing to an urgent private message he received over the telephone.

OPPOSES CUT IN SALARIES

Commissioner Dorothy North Against Reduction of Wages of Policemen

Direct opposition to any reductions in salaries of members of the Victoria Police Department was expressed by Commissioner Dorothy North at the first meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon.

The commissioner stated her position after the board's secretary, T. Harvey Bamford, had read a communication from Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee of the City Council, quoting a resolution calling for a 10 per cent reduction in wages of all employees under control of the council. The communication suggested the commission do likewise.

SAYS PAY SMALL

Commissioner North stated she did not think that now was the time to reduce wages of members of the department. "They work hard for the little that they get. It seems to me most unfair to ask for a reduction of 10 per cent. The policemen today are not receiving any too much, and I am very much against a reduction in police salaries. I think that the members of the Legislature should reduce their indemnities," declared Mrs. North.

Mayor David Leeming pointed out the serious situation which the council was facing this year. He said that ways and means would have to be found to relieve the burden, which the property owners are carrying. He intimated there would be a considerable increase in the tax rate, in spite of everything. He mentioned that the City Council failed to carry the motion of Alderman Brown. "It will carry eventually," said the Mayor. "I have been talking to individual aldermen who voted against the resolution and I don't think they will vote against it when it comes up in estimates. It was the form in which the motion was framed that caused its defeat," the Mayor declared.

GOES TO ESTIMATES

Commissioner North replied that she considered any person who was getting a salary of $10,000 should take a 50 per cent cut, and lesser salaries a less percentage of reduction.

The question of salaries will be considered with the estimates as well as the suggestion from Alderman Brown. Estimates are to be considered at a special meeting of the commission, the meeting to be at the call of the chairman.

Honored in Death As Originator of Sunshine Inn Here

In the death, and burial yesterday, of William Alfred Simester, there passed one who gave inspiration to others in the establishment of Sunshine Inn in Victoria, and on his bier yesterday "A Friend" of Sunshine Inn placed a wreath with but a single word, "Inasmuch."

It was Mr. Simester, only thirty years old at his death, who told his story of how his health had been undermined for lack of nourishment at a time it was most needed, to Captain Burges Gadsden. It was the story of Mr. Simester that gave to Captain Gadsden the idea of establishing Sunshine Inn to give nourishment to those who might be in a similar plight.

"As a monument to Mr. Simester, we hope that Sunshine Inn will be the means of saving lives in Victoria and to prevent anyone suffering for want of nourishing food," said Captain Gadsden, in referring to the passing of his friend.

Special Meeting

A special meeting of all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will be held in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Douglas Street, at 8 p.m., Saturday, the 16th inst., for the purpose of meeting Grand Sire Fowler. All members of the order are invited to be present.

By order,
COMMITTEE.

There will be an emergent communication of Chemainus Lodge, No. 114, A.F. & A.M., held in the lodgeroom, Masonic Temple, Chemainus, on Sunday, January 17, at 1:15 p.m., to attend the funeral of our late worshipful brother, Joshua Freeman Marshall. Service at Calvary Baptist Church, at 2 p.m. Sojourning brethren invited to attend.

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD FOR MISSING MEN AS BATTERED BOAT FOUND

NELSON, Jan. 14 (AP).—Discovery of their battered boat near Cora Linn today strengthened the belief of Provincial Police that C. H. Shelden and William M. Patterson, Kootenay River Island residents, were dashed to death in the Grohman Rapids.

The men were reported missing yesterday, and a search was started. Constable D. Halcrow, Cora Linn, found the boat lodged on a rocky promontory. It was believed the men attempted to come to Nelson Tuesday for supplies, unaware that low water had made the rapids dangerous.

WINTER HEAT RECORD

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—A new heat record for January 14 was set today, when thermometers registered 63. This was three degrees warmer than the previous mark, set in 1897. Yesterday was also a record breaker.

Alexander Lockley Criticizes Campaign of His Esquimalt Reeveship Opponent

Denial that he had "double crossed" Councillor Albert Heald in announcing that he would contest the reeveship in Esquimalt in the municipal election, was made by Alexander Lockley at his campaign meeting held in the Sailors' Club last night.

In Councillor Heald's campaign, Mr. Lockley stated, charges had been made that he had double crossed Mr. Heald in running against him. Mr. Lockley said that his own candidature for the reeveship had been announced weeks before that of his opponent, and concluded with "is that double crossing?"

HOLDS OWN MEETING

When called upon to speak, Councillor Heald said that he had not come prepared to do so, as he had a meeting of his own tonight. Any charges made against him by speakers would be answered there, he said.

"Because of my illness I will be unable to attend Councillor Heald's meeting," Mr. Lockley stated, "and he will be able to criticize and cut up about me all he likes."

"I don't do those things," retorted Councillor Heald.

Mr. Lockley stated that he was basing his platform on his past record as a member of the municipal council, asserting "that if my record won't get me into office, nobody else in British Columbia can get in with it."

He is also seeking re-election to the school board.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

As far as his opponent's stand, that of having been a member of the finance committee for a number of years, Mr. Lockley stated that the finance committee had nothing whatever to do with effecting a surplus in the municipal finances at the end of the year.

"The only time the finance committee did emerge with a surplus at the end of the year was when I was the chairman of it," asserted the speaker.

The present state in Esquimalt was largely due to small tax amounts being paid, and because one of the largest taxpayers in the district had not paid their amount this year. It was necessary that the man who elected for reeve should have a thorough knowledge of these affairs, he said.

INTRODUCED BUDGET

On the last day of the tax collections, last year, Mr. Lockley said it appeared that Esquimalt would have about a $30,000 overdraft at the end of the year. Efforts to float a further loan with the bank were to no avail, and at a special meeting of the council he had brought in a budget which, with the exception of one small item, passed the council unanimously and saved the municipality about $10,000.

"Somebody had to do it, and it caused much ill feeling because of wage cuts and other reductions," the reeveship candidate stated, "but the people of Esquimalt were saved that amount during the months it was in effect."

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Discussing the school board, Mr. Lockley said that this body had finished the year with a large surplus, which, he declared, was due entirely to the efforts of the individual members of the board.

This surplus, he continued, was practically all saved in six months, because the board was willing to co-operate with the council in its effort to reduce expenditures. He recommended favorably upon the action of the Lampson Street School teaching staff in offering a voluntary reduction in their salaries.

WOULD CO-OPERATE

Referring to charges which stated that the municipal council was "stiff" and not willing to co-operate with other public bodies in the district, Mr. Lockley said that if he were elected as reeve this would not be so. He gave his assurance that all bodies would be given fair consideration by the municipal body.

Touching upon unemployment, he said that he had done his share not only as a member of the council, but in his own private business. No man worked for less that $4 a day for him, Mr. Lockley said, "if I can't pay him that, I won't hire him."

"LAY CARDS ON TABLE"

As far as unemployment in the municipality was concerned, the only thing to be done is to admit to the Government that the corporation can do nothing and "lay the cards on the table."

EFFORTS FAILED

The council made efforts during the year to get work done at the Esquimalt drydock, he said, but these had failed. It had been successful, however, in having work done on Admirals' and Esquimalt Roads, but this was later shut down.

"In conclusion," Mr. Lockley declared, "I cannot promise to spend money that isn't there, but it will be my earnest endeavor to do all in my power to better conditions in Esquimalt, if I am elected."

INDIAN CONFERENCE COMMITTEES LEAVE

LONDON, Jan. 14 (CP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald went down to Victoria Station today to say good-bye to members of three committees who are leaving for India to conduct inquiries in connection with the proposed Federal Constitution for India.

The committees are headed by Lord Lothian, Under-Secretary of State for India; Lord Eustace Percy, and I. C. C. Davidson, former chairman of the Conservative party organization.

Musical Selections—The Rotary Club, at its luncheon meeting yesterday, was favored with vocal selections by Mrs. Oliver, who was accompanied by Miss Dumbleton.

Accepts Honor — Mayor David Leeming, replying to a letter from the Rotary Club tendering him honorary membership in the organization for the year, has accepted the offer with thanks.

Prayer Union—The monthly meeting of the Prayer Union for the salvation of Israel, will be held at the Y.W.C.A. tonight. After the election of officers, Mr. Veale will give a message of interest.

Visiting in City—V. B. Robinson, secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, was in the city yesterday, to confer with officials of the Department of Agriculture. The annual meeting of the association will be held at Vernon, from January 20 to 22, he stated.

Asks Co-operation — Guy Shaw, representing the Boy Scout Association, addressed the Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting yesterday. He told of the good work being done by the organization and asked for the co-operation of the club in connection with the drive which will be started shortly.

Chimney Fires — City firemen were summoned out twice yesterday, both times to attend chimney fires. The first fire occurred at 10:50 a.m. at 121 South Turner Street, and the second took place at 1:32 p.m. at the corner of Menzies and Niagara Streets. No damage resulted.

Teams to Debate—A debate, between a team from the debaters' group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and one from the public speaking class of the night schools, will be held in the High School auditorium on Thursday night, January 21. H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P., will act as chairman.

Committee Meets Today — The weekly meeting of the public works committee of the City Council will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the council chamber at the City Hall. The committee is composed of all members of the council, with Mayor David Leeming as its chairman.

Police Chief's Report — In his monthly report for December, submitted to the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon, Chief Heatley states that a total of 190 persons were convicted in police court, fines amounting to $1,340 were collected and $27 costs. There were 116 auto accidents during December, in which only two received serious injuries.

Meet Government — A. E. Whitmore, prominent Regina business man and a member of the Saskatchewan Relief Commission, called on Premier Tolmie and other members of the Government, while on a brief visit to this city. Mr. Whitmore met officials of the Government charged with relief affairs, and spent an interesting morning at the Legislative Buildings.

Magicians Meet—The monthly meeting of the Victoria Ring, No. 10, International Brotherhood of Magicians, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Little, with a large attendance of members. Following the business session, the evening was spent in magical entertainment, featured by the mysterious bonbon, which proved very mystifying to those present. A vote of thanks was passed to the host and hostess for the supper served.

Expedite Legislation—The presessional rush of affairs set in at the Legislative Buildings yesterday, with every member of the Government called into action to advance preparation of legislative proposals to be brought before the House. The Ministry of Finance, counted on for an early presentation of the 1932 budget, was particularly busy, preparing perhaps the most important piece of legislation that will go before the Legislature. Cabinet conferences continued all day, but no public pronouncements were made, or expected.

Apples Circuit Globe—Shipped simultaneously to the same destination, by different agencies, three carlots of British Columbia apples are now on a race around the world to Cairo, one shipment by way of United Kingdom and Port Said, and the other via the Pacific and Hongkong. Yellow Newtowns were shipped in both instances, for different dealers in the Egyptian metropolis. Export of British Columbia apples to the same market is steadily growing, according to the markets branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Adjourn Inquest—The inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of Lim Lee has been postponed for a week. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, formally opened the inquest yesterday at Sands Funeral Parlors. The jury was sworn in and viewed the body of the deceased. Adjournment was then taken for a week, owing to the fact that Claude Peden, the youth who was riding the bicycle which, it is alleged, collided with the deceased at the corner of Moss and Richardson Streets, has not recovered from his injuries sufficiently to allow of his appearing.

improved, the Government no doubt would proceed with certain deferred items and the private work upon which 90 per cent of the surveyors depended would increase at the same time and "there would be steady prosperity for the profession."

J. T. Underhill presided and F. C. Green, Surveyor-General, also spoke briefly.

VICTORIA MAN ELECTED

F. W. Swannell, Victoria, was elected president in succession to J. T. Underhill, Vancouver.

Named on the board were G. F. Fountain, Vancouver; R. D. McColl, Victoria; O. B. N. Wilkie, Victoria; H. McL. Elliott, Vancouver, and G. K. Burnett, New Westminster. Ex-officio members are F. C. Green, Victoria, Surveyor-General; and J. T. Underhill, past president.

Between fifty and sixty members of the corporation from all parts of the province are in attendance, including Mr. Green.

RELATES WORK OF DETECTIVES

Inspector J. A. McLellan Presents Annual Report of Dep't to Commission

The annual report of the Victoria Detective Department was presented to the Board of Police Commissioners at its first meeting of 1932 held in the police courtroom yesterday afternoon.

The report, which was signed by J. A. McLellan, inspector of detectives of the Victoria Police Department, deals mainly with the work of the detective force during the past year. During 1931 the detective department was called on to attend to no fewer than 8,349 reports of various kinds, and besides looking after the criminal investigation work of the department, officers were called upon to gather information concerning 118 missing persons.

GOODS STOLEN

Under the heading of goods stolen, the report shows that the total value of stolen property was $13,795.17, as compared with $21,200 in the twelve months of 1930. In 1931 the department officers were successful in recovering stolen property to the value of $8,438, or 61.16 per cent of the total loss. Lost property valued at $1,756.81 was recovered out of a total of $2,841.60. The police recovered all of the 127 autos reported stolen during the year.

In the finger print department, one of the greatest assets to a detective force in the work of criminal investigation, there are now on file in the detective bureau here 68,500 finger print records and photographs, 2,403 having been added during the year.

INSPECTOR'S COMMENT

Inspector McLellan makes the following comment in connection with the operation of his department:

"This branch of the department has operated most successfully during the past year and has proved a decided asset in the fulfillment of the purpose of the police department as a whole, and particularly in connection with the working of the detective department, to which the services rendered have proved invaluable, many apparently innocent persons, who upon being picked up for vagrancy or other comparatively minor offences, having been identified after finger printing as offenders of long standing, with lengthy records as card sharks, confidence men, buncos, etc., and have thus become forever placed on the records of this department as undesirables and persons to whom a cordial invitation to "keep moving" may well be extended."

WEYBRIDGE, Surrey, Eng., Jan. 14 (AP).—Arthur Collins, associated with the famous Drury Lane Theatre for more than forty years as stage manager and producer, died today at the age of sixty-six.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Now two sizes 60c—$1.25. (Advt.)

OFFERS PLAN FOR UNION OF THREE PRAIRIE GOV'TS

the action yesterday of a special committee of the Manitoba Legislature on redistribution in giving unfavorable consideration to a proposal that the number of legislature seats be reduced from fifty-five to thirty-five, marked the first serious expression of opinion by a Western Government head on a proposal strongly supported a year ago by farm bodies in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Just two months ago Mr. Bracken remarked: "Interesting if feasible," when the suggestion was advanced by A. J. Macauley, president of United Farmers of Canada, at the annual convention of United Farmers of Manitoba.

ISSUES STATEMENT

In his statement, addressed to the committee on redistribution, the Premier expressed disappointment that the seat-reduction plan had been turned down. Cost of the next legislative session "must be reduced," he declared.

"Personally I would like to see the committee go even farther in the direction of economy than has been proposed," the statement noted. In proposing that it consider a One-Prairie-Government plan, Mr. Bracken said he thought its operation would be particularly advantageous to Western Canada during the present depression.

"With nearly 100 less members in the Prairie Legislatures, with one session instead of three each year, with avoidance of triplication in administration and of officials, commissions and boards, with elimination of triplication of several university and other departments—and in a score of other ways—I am of the opinion that while the immediate economy would be considerable, the ultimate saving as the years go by would reach to millions of dollars.

UNITED VOICE

"If, in addition, the Prairie Provinces can be put into the position of being able to speak with a united voice in the councils of the Dominion, it would seem to me to be of very great advantage.

"I would suggest that the committee send in a recommendation that this proposal receive full investigation by a body of men representing the three Governments with a view to determining the measures of its desirability, and outlining the steps necessary to bring it about, should it be considered wise to proceed with it."

TWO SEEKING COUNCIL SEAT

H. D. Coton and Neil McGillivray State Policies at Ward Five Meeting

The only election campaign for representation on the Saanich council in Ward Five was held last night at Royal Oak Hall. There were nearly 200 present.

Councillor H. D. Coton, seeking re-election, gave a review of the year's work, particularly dealing with public improvements and matters pertaining to the health of the municipality.

His opponent, Neil McGillivray, said he was a construction engineer by profession; that he knew a road when he saw it and that he knew when a man was doing a good day's work. For this reason, he asked the support of the electorate, stating he had the proper qualifications.

A. E. Hull, Frank Partridge and John Reid, candidates for the school board, and L. W. Goddard and Commissioner Charles King, candidates for police commission, outlined their policies at the Ward Five meeting and at the meeting held in Ward Six in the Temperance Hall.

Royal City Has Threatening Fire

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 14.—Threatening the east end of the city's waterfront, fire broke out on the premises of Belyea & Co., Ltd.

The galvanized iron roof of the building, used as a coal and wood depot, valued at about $3,000, was destroyed, and the interior badly damaged. It contained about 200 tons of coal, some wood, also packing cases and packing material.

BURGLARY BUSINESS IN FRISCO POOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP).—The depression has hit the "burglary business" in San Francisco.

Police Chief William Quinn yesterday removed two inspectors from the burglary detail, explaining there was no work for them to do. Burglars have been repaid so poorly for their efforts recently they have abandoned porch climbing and transom wriggling for more lucrative activities, Quinn said.

ARMY AIRMEN KILLED

Kipling to Take The Bath Waters

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A columnist said today in The London Express that Rudyard Kipling, British author, who has been ill for a year, had been advised by his physicians to go abroad, but had refused on patriotic grounds.

Instead, the columnist said, Mr. Kipling has decided to try the "cure" at Bath, famous British inland health resort.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14 (AP).—A slight earthquake shook the city of Oaxaca at 1:45 a.m. today, on the anniversary of an earthquake that damaged half the town and killed 100 persons last year.

The motor car has not yet, unfortunately, lived down the reputation as a slayer, acquired a century ago by its immediate predecessor, the steam carriage.

In June, 1831, "Mr. Gurney's Steam Carriage," while giving exhibition runs in the square of the cavalry barracks at Glasgow, suddenly exploded, fatally injuring some of the daring passengers. The accident prompted Tom Hood to write:

Instead of journeys, people now
May go upon a Gurney,
With steam to do the horse's work
By power of attorney.

Though with a load it may explode
An you may be undone,
And find you're going up to heaven
Instead of up to London.

TAX EQUALITY CHIEF ISSUE

Tricornered Contest Draws Big Crowd to Ward Six Saanich Meeting

The tricornered contest for ward representation on the Saanich Council, coupled with the hectic meetings held by reeveship candidates in inner wards, brought out more than 250 people to the Ward Six meeting in the Keating Temperance Hall last night. This was the largest election meeting that has been held in that district for nearly ten years.

Councillor L. C. Hagan, in seeking a ninth term on the council, declared he was doing so because he felt he could not give up the fight for more equitable distribution of taxation.

BEARS LION'S SHARE

He said that Wards Two and Seven obtained in education $88,000 more than they contributed in taxes, and that this was the same with relief work, hospital, policing, and other departments. The farming wards were paying the lion's share. The assessment had been juggled so that Ward Six assessments were increased, and he wished to continue the fight for fair distribution of the burden.

William Thorne, candidate for council, said the people were looking for a change, and that was one of the reasons why he was running. He was independent in this contest and running on a policy of applying his twenty years of business experience to municipal affairs. He said he had been approached to withdraw from the triangular contest and challenged his opponents to draw lots to see who should withdraw, but they failed to take up the challenge.

WARD EXPENDITURES

J. E. Sladen, the third candidate, said he had been studying the annual report of the municipality and found that while Ward Seven had received $22,000 of ward appropriations and relief work, Ward Six, with the most mileage in Saanich, had received only $14,000, once again demonstrating that the farming ward was not receiving fair returns for the taxes it paid. "I would like to know why the councillor for our ward did not see that more money was spent in Ward Six," Mr. Sladen said.

"I am running for office because my opponent goes to the council and returns to offer the job to the first person he meets. I offered myself as a candidate, but Councillor Hagan looked me over and decided I was not the right man. Well, I am here to prove that I am the right man," Mr. Sladen concluded.

PREPARES FOR LARGER TRADE

Morgan Hotel at Qualicum Doubling Its Capacity for Coming Season

The Morgan Hotel, at Qualicum, will double its capacity in preparation for the coming tourist season. T. G. Morgan, the proprietor and manager of this well-known resort on Vancouver Island, is in Victoria at present, paying a visit here for the purpose of carrying out the arrangements for the increasing of the accommodation, which he finds necessary to cope with the development in trade.

Mr. Morgan says that his hotel, during the past three years, has not been able to accommodate more than 65 per cent of the travel offering. The coming year is expected to result in a still further increase in tourist volume, and he is preparing to meet the situation.

The new wing now being built will contain sixteen large bedrooms, each having a separate dressing-room and shower bath. There will be all the latest accessories for the comfort of the guests. The cost of the addition will be about $25,000.

NEW CONSTABLES ADDED TO FORCE

Three Placed on Permanent Staff by Police Board—Department Now Full Strength

On recommendation of Chief of Police Thomas Heatley, three new constables were added to the police department at the regular meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon. The new appointees are fine, clean-looking young men, all married and residents of Victoria.

They are: Stanley T. Holmes, Louis Leroy Parr and Samuel McKenzie. They will be taken on as permanent members of the force immediately.

CHIEF'S REQUEST

Chief of Police Heatley made a requisition for four new men, but was opposed by Commissioner Andrew McGavin, who said he considered that two should be sufficient and three at the outside. The chief explained that he needed more men at night duty, as six men are now being used for traffic.

Commissioner Dorothy North said that the Chief's recommendation should be approved. "The chief knows how many men he requires and he should have them if they are needed," Mrs. North said.

Commissioner McGavin—I will not be a party to the appointment of four new men. I don't think they are needed.

The chief explained there were forty-four men now on the force, and the full strength of the force had always been forty-seven. Commissioner McGavin said he would approve the appointment of three men. The chief agreed to the compromise and the three were appointed after being presented to and questioned by members of the board.

MOVES REAPPOINTMENT

Before the police chief's recommendation was tabled, Commissioner McGavin moved for the reappointment of John Rogers to the detective department, but his motion went by the board for want of a seconder. Commissioner North considered the matter for some moments and then announced she could not support Mr. McGavin.

Commissioner McGavin explained his reasons for seeking the reappointment of Mr. Rogers to the force. He said that one other detective had been demoted during the police shuffle last year, but that after two months he had been replaced in his old position, while Mr. Rogers "had been left to walk the streets for eleven months." He said he considered Mr. Rogers had a good record and had, before his dismissal, eighteen years' service in the department.

A communication was read from City Solicitor H. S. Pringle concerning a request made by two constables, recently dismissed from the force, for one month's salary in lieu of notice. The city solicitor advised the board that as the constables were dismissed for cause, they were not entitled to salary in lieu of notice. The men will be advised accordingly.

Court of Appeal
Victoria Sittings

Orr (A) vs. Brown et al. (R)—Appellant had obtained leave to issue a writ against respondents, who were the Moderator and clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and the convener and secretary of a commission appointed by the General Assembly to inquire into the case of the Central Church, in Vancouver. He desired to sue respondents on their own behalf and on behalf of all other members of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Appellant had been minister in charge of the Central Church.

After the issue of a writ, an order was obtained setting it aside. Against this order appellant appealed.

It was stated that the Presbyterian Church in Canada was an unincorporated voluntary association with members residing throughout the whole of Canada. The respondents who were named in the writ were all resident outside British Columbia. Respondents submitted that the subject-matter of the action did not bring the case within the rules permitting of service outside the province on a writ issued in the courts of British Columbia. Counsel for appellant argued that the subject-matter came within the rules, in that a breach of contract between appellant and the church was alleged. He also argued that if the proceedings of the commission were irregular, a tort had been committed within the jurisdiction.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

J. A. MacInnes for appellant; J. A. Campbell for respondents.

Toronto General Trusts Corporation (R) vs. Carson et al. (A)—This was an appeal in an action by an executor to establish a will. Appellants had filed caveat. Appellants alleged that the testatrix was not of sound mind at the time of making the will, and that execution of the will was obtained by the undue influence of a named party and others acting with him whose names were unknown to appellants. Appellants claimed probate of a previous will.

Upon an application for further particulars, appellants were ordered to give the names of friends, relatives and attendants against whom the testatrix had shown prejudice and dislike, and the names of parties alleged to have exercised undue influence. Counsel for respondent submitted that particulars were not demanded for the purpose of obtaining the names of witnesses, but were required to disclose the names of the persons who were alleged to have used undue influence.

The Court of Appeal held that in cases in which undue influence and insanity were alleged against a testator, loose evidence must not be given. Specific acts must be alleged. The names of persons stated to be connected with instances alleged to be acts of insanity and undue influence must be given. The appeal was dismissed (McPhillips J.A. dissenting).

J. A. MacInnes for appellants; A. Bull for respondent.

SAANICH POLICE ARE DEFENDED

Reeve Wm. Crouch Answers Charges—Rev. Montague Bruce Outlines Policy

Reeve William Crouch came to the defence of the police force in his Saanich election speeches, given at packed meetings of Saanich Ward Six and Ward Five ratepayers last night.

It was charged at the Ward Seven meeting that a police officer had fought with a private citizen and "got licked." Mr. Crouch declared that the charges had been made after he left the meeting, but he wished to say that he did know about the fight and had investigated it. The police officer had been given provocation when he tried to stop six youths from robbing a corner store and spoiling merchandise by spraying "pop" over it. One youth had refused to go and used obscene language and said that if the police officer was not wearing a uniform he would show him whether he would leave or not. During the fight one got a black eye, and it was not the police officer, the reeve said. The constable had been called before the reeve and reprimanded, but the circumstances of the case were taken into consideration.

REFUTES CHARGES

Reeve Crouch also refuted charges of miscarriage of justice. He said that every effort was made to give juveniles a chance to make good and that the instances cited were petty and action had been taken not by the police but by information sworn out by private residents, so that the police had no alternative than to take action. The police were efficient and were carrying on the policing of Saanich economically.

The reeve said he had never had a campaign manager, and A. E. Horner, whom he paid $25 to last year to do some telephoning for him in Ward One, was not on that occasion managing his campaign.

Rev. Montague Bruce, opposing Reeve Crouch, said that, unlike his opponent, who considered it a favor to the electorate that he was seeking re-election, he deemed it an honor even to be allowed to be a candidate.

TURNED DOWN AID

Mr. Bruce asserted the reeve had turned away Government assistance from Saanich and other municipalities by virtue of his statements to Senator Gideon Robertson on the unemployment question and that in 1929 had increased his indemnity to recompense himself for gasoline used in his car for municipal purposes.

If elected, Mr. Bruce said he would reduce the present $800 indemnity and economize in every way possible. He would endeavor to give every ratepayer unable to pay his taxes the right to work for them. Regarding reverted lots, Mr. Bruce said he would encourage those who wanted to build by allowing a discount on reverted lots if construction was started within six months of purchase.

Other suggestions he had for improvement of municipal affairs was a metropolitan police system and one court for the Greater Victoria area. But he wanted it clearly understood that he did not advocate a Greater Victoria in its entirety.

WILLIAM M. SCOTT NAMED PRESIDENT

Elected Head of Victoria Life Underwriters' Association at Annual Meeting

William M. Scott, of the Sun Life Insurance Company, was yesterday afternoon elected and installed as president of the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association, at the annual meeting held in Spencer's dining-room. Other officers named were: Charles Heisterman, vice-president; Stanley Whitehead, secretary-treasurer; Miss D. Ashdown, R. Semple and Captain H. W. Moorhouse, executive members.

W. E. McIntyre, past president, presented a report of the 1931 activities to the members, stating that although there had been no pronounced membership increase, the association had a successful year and a greater feeling of good will and co-operation had been promoted among the members.

George A. Dyson, as retiring treasurer, showed in his report that the association was in good financial condition.

Other business of the meeting included a motion to have a letter of condolence sent to James Sherratt, a fellow member, whose mother passed away on Wednesday evening.

G. A. DYSON HONORED

In recognition of his services as secretary and treasurer of the association for the past nine years, Mr. Dyson was presented with a treasure chest filled with silver, by Col. Lorne Ross.

Colonel Ross stated that Mr. Dyson had been untiring in his efforts for the organization during his years in office and expressed the hope that his unfailing interest in its welfare would continue. Mr. Dyson was recently made the first honorary life member of the association.

UNEMPLOYMENT NOT YET CURED

Senator J. H. King Claims Federal Premier Has Failed to Fulfill Pre-Election Pledge

Declaring that Premier Bennett and the Conservatives had failed to keep their pre-election pledge to "cure unemployment in Canada and blast a way into the markets of the world," Senator J. H. King, in an address to the Liberal Women's Forum here yesterday, reaffirmed his faith in the policy of the Liberals, who had, he said, under Premier Mackenzie King, pared down a national deficit of fifty millions to show a surplus of 224 millions and reduced the national debt from $2,420,000,000 to $2,177,000,000.

"The pledges which Mr. Bennett made to the country cannot be fulfilled and must end in disaster," Senator King prophesied. "No public man even went to Great Britain who prepared his way for destruction so well as Mr. Bennett," said Senator King, who affirmed that during the past two years "tariffs were being promoted in Canada that were an embarassment to world trade.

"Unless Mr. Bennett and his party change their attitude within the next year with regard to world trade, then Canada will not be in a position to take advantage of the trade relations which will come with the breaking down of political barriers," the speaker said, in closing his address, by urging the people of this country to study the question of tariffs.

Mrs. J. L. White, the president, extended the thanks of the meeting to Dr. King. During the afternoon a pleasing musical programme was given by M. Gibbs, pianist, and Mrs. W. D. Todd, soprano, accompanied by Miss T. Birnie. Tea was served subsequently, Mrs. H. Crocker and Mrs. A. E. Harrison presiding at the urns.

Hostess at Shower

Mrs. Roy Darcus entertained at a delightful shower on Wednesday in honor of Miss Fay Forster, whose marriage will take place next week to Mr. Orville R. Kennie. The table looked charming in decorations of mauve and yellow and with the bridal cake in the centre surmounted by a golden-haired bride and her attendants. The gifts were concealed in a gaily decorated canoe drawn by a tiny bride and bridegroom, little Pauline Richmond and Harold Cooper, preceded by a dainty bridesmaid, Enid Richmond, who presented the guest of honor with a bouquet. Later in the evening a buffet supper was served.

Rev. Theodore Jansen Presents Report at Annual Meeting of Grace Church Members

"Babies in a church offer competition to the pastor and do a preacher good," said Rev. Theo. Jansen, in giving his report to members of the Grace Lutheran Church at their annual supper meeting. Mr. Jansen stated that the increase in numbers of the small folk present at Sunday services spoke well for the condition of the church, and considering the adversities it had to cope with it, it had had a very successful year.

During the evening a business meeting took place, with Mr. Jansen occupying the chair. Reports from the treasurer of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary, the Women's Auxiliary, the Church Brotherhood, the Sunday school, the music committee, and the Sunday service committee were read.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

The election of officers for the coming year took place. Those chosen to hold office were: Congregational secretary, F. Anderson; church council, R. Sams and J. Jensen, both re-elected; and delegates to conventions, L. Neilson and R. Sams.

A vote of thanks to the retiring officers for their ceaseless efforts during the past year in strengthening the church in every way, was sponsored by Mrs. T. Jansen, wife of the minister.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

ESQUIMALT

The following officers and conveners for the ensuing year were elected at the meeting of Esquimalt Institute on Tuesday: President, Mrs. W. Grimes; first vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Saddler (re-elected); second vice-president, Mrs. J. Johnston; secretary, Mrs. H. E. B. Cresine (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. N. Kelly (re-elected); conveners: home economics, Mrs. C. Songhurst; public health and child welfare, Mrs. A. Booth; education and better schools, Mrs. A. Booth; legislation and immigration, Mrs. J. Roger; home industries, Mrs. A. W. Saddler; community betterment, Mrs. C. Hall; agriculture, Mrs. A. Stewart; publicity and fiational events, Mrs. H. E. B. Cresline; ways and means, Mrs. T. H. Cave; sick committee, Mrs. T. H. Cave and Mrs. R. Garrett; League of Nations, Mrs. J. Johnston. Mrs. Cave presided. Plans were made for a "Goofy Night" on February 11, and the next social night has been arranged for Thursday, instead of Tuesday, and a card game on January 21. A birthday tea will celebrate the eleventh anniversary of the W.I. on March 17, with a card game in the evening. Mrs. Cave was presented by the members with a cheque in recognition of her services while in the chair. Mrs. A. Stewart, retiring vice-president, was given a plant. Hostesses for the social were Mesdames Cave, Saddler, Stewart, Kelly and Cresine.

COBBLE HILL

The monthly meeting of the Cobble Hill Women's Institute was held in the hall on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. T. P. Barry in the chair. There were thirteen members and two visitors present. The financial report for 1931 was read and passed. The following conveners were appointed for the year: Mrs. J. La Fortune, home economics; Mrs. C. Wace, public health and child welfare; Mrs. H. G. Grainger, education and better schools; Mrs. G. Frayne, agriculture; Mrs. T. P. Barry, legislation; Mrs. J. N. Hughes, entertainments. Arrangements were made for a daffodil tea to be held on March 17, St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Hughes was made convener for the tea, Mrs. E. Price and Mrs. Deane-Freeman for entertainment. Mrs. V. H. Stewart-Macleod, Mrs. S. Samuelson and Mrs. J. La Fortune for stalls, etc., and Mrs. F. T. Oldham for fortune telling. The institute will ask Capt. C. G. D. Sprot to give a lecture some time in the Spring, on birds. Mrs. Macleod will demonstrate wool carding and spinning. Mrs. Price, Mrs. Oldham and Mrs. B. A. McMillan were elected as delegates to attend a joint meeting of all the organizations in the district, to be held next Monday afternoon, by the I.O.D.E. at Wilton Place, to discuss and, if possible, to prevent the overlapping of entertainments. Mrs. N. H. Matthews and Mrs. C. Makepeace were tea hostesses for the afternoon.

METCHOSIN

The annual meeting of the Metchosin Women's Institute, which has been suspended for the last year, took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Taylor. The president, Mrs. M. E. McVicker, took the chair. There was a fair attendance, and after the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read and approved it was resolved, after some discussion, to remain suspended for another year, officers to remain in status quo. Mrs. A. Taylor was appointed representative for the Institute. After the meeting had been adjourned Mrs. H. Helgeson made a presentation, on behalf of the institute, to Mrs. M. E. McVicker, as a mark of appreciation of her enthusiastic work for the institute, of which she has been president for the past four years. Refreshments were then served by the hostess, Mrs. M. E. Taylor.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

The first meeting of the season was held by the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute recently, the re-elected president, Mrs. Gannon, presiding. The following working committees were appointed: Library, Mrs. Dyson; home economics, Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Reeves; education and better schools, Mrs. Dyson and Mrs. Alexander; legislation and publicity, Mrs. Elford; visiting, Mesdames Layton, Macdonald, Elford, Reeves and Stewart; public health and welfare, Mrs. Gannon; institute work and method, Mrs. Macdonald.

Anglican Young People

St. Mary's

Professor E. S. Farr, of the Victoria College, addressed the members of the St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. at its weekly meeting. His discourse on present-day conditions was greatly appreciated by the audience. After the address, a business meeting took place, the main item being to arrange for an entertainment to raise funds for the branch, and it was decided to hold a bridge drive in the near future. Other business of the evening included the reading of the reports of the Local Council meeting and the Badminton League. A letter from Harold Gray, the vice-president, stating his intention of withdrawing from the branch, was received with regret. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served. The programme during the evening was carried out by Frank Fairhurst, captain of the Hotspurs team.

Nanaimo Ladies' Choir Applauded

NANAIMO, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Brankston's Ladies' Choir scored a triumph before a large audience in the Haliburton Street United Church last evening. Victor B. Harrison was chairman of the affair, and in his opening remarks paid a tribute to the conductress and the choir.

Mrs. A. G. Graham, guest artist elocutionist, was delightful in her realistic interpretation of "The Last Token." She was given an enthusiastic ovation, and received a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums from the choir, as did Mrs. Brankston. Mrs. Reynolds also received a beautiful bouquet. David Arnett acted as official accompanist.

DANCE PLANNED TO AID UNEMPLOYED OF SAANICH DISTRICT

At the general meeting of the Saanich Conservative Association, held in the Conservative rooms at the Campbell Building, it was decided to hold a dance. This will be on a large scale and the proceeds will be handed over to the Saanich Welfare Association for the benefit of the needy and unemployed of Saanich.

This dance has been announced to take the place of the usual annual frolic of the association, which has been cancelled owing to the prevailing distress. The arrangements have been placed in the hands of Mrs. F. F. Osborne, who will appoint her own committee. A Leap Year dance has been suggested, but final arrangements have been left to the committee.

Weddings

WEIBERT—BALLANTINE

The marriage was solemnized at St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton Crossroad on Tuesday, at 11 o'clock, of Valery, only daughter of the late Mr. J. S. Ballantine and Mrs. Gladys Ballantine, of Vancouver, formerly of Victoria, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Georgson, of Winnipeg and Calgary, and Mr. Edwin Weibert, of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. B. A. Bastin, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Weibert left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, where they will make their home.

VESTRY MEETING HELD

A vestry meeting was held at the Parish Hall, Parksville, to discuss the question of a new vicarage at French Creek. The following members from St. Mark's Church, Qualicum Beach, attended. General and Mrs. N. Money, Colonel and Mrs. Playfair, Mrs. Campbell Davidson, Mrs. F. W. Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bailey, Miss H. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. V. Wilkinson, Mrs. R. Hodgson, Mrs. Harry Jarvis, Mrs. G. H. Aldous, Mrs. J. Sansom, Mr. P. H. Butler and the Misses Stewart.

Germany has five aerial cableways.

Presenting Play

A junior group from the First United Church Sunday School will present a pantomime, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," this evening in the schoolroom of the Oak Bay United Church. The proceeds will be for missionary funds.

Aerial cableways in Germany have increased in number since 1929.

Somenos W.A.

The St. Mary's W.A., Somenos, met for the first meeting of the year at the home of the president, Mrs. G. A. Tisdall, "The Grange," Drinkwater Road. There were thirteen members present. The sum of $13.50, made at their stall at the hospital bazaar, has been turned over to the hospital committee. It was decided to hold only one meeting a month, to be on the second Monday of every month.

Qualicum Ladies' Aid

The annual meeting of the Qualicum Beach United Church Ladies' Aid was held recently in the church. Mrs. W. Hackworth, the president, and Mrs. E. Bunting, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Cormack, in February.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter

The monthly meeting of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at municipal headquarters, Union Building, on Tuesday evening, with the regent in the chair. Routine business was dealt with, and nominations of officers for the ensuing year were made. Mrs. O. M. Jones has kindly invited the members of the chapter to tea, on Saturday next, at her home, 599 Island Road.

Bastion Chapter

A most enjoyable tea and musicale, under the auspices of the Bastion Chapter, I.O.D.E., Nanaimo, was held in the home of Miss E. Dobeson, Townsite, on Wednesday. The rooms were decorated with greenery and chrysanthemums for the occasion. The event was a success from both a social and financial standpoint.

EMMANUEL Y.P.S.

The Young People's Society of the Emmanuel Baptist Church held a banquet on Tuesday evening. Representatives from the various organizations of the church were present, also the presidents of the B.Y.P.U. Societies of the First Baptist Church and the Douglas Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Dan Parfitt, the president of the Emmanuel B.Y.P.U., presided over the gathering. Preceding the toast list, a lively sing-song was given, led by Mr. Fred H. Parfitt. The toast to The Church was given by Miss Ethel Rhodes and responded to by Rev. M. S. Richardson, the pastor. Mr. Fred Parfitt proposed the toast to The First Baptist Church and B.Y.P.U., which was responded to by Miss Margaret Freeman.

The toast to The Douglas Street Baptist Church was proposed by Mr. Percy Milss. This was responded to by the pastor of the Douglas Street Church, Rev. F. W. MacKinnon, who also gave an inspirational address to the young people. Other items of interest on the programme included a vocal solo by Mr. J. Oatman, and a recitation by Mr. H. Zala. Miss Lilian Parfitt had charge of the recreational period.

SAANICH BANQUET

The North Saanich Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold its annual banquet at the Masonic Hall, Saanichton, on Thursday, January 28. The committee has arranged an excellent programme. There will be no speeches. Community singing and songs will be included.

LANGFORD DANCE

At a meeting of the Colwood and District Burns Club, held recently, plans were made for a leap year dance, with contests, good music and other attractions, to be held on Friday evening, February 5, at 8 o'clock, in the Colwood Hall.

Lantern services for young people will be resumed tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the Victoria Gospel Hall, 935 Pandora Avenue. They have been discontinued during the holiday season, but will now be carried on every Friday night until the end of March.

CHILDREN'S BALL NETTED $219.12

Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., Will Start Reference Library at Boys' Central School

The children's ball, held at the Empress Hotel recently by the Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., netted $219.12, it was reported at the monthly meeting of the chapter yesterday afternoon. A vote of thanks was expressed to the regent, Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, who organized the ball; to Messrs. Gordon Smith, Sidney Wood, Guy Langton and J. H. Delves for assisting with tickets at the door; to the judges, and to David Spencer, Limited, and the managers of the Dominion and Capitol Theatres for prizes.

The sum of $50 was voted to secondary education; $25, soldiers' graves; $25, Seamen's Institute; $10, Sea Cadets' Bugle Band, and The Overseas Magazine was again ordered for the Boys' Central School.

The annual meeting and election of officers will be held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Johnston, 1039 McClure Street, on February 11.

Brownies' Bowling Team

The Brownies' team of the Humbug Bowling League will be hostesses to the Berks, the Walkerites and the Cooties on Tuesday evening, January 19, at the home of Mrs. W. Dinsmore, 1048 Princess Avenue. An invitation is extended to the members who have so kindly substituted at various times to be present.

COUNTRY OF MINORITIES

Have Actual Majority in Czechoslovakia—Dissident Slovaks in Jail

By JOHN GUNTHER

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Jan. 13. — Czechoslovakia is the country where the minorities are actually the majority—that is, if you count the Slovaks as minorities, as some people do.

Of the total population of about 14,500,000, there are approximately 7,000,000 Czechs, 2,350,000 Slovaks, 3,300,000 Germans, 750,000 Hungarians, 500,000 Ruthenians, 85,000 Poles and 180,000 Jews.

The Slovaks, however, are not a serious minority issue, politically. There are a few dissident leaders, like Dr. Tuka, now in jail, but the great majority of Slovaks, rank and file alike, consider themselves "Czechoslovak," and form the integral part of the country. This is in spite of the fact that the Slovaks differ slightly in language from the Czechs, many of whom are traditionally Hussite Protestants, whereas the Slovaks are Roman Catholics. Even Dr. Hodza, the chief Slovak leader, admits that there is no question of Slovak separation; no Slovak party, not even the "autonomy party" with almost 500,000 votes, seek to disrupt the state. There is no problem at all to compare with that of Croat revolutionarism in Jugoslavia.

GERMAN MINORITY ACTIVE

Yet Czechoslovakia — bowing to the official attitude and considering Czechs and Slovaks as one—still must face the problem of the other, or true, minorities. Here is a state of about 14,500,000 people of which almost 25 per cent is solidly German—Germans who are very close to actual German frontiers. The problem of absorption of these 3,300,000 Germans is beyond doubt the dominant domestic issue of Czechoslovakia today.

From the very beginning the Government went at the minority problem with great good sense and moderation. Nothing like the crying injustices of Jewish minorities in Rumania, Ukrainian minorities in Poland, Macedonian minorities in Jugoslavia have arisen in Czechoslovakia.

CULTURAL AUTONOMY

Cultural autonomy, for instance, was accepted as a primary principle. Germans learn German, go to German schools; Hungarians learn Hungarian and Ruthenes learn Ruthene, in any district where the minority is 20 per cent of the poulation. Even Czech officials must speak the local language in such districts. Education is free. Voting is by secret ballot. The historic boundaries of the various provinces have not been altered; Moravia, Bohemia, Slovakia, Ruthenia, have each their provincial diets, with local administrative autonomy, within strictly racial frontiers. (This in contrast to the centralization effort in Jugoslavia, where the regional provinces have been artificially broken up into banats.)

The Czechs, too, as always have been lucky. The great German mass of 3,300,000 people is not a solid block, but is diffused throughout Bohemia and Silesia. There is no natural German capital (as Zagreb is the capital of Croatia) except Prague—which is also the Czech capital. The Germans have lacked focus for organization. Predominantly German towns like Karlsbad or Eger are provincial—and they stay German, with no harm done. Then again the Germans are a sensible people, not wild like some minorities. The whole country is distinguished for national tolerance.

MINORITY MEN IN CABINET

Every Czechoslovak Government since the beginning has included three or four Slovak ministers, and there have been two Germans in the Government since 1925.

The Hungarians are the worst treated of the minorities, since they form a definitely and perhaps incorrigibly alien block. But even the Hungarians have their own schools: 789 primary schools, fourteen secondary schools, five high schools.

The German complaints are mostly economic. The Czechs, they say, "are making hay while the sun shines." That is, the Czechs discriminate against the Germans in certain taxation matters (according to the Germans); big Government orders go to Czech rather than German firms; the Government keeps duties on predominantly Czech industrial products high, thus protecting them (shoes, automobiles, manufactured goods), while the duties on German products (textiles, glassware, coal), are comparatively low.

SOME OF MINOR COMPLAINTS

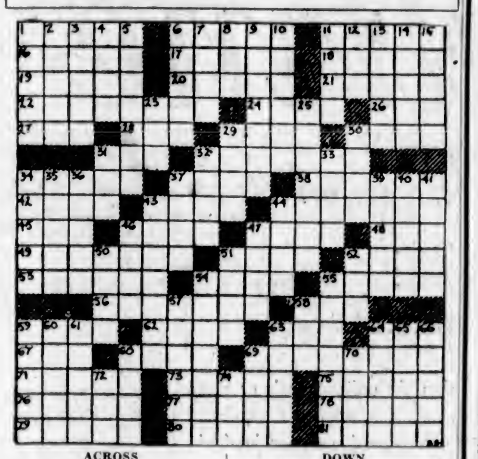

Then, too, the Germans complain of pinpricks. Thus Karlsbad is overwhelmingly German, and official business inside the town is, of course, done in German; but any time that Karlsbad communicates with Prague, a Czech town, the letters, documents, etc., must be in Czech.

Finally, the highly nationalist mayor of Prague, Dr. Baxa, has apparently overdone things a bit by trying to bar out German talking movies and by strictly enforcing the rule against German street signs. These measures may be petty, but they are seriously annoying to the 30,000 Germans (out of 670,000 Czechs) in Prague.

WITH ROYAL HOUSE 50 YEARS

After serving as groom at Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, for fifty years, William Durran has just retired. His late father joined Queen Victoria's staff as a gardener in 1848, and four of the sons and three of the daughters have served in the Royal House for a total of more than 300 years.

COMMISSIONERS WELCOME MAYOR

First Regular Session of the 1932 Police Board Held Yesterday Afternoon

At the commencement of the first meeting of the 1932 Board of Police Commissioners, held yesterday afternoon in the city police courtroom, Commissioners Dorothy North and Andrew McGavin welcomed Mayor David Leeming as chairman of the board and congratulated him on his election as the city's chief magistrate.

In reply, Mayor Leeming extended a cordial wecome to Commissioner Andrew McGavin on his re-election to the police board, and expressed the hope that the work of the commission this year would be one of peace and harmony and that the moral atmosphere of the city would be maintained.

TRAFFIC COMPLAINT

H. Van Froom wrote to the commission, alleging wrongful suspension of his driving licence by the Provincial Police authorities, for an alleged breach of the traffic regulations within the city limits. According to the letters read at yesterday's meeting, Mr. Van Froom's licence was suspended because of reckless driving on Johnson Street. He stated his car was never out of his garage on the day the offence was alleged. Commissioner McGavin questioned the right of the commissioner of Provincial Police to suspend a man's licence without trial for an offence alleged to have been committed within the city limits.

The matter was referred to the city prosecutor for investigation as to the powers of officials under the Provincial act.

WEEKLY DANCES

Commissioner North stated that it had been suggested to her the holding of weekly dances in the police hall at headquarters to assist in the relief of the unemployed. She suggested that orchestras might care to give their services once a week. Mayor Leeming pointed out the number of dance halls in the city at present having a difficult time to pay expenses. He said he did not think that civic buildings should be used in competition with places operated by taxpaying individuals or companies. Commissioner North did not press the matter and intimated she would try to get further information.

HOSPITAL ZONES

Chief Heatley was instructed to have signs made for hospital zones, warning motorists to observe quietness when within those zones. The matter was brought to the attention of the board by Commissioner North, who stated she had received information that sounding of horns and the passing and repassing of heavy trucks in the early morning hours disturbed patients.

POLICE SICK LEAVE

Mayor Leeming requested information concerning the policy of the department in regard to sick leave of members of the department. He was informed by the chief that two men were absent at the present time, one had been away for three weeks and one for four, but both would soon be returned to duty. The chief said there was no set rule as to how long a man's salary could continue while he was on sick leave. The chief will get information from other cities as to the methods adopted.

ANNUAL REVIEW OF UNIT HELD

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown Inspects Machine Gun Battalion—Compliments All Ranks

The annual general inspection of "A" Company, 11th Machine Gun Battalion, C.M.G.C., under the command of Major W. A. R. Hadley, took place at the Armories on Tuesday. The district officer commanding, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O. and his staff, Colonel E. W. Pope, C.M.G., and Major R. O. G. Morton were met on arrival by the battalion commander, Lieutenant-Colonel C. E. Ball, V.D.

The company was inspected in infantry drill and afterwards in its various technical branches—machine gun drill, under Lieutenants J. H. Maunsell and W. V. T. Allen, and signalling under Sergeant G. Latham. The brigadier then addressed the company and complimented all ranks on their work, especially infantry drill. He also remarked on the numbers on parade and their appearance.

The company was judged on its work for possession of a cup presented by the Canadian Infantry Association for competition between the three companies of the battalion located at Victoria, Vancouver and Mission, and is hopeful of bringing the cup to Victoria for the first time. For the past three years the local company has won the shield presented for Vickers machine gun drill in competition with gun teams from the Mainland.

Wreckage of Crack Flyer After Slide

View of Wreckage After Engine and Baggage Car of the Kansas City Railway's Train "Flying Crow," Northbound to Kansas City, Left the Rails and Plunged Into the Sallisaw River. A Landslide Is Said to Have Been the Cause. No Passengers or Members of the Crew Were Injured.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S VERDICT

DUNCAN, Jan. 14.—A verdict of "accidental death, with no blame attached to the train crew," was brought in here this afternoon at a coroner's inquest on Harry George, Indian, who was killed on the track by an E. & N. freight train on Tuesday night.

"Why don't you call me a donkey and have done with it?" snorted Cutbill angrily. "You've hinted the same thing long enough."

"It wouldn't be quite true," answered his wife just as angrily.

"I suppose my ears are not long enough to resemble that animal?" he retorted sarcastically.

"Oh, yes, they are," she returned sweetly. "It isn't longer ears you need, Mr. Cutbill."

"What do I need then?"

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

"Let's away, Rover!" said I, putting on my walking paraphernalia. "Out to the dales and glens!"

"How about your story on 'Women's Dress'?" said he.

"That can wait awhile," said I. "It isn't every day that I am in the humor for dales and glens, and the sun's out, the air's balmy and I'm in love with all the world!"

So, off we went.

Have you ever rambled along the beautiful waterfront at View Royal? Or stumbled over the rocks and meandered along the golden strand at Queenswood? Or have you ever lost your way amongst the tangled underbrush on the heights around Prospect Lake? You have, eh? Then you are in luck, in clover, and in all the other forms of jolly good fortune!

So have we, many's the time. But today we just refuse to go any one of the many lovely old haunts that have charmed us heretofore. No, siree!

We will hike out from the end of a bus line you all know, and, taking a rugged, straggly and slightly muddy path through the virgin woodlands, we shall find a log, a moss-covered and rather decrepit old log, by the side of a wee pool, where is a fine view of still water, for it has no outlet, and sit under trees that long since have shed their Autumn leaves but are about to sprout again as soon as it is right and proper to do so; and we shall sit, Rover, by the hour in this glorious January sunshine and contemplate the most retired, secluded peaceful scene in all the lovely dales and glens we know, which are to be counted in their hundreds if you know where to look for them.

But you must revere Nature's secrets and keep them safe-locked in your bosom (or wherever you keep your most sacred, mental and spiritual impressions), as you sit on an old decrepit log and day dream, in quiet and countryside restfulness, of days gone by, at hand, or to be; and, maybe, of someone who can sing, does sing, and will sing to thee.

All fine days, all happy moments come to an end!

It is time to retrace our steps, to catch the bus at the turning of the road and where we entered the pathway to our little quiet retreat and so, to home!

AT DAY-DUSK!

The day-dusk qulvers o'er the dale,
When Nature seeks her rest;
And round the hills a mazy veil
Winds to each pine-clad crest.

The afterglow of Winter's sun
Shimmers and dies away,
Then Day and Night melt into one
Grand robe of orange-grey.

While evening zephers gently blow,
Midst solemn, softening light;
The sunset dyes the glistening snow—

THEFT CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

George Richardson and Garnet George Rose, operators of a launch named Miner's Bay, were charged in the Provincial Police court with breaking and entering a house on Saltspring Island and were committed for trial by Magistrate George Jay.

Constable D. O. Tweedhope and Corporal A. D. I. Mustart made the arrest at Burgoyne Bay, near where the robbery is alleged to have been committed.

Articles stolen from the house were recovered by the officers and produced in court. The house was owned by Bert Lemon, of Victoria, and the articles taken from the place included twenty-five cans of fruits and vegetables, three coats, two Indian sweaters, a camera and small household furnishings.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Runty Bides His Time

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

He must his feelings also hide
Who patiently his time doth bide.
—Old Mother Nature.

All this Runty, the little Possum whom Black Pussy had caught, was finding out for himself. He was learning much and learning it fast, was Runty. But it wasn't comfortable nor in any way at all pleasant. In fact it was a terrible scary way of learning a lesson. However, some lessons are best learned that way. They are the ones least likely to be forgotten.

It was one thing to watch Unc' Billy Possum fool Flip the Terrier by playing dead, and quite another thing to actually be the one who was trying to fool an enemy. It was one thing to practise playing dead and wholly a different matter to be playing dead for his life. There could be no mistakes now. Just the least little mistake might cost him his life.

Now Runty knew just what he should do. He should play dead, but also he should bide his time and watch for a chance to escape. There would be just as much folly in letting such an opportunity pass as there would be in letting Black Pussy know that he was still alive. So Runty, lying there looking as dead as a dead Possum could look, was all the time very much alive and very much awake.

So up the tree Runty scrambled, and he did it in a hurry.

"Ah must watch out fo' mah chance," he kept saying over and over to himself.

Now Black Pussy wasn't hungry. he hadn't caught Runty because she wanted him to eat, at least not right away. She loves to hunt and that is why she had caught him. Had she been very hungry, playing dead would have done Runty no good; she would have eaten him at once. But not being hungry, Black Pussy was undecided what to do. She wanted to take Runty home to show Farmer Brown's Boy what a smart hunter she was, and she wanted to hunt some more. Which should she do? There she sat trying to make up her mind, Runty lying at her feet.

It was the rustling of a leaf off to one side that decided the matter. Runty heard it, too, and wondered who it could be, but of course he didn't dare even open his eyes to look. Black Pussy's tail began to twitch. She crouched low and presently began to steal very slowly, very softly, very carefully in the direction from which the sound of rustling leaves came. Runty opened an eye just enough to see her and keep watch of her. He suspected that his chance was coming.

Farther and farther from him Black Pussy moved. She had forgotten all about him. She was filled with the excitement of the hunt and had no thought for anything else. Very, very slowly Runty rolled over and got to his feet. His eyes were wide open now and there was nothing dead appearing about him. He was a very much alive young Possum. Where should he go? He must find a safe place before Black Pussy's return. He knew of no hiding place near. There was no convenient hole, no hollow log or stump, no pile of brush under which to crawl. There wasn't even a tangle of brambles. To try to escape by running would be useless, for Black Pussy's legs were much, oh very much longer, and he couldn't hope to outrun her.

Runty got behind a tree. He looked up. It wasn't a very big tree. Should he climb it? He couldn't make up his mind until he heard Black Pussy returning. It had been Jumper the Hare who had rustled the leaves, and Black Pussy had lost interest at once. She would take that young Possum home. So she had turned back just as Runty had dodged behind that tree. When he heard her returning his mind was made up for him. That tree offered the only possible means of escape. Perhaps Black Pussy could not climb. You see this was his first meeting with Black Pussy and he knew nothing about Cats.

So up the tree Runty scrambled and he did it in a hurry.

"SHE'LL never raise him!" whispered the neighbors behind their hands—and indeed it looked like it, for Baby Jim was a tiny mite and didn't thrive on his bottle.

Then his Mother tried Eagle Brand, and to everyone's astonishment Baby Jim ceased fretting and began to gain steadily. Grandfather now lays claim to his wonderful disposition—but his mother smiles quietly and remembers Eagle Brand.

Eagle Brand has reared countless thousands of infants to maturity over a period of 74 years. Experience has proved that it is a reliable, safe and an entirely satisfactory food where the mother is unable to nurse her own baby. Write for Baby Welfare and Record Book.

There is only 1 Ovaltine

The scientific product of a world famous laboratory

WHEN YOU ASK FOR OVALTINE, BE SURE YOU GET IT

AT times when you ask for Ovaltine you may be offered one of the numerous malt or cocoa drinks that are claimed to be Ovaltine's equal.

These malt or cocoa drinks will be offered you, very probably, with these words: "Just as good as Ovaltine and cheaper".

Let us deal with this "Just-as-good" feature, first.

To begin with, Ovaltine is made from NEW-LAID EGGS, FRESH CREAMY MILK and MALT EXTRACT—the very best of Nature's nourishing and restorative foods.

Be certain that any cocoa or malt drinks stated to be the equal of Ovaltine contain new-laid eggs, not DRIED EGGS; fresh milk, not DRIED MILK, and malt extract, not POWDERED MALT. The latter does not exert the same nourishing or digestive power as MALT EXTRACT.

Secondly, there is the matter of scientific manufacturing process.

There is nothing haphazard about Ovaltine. It was scientifically conceived and is made by a highly-scientific process, one that took years to perfect; one that is exclusive to the world famous Wander laboratories.

It is the scientific process that extracts all the nourishment from the choice ingredients of Ovaltine without losing one iota of their natural goodness.

By this same process these ingredients are blended in such a way as to be in perfect proportion one towards another. Capable of being instantly digested and assimilated. Capable also of digesting several times their own weight of other foods.

Ovaltine gives you ALL the essential vitamins, the proteins, carbohydrates, fats and mineral salts in correct ratio and proper balance—the only form of concentrated nourishment that can justly be called a PERFECT FOOD.

There is a world of difference between CHEAP and INEXPENSIVE.

Frankly, Ovaltine DOES cost slightly more than the ordinary malt or cocoa drinks; but it returns you wonderful value in super-nourishment—value far in excess of the extra cost. Ovaltine is more than a delicious beverage. It is a proved builder of vitality and strength . . without a superior anywhere in the world.

Ovaltine contains no excess sugar—a fact that mothers should keep in mind. Children's teeth and stomachs are harmed by too much cane sugar. You can sweeten Ovaltine to suit the taste. Ovaltine is not fattening and does not promote sleep after meals, although the world's best night-cap for promoting dreamless, restful, natural sleep.

Ovaltine is in no sense "medicinal"—yet it has won the endorsement of doctors the wide world over. Ask your own doctor. He knows how excellent Ovaltine is for:

Children, Bad Nerves, Sleeplessness, Expectant and Nursing Mothers, Convalescents, Diet of Old Folk, and as a General Family Beverage to further Health and Happiness.

"Ovaltine," The Supreme Tonic Food Beverage, Builds-up Brain, Nerve and Body. It is obtainable at all stores, in air-tight tins—50c, 75c, $1.25 and $4.50 (special family size).

BIG MONEY

by P. G. Wodehouse

CHAPTER IX

In the car which was following Lord Biskerton there had at first reigned a silence broken only by the whirring of the engines as Ann's shapely foot bore down on the accelerator. It was not until the Kingston bypass had been reached that its two occupants substituted talk for meditation. Each had begun the journey borne down by weight of thought, and each had good reason to think.

Ann was a conscientious girl. Indeed, her conscience, the legacy of a long line of New England ancestors, had always had an unpleasant habit of spoiling for her many of the more attractive happenings of life. It had clawed her in the restaurant. It now bit her. It was a conscience that seemed to possess all the least likable qualities of a wildcat.

She could not deceive herself. Here was essentially an honest nature, and she was well aware that, having pledged herself to marry Lord Biskerton, she had limited the scope of her actions. As, for instance, catching the eye of strange young men in restaurants. As, for further instance, thinking long and earnestly about a strange young man whose eye she had caught in a restaurant and wishing she could get to know him. And, for a final instance, allowing such a young man to leap into her car and initiate what, despite its grim, official, Secret Service nature, Conscience persisted in describing as a joy ride.

"Don't talk to me about the call to duty," said Conscience, in its worst New England manner. "You're liking it."

She Reached Out and Gave the Beard a Hearty Tweak. As She Did So She Chuckled Merrily. It Was the Last Chuckle She Was to Utter for Days and Days.

And Ann had to admit that she was.

If the possession of parents with a great deal of money and a high social position has a defect, it is that it involves on a girl a rather sheltered and conventional life. Ann's, ever since she was old enough to remember, had been lived in a luxurious and somewhat narrow groove. A finishing school at Paris, a series of seasons in New York, winters at Palm Beach or Aiken, summers in Maine or at Southampton.... A cramping existence for a romantic soul.

The men she knew were well groomed, handsome, polite, but — well, ordinary. Of a pattern. Sometimes she had to collect herself to remember which was which. This one beside her was something new.

Nevertheless, it was quite wrong of her—and she knew that it was quite wrong—to feel this extraordinary fluttering sensation. So Ann drove on, and her conscience clawed her abominably.

As for Berry, he still felt he had done the right thing. Looking back, he could find nothing in his conduct to deplore. Had he not acted as he had done, this wonderful girl would have passed out of his life forever.

Nevertheless, like an enthusiastic but ill-advised sportsman in the jungles of India who has caught a tiger by the tail, he was feeling that he was all right so far, but that his next move would require careful thought.

And so, wrapped in silence, the car turned into the Kingston bypass. The other car was bowling rapidly ahead.

Berry was the first to break the silence.

"This is most awfully good of you," he said.

"Oh, no," said Ann.

"Oh, yes."

"Oh, no."

"Oh, but it is," said Berry.

"Oh, but it isn't," said Ann.

"Well, all I can say," said Berry, "is that I think it's most awfully good of you."

These polite exchanges seemed to diminish the tension. Berry began to breathe again, and Ann went so far as to take an excited eye off the road and flash it at his face. Seen in profile, that face appealed to her strongly. Strenuous exercise and a sober life had given Berry rather a good profile, lean and hard-looking. There were little muscles over his cheekbones and a small white scar in front of the ear which had an attractive and exciting aspect. A bullet graze, Ann knew, would cause a scar just like that.

"Most girls would have been scared stiff," said Berry.

"Well, I was."

"Yes," said Berry, with rising enthusiasm. "But you didn't hesitate. You didn't falter. You took the situation in in a second and were off like a flash."

"Who is he?" asked Ann breathlessly, peering through the windshield at the flying two-seater. "Or," she added, "mustn't you say?"

Berry would have preferred not to say, but the owner of a commandeered car has certain rights.

"I think," he said, "he is the Sniffer."

"The Sniffer?" Ann's voice was a squeak. "What Sniffer? How do you mean the Sniffer? Who is the Sniffer?"

"The head of the great cocaine ring. They call him the Sniffer. If, that is to say, he is the man I suppose. He may be a perfectly innocent person——"

"Oh, I hope not."

"——who has the misfortune to resemble one of the most dangerous criminals at present in the country. But I feel sure it's the man himself."

There was silence for a moment. Then Ann drew a deep breath.

"I suppose all this seems ordinary to you," she said. "But I'm just quivering like an aspen. You take it as just a matter of course, I suppose?"

Young men in Old England do not possess New England consciences. There is the Nonconformist conscience, but Berry was not subject even to that. He replied not only steadily but with a quiet smile.

"Well, of course, it is all in the day's work," he said.

"Well!" said Ann.

It was a personal question, she felt, but she could keep it in no longer.

"How did you get that scar?" she asked breathlessly.

"Scar?"

"There's a little white scar just in front of your ear. Was that caused by a bullet that grazed you?"

Berry swallowed painfully. Girls bring these things on themselves, he felt. Look at Othello and Desdemona. Othello hadn't dreamed of saying all that stuff until the girl dragged it out of him. Othello knew perfectly well that when he talked of the Cannibals that each other eat and the men whose heads do grow beneath their shoulders he was piling it on. But what could he do?

"It was," said Berry, and felt that from now on nothing mattered.

"Goo!" said Ann. "It must have come pretty close."

"It would have come closer," said Berry, his better self definitely dead, "if I had fired a second later. I saw his hand go to his pocket—"

"Whose hand?"

"Jack Molloy's. It was when I was rounding up the Molloy gang of firebugs. The Chief sent me there to spy out the ground, but my beard came off——"

"I don't think I should like you in a beard," said Ann critically.

"I never wear one," Berry hastened to explain, "unless I'm rounding up a gang."

"How many gangs have you rounded up?"

"I forget."

"It must be very interesting work, rounding up gangs."

"Oh, it is."

"Look," said Ann. "The Sniffer's gone into that inn."

"Waiting?"

"I'm going in after him."

"Well, can't I come, too?"

"No. There may be unpleasantness."

Ann sighed.

"Oh, very well. Have you got your gun?"

"Yes."

"Well, have it ready," said Ann, "and don't fire till you see the whites of his eyes."

Berry disappeared. He walked, Ann thought, just like a bloodhound. Leaning back against the warm leather, she gave herself up to delicious meditation.

It was the first time anything of this kind had happened to Ann Moon. Never before had she been even in so much as a night-club raid.

And then suddenly in the midst of her ecstacy something hard and sharp dug into the roots of her soul.

The saloon bar of the Jolly Harvesters at the moment of Lord Biskerton's entry was unoccupied save by a robust lady in black satin.

By the time he had quaffed a quarter of a pint of Surrey ale, relations of cordial intimacy had been established between his hostess and himself.

"Why ever do you wear that beard?" she asked.

"It's the only one I've got," said the Biscuit.

"Don't you like it?"

"Do you know what I'd have done, if you had come in here a few years ago when everybody was doing it?"

"What?"

"I'd have said 'Beaver!' and gone like this."

She reached out and gave the beard a hearty tweak. As she did so, she chuckled merrily.

It was the last chuckle she was to utter for days and days. Indeed, many people say that she was never quite herself again. Berry, turning the door handle at that moment, stood transfixed as a piercing scream smote his ears. It sounded like part of a murder. He snatched the door open, and once more stood transfixed.

Behind the counter, holding a beard of imperial cut in her hand, stood a barmaid. In front of the counter, also ill at ease, stood his old school friend, Lord Biskerton. Barry stared.

The next moment the picture in still life had dissolved. Snatching the beard from the barmaid, the Biscuit replaced it hurriedly on his face. And the barmaid, uttering a long, whistling sigh, fell over sideways in a swoon.

The Biscuit wishing to be elsewhere, bounded toward the door, saw Berry, and stopped in midstride.

"Biscuit!" cried Berry.

"Oh, my God!" said Lord Biskerton.

He seized Berry by the arm and hurried him along the passage. Only when they were in the privacy of the stable yard, concealed from view by the stone wall, did he pause for speech.

"What on earth are you doing here, Berry?"

"What are you?"

"I was on my way to Sandown. What brought you here?"

"I followed you to see what you were up to."

"How do you mean, up to?"

"Well, dash it," said Berry, "when you go charging about all over London and the home counties in a long beard . . ."

The Biscuit was registering deep concern.

"Do you mean to say," he faltered, shaken, "that you recognized me all along?"

It was not for Berry to dispel this idea.

"Of course I recognized you," he said stoutly.

"You mean, right from the start, directly I spoke to you?"

"Of course. I was just humoring you, old ass. What was the idea?"

"Well, all I can say is," said the Biscuit, "this opens up a new line of thought. I bought that beard to deceive my creditors. There's a whole pack of them baying on my trail, and I thought that if I could assume some impenetrable disguise I could go about London undetected. But you saw through the thing at once?"

"In a flash."

"Then what it comes to," said Lord Biskerton despondently, "is that I shall have to leave the metropolis after all. I daren't risk being jerked before a tribunal and having my financial condition X-rayed in a county court. I must lie low somewhere. But good Lord! How am I to explain?"

"Explain?"

"Well, dash it, I shall have to give some explanation. I've just got engaged to be married. My fiancee will be a little surprised, won't she, if I vanish off the map without a word?"

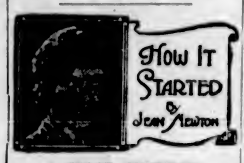

"I never thought of that," said Berry.

Pet Eagle Makes Ocean Voyage

A "MOOT QUESTION"

"Why," asks one of our readers, "do people call something that is always being argued about a "moot question?"

Properly, a "moot" question is one that is debatable—that is, something that is questionable or undecided. And that takes us into the field of erudition.

For this "moot" is traced all the way back to the Middle English "mot" and its original meaning, "to discuss in assembly." That comes from the Anglo-Saxons, with whom "moot," originally "mot," was the assembly of meeting.

What Today Means

"CAPRICORN"

If January 15 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 4:15 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. to 11:35 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9:35 a.m. and from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The influences in operation on January 15 appear to be fortunate in nearly all respects. Young people, especially women, will have friendships thrown in their way, which might be turned to advantage. The man of business may, with safety, attempt the extension of his interests.

Children born on this January 15 will have temperamental dispositions, and it is never known how they will react to anything. They will be full of vim and "go" and will always want to be on the move. They will be fairly thorough in their work, but will not have the patience for details.

Born January 15, your [illegible] whatever it may be, is the controlling factor in your life. If you be a man, you seldom discard your business mentality, and it is hard for you to adopt your mind and conversation to subjects on which you do not generally hold forth. You do not like to meet new people or to be drawn out of your shell. You know little about the art of leisure, and one seldom glimpses your holiday self.

If you be a woman, you live intensely. You throw your whole being into whatever your are doing at the moment. You extract much from life, and you put much into it. You are hearty in your pleasures, extreme in your griefs, and thorough in your work. You are not miserly and spend what you have to spend without regret or worry—now and then you are even a little reckless. You are affectionate and demonstrative. You are outspoken, and friends and enemies alike know what your true feelings are.

There is a likelihood of more than one love affair or marriage. The position of the stars favors your material welfare more than the affairs of the heart. Considerable travel and changes of environment are shown. Legacies are shown from unexpected quarters.

Statistics Show More Employed Than Decade Ago

OTTAWA, Jan. 14 (CP).—Employment in Canada during 1931, says a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was generally higher than for the six-year period of 1921 to 1926, although lower than in the last four years. Returns made to the bureau showed a monthly average of 927,485 workers during 1931. With 1926 taken as 100, the following index numbers were computed: 1931, 102.5; 1930, 113.4; 1929, 119; 1928, 116.6; 1927, 104.6, and 1921, 88.8.

STUDY NEW RAIL CAR COSTS

Regular schedules have now been established for oil-electric rail cars on the branch and outlying railroad lines around Newcastle, England. Savings in fuel and operating costs are being closely studied. The rail car, which is run by electricity, can carry sixty passengers and their baggage, while the trailer can carry eighty or ninety additional.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Now two sizes 60c—$1.25. (adv.)

NEW Chipso SPEED FLAKES!

The grandest soap you can imagine for the family wash—one soap that does the work of two.

Chipso speed flakes are a new—a different kind of soap, so new that only a short time ago no one thought they could be made.

They dissolve in tepid water without gumming or sticking . . . They give lightning-fast suds that go after motor grease, soot, railroad grime, road dust, all stubborn dirt—you get beautiful white clothes without hard rubbing.

But Chipso speed-suds are as safe as rain-water for your sheerest stockings, the baby's shirts and bands, your prettiest silk underwear, fleecy blankets and all the things that need gentle care.

You'll find that these speed flakes will lengthen the life of all your clothes, will protect colors, and save your hands. Wonderful for dishes.

Your grocer has the new Chipso now in big boxes that guarantee real economy.

"QUICK like lightning GENTLE like rain"

ADRIFT FOR MANY YEARS

Bottle Picked Up Last Fall Cast Overboard in September of 1895

The finding of a bottle in August last on the Australian coast, which had been thrown overboard from the clipper ship Patriarch on September 20, 1895, by the master, Captain Mark Breach, was referred to in the Australian newspapers recently. The bottle had thus been drifting for thirty-six years, and was found twenty miles north of Kingston, in the Coorong, lying on the water line.

The bottle contained two pieces of paper, one of which gave the name of the ship, ninety-one days out from London, bound for Sydney, and stated that it was thrown overboard in a position 39 degrees 18 minutes south latitude — roughly about 500 miles southwest of Port Adelaide—with a view to ascertaining the drift of the current. The finder was asked to forward the paper to the Meteorological Society, Lloyd's, or the Nautical Magazine.

WEATHER FINE

The other paper in the bottle contained similar information, with the addition that the weather was fine, with a light wind from the southeast, and requesting that the finder should forward it to Clement L. Wragge, Chief Weather Bureau, Brisbane.

The Patriarch was one of the famous sailing ships of the Aberdeen-White Star Line, built in 1869, at a cost of £24,000, and was considered to be the finest iron ship in the world. She had a consistent record of good passages in the Australian trade, and Captain Mark Breach was among a number of famous sailing ship masters who commanded the ship at different times. In 1898 the Patriarch was sold to Norwegians, and ultimately went ashore on Cape Corrientes, south of the River Plate, on February 23, 1912, becoming a total wreck.

EQUIPMENT INSTALLED

Super-Wireless Station Near Steveston Will Soon Be Operating

Over on the Fraser River delta land, near Steveston, the super-wireless plant of the radiotelegraph branch of the Federal Department of Marine, is rapidly nearing completion. The equipment has all been installed, and the telephone connections are now being made.

When in operation, this latest addition to the very effective service which the Canadian marine authorities already control on this Coast will be as powerful as any along the Pacific seaboard; and shipping fitted with short wave wireless apparatus will be able to keep in touch during the entire crossing of the Pacific. It is believed that vessels proceeding to Australia will be able to receive messages from the station as far away as Sydney.

The new station will be operated by remote control, the office being located in the city of Vancouver, from where all business will be transmitted. E. J. Haughton, divisional superintendent of the service is now on the Mainland, where he was met by W. J. Rush, of Ottawa, general superintendent of the radiograph department. Together they are inspecting the progress of the installation.

Elevator for Windsor

WINDSOR, Jan. 14 (CP).—A million and a half dollar grain elevator project for Windsor is under way with the announcement today that a contract has been given to the Fegles Construction Company, of Fort William, for building a 2,000,000-bushel elevator and a large warehouse, each with separate dock, on the river front at the westerly limits of the city. Construction is expected to start about March 1.

REPORTS PREMATURE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—Reports that 20,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been sold to France were described as premature in export circles today. It was said that although France might be in the market later for a limited quantity of wheat, she was waiting for favorable prices.

LOOKING FOR BETTER DAYS

Report of West Coast Lumbermen's Association Is Somewhat Optimistic

With lumber sales greater than production, business by 224 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, presented a somewhat optimistic outlook. Owing to the holiday period, lumber production during the first week of this year did not opertate at full capacity, while shipments during this period were 58.7 per cent over production and accounted for a decrease in unfilled orders. The shipments totaled 55,188,493 feet, exceeding the output by 29.80 per cent.

Orders from the rail trade increased approximately 2,500,000 feet, but inquiries from the domestic cargo and export market showed slight decreases from the preceding week, according to figures compiled by the association.

From a list of 343 mills, operations for the week ending January 2 were only maintained at 16.3 per cent of capacity as compared with 17.2 per cent for the preceding week, and 22.6 per cent for the same week last year. During the year 1931 these mills have operated at an average of 36.8 per cent of capacity, showing a remarkable decrease from the 1930 total of 52.9 per cent.

During the week ended December 26, 229 of these plants were reported as closed down and 114 were operating. Those operating reported production as 37.4 per cent of their group capacity.

REGULATIONS ARE APPROVED

Federal Minister of Marine Advises Bridge Company of Decision

NORTH VANCOUVER, Jan. 14 (CP).—Shipping regulations governing navigation at Second Narrows have been approved by order-in-council, according to word received this morning by Percy Ward, secretary of Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Co., from Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine. No further particulars were received.

Approval of the regulations opens the way for financing repairs to Second Narrows bridge. The project was held up until assent of the Governor-in-Council was obtained.

It is expected that negotiations will commence immediately to obtain funds to replace the span which was carried away by ship collision in September, 1930.

STRANGE VISION OF SHIP MASTER

Retired Captain of the Wanderer Saw the Famous Ship Go to Destruction

Captain John Brander, one of the last of the old guard of sailing ship masters, and who figured in John Masefield's "The Wanderer," passed away at Weymouth in November, of last year.

The Wanderer was the name of a four-master that sailed out of Liverpool forty-odd years ago, with Captain Brander as master. In 1907, when living in retirement at Weymouth, Captain Brander woke up one night shouting that he had seen the Wanderer go to destruction. It was the very night that the Wanderer was rammed by a German vessel off the mouth of the Elbe and sunk.

Captain Brander told Mr. Masefield afterwards: "I saw the Wanderer at anchor. I saw her anchor-light burning. I felt the crushing of her plates and heard the inrush of water, and I saw the crew leave the ship." All this actually happened at the time of the captain's dream.

TAKES CONTROL OF R.K.O. STOCK

Radio Corporation to Advance Ten Millions to Meet Bond Payments

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—By completing arrangements to advance $10,000,000 to the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation to meet payments of its maturing debenture bonds, majority control of R.K.O's. capital will pass to the Radio Corporation of America, it was revealed today.

Other stockholders of R.K.O., it was stated, failed to exercise their rights under a refinancing plan announced several weeks ago. As a result, they were penalized 75 per cent of their stock equity, under the plan. By advancing the necessary money, Radio Corporation will increase its interest in R.K.O. from 9 per cent to 66 per cent of R.K.O.'s capital stock.

The Queen has attracted much attention in London lately by the quantity of "new" jewelry she has been wearing. It has just been announced that the gems are old, many of them antedating the Queen's birth. She inherited a quantity of beautiful jewelry from Queen Victoria and these gems she has had reset.

A Man Without a Country

CONVICTED by court-martial of treason to his country, Major George Varzaru (bareheaded), a Rumanian army officer, is shown as he was branded as a man without a country. Colonel Pella, commandant of the army barracks at Malmaison, near Bucharest, is breaking the degraded officer's sword across his knee after having stripped him of all his insignia. Varzaru and four comrades were cashiered from the army and banished from Rumania for trading secrets to foreign powers. The entire corps of soldiers witnessed the degradation.

Low Water in Lake Champlain Reveals Old Hulk

TICONDEROGA, N.Y., Jan. 14 (AP).—Low water in recent months has brought to light an old hulk, reputed to be that of the United States row-galley Trumbull, sunk in Lake Champlain in 1777. The battered hull can be seen near the surface of the lake, just off shore from Fort Ticonderoga.

The Trumbull was seventy-six feet long and carried forty-five men and three guns. Commanded by Colonel Wigglesworth, she was one of three vessels that survived the defeat of Benedict Arnold by the British under Sir Guy Carleton and Captain Pringle. The other survivors were the Revenge and the Enterprise.

COAST LINER DOCKED HERE

From California ports, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Ss. Emma Alexander docked at Rithet Piers shortly before 10 o'clock last night, and after disembarking Island and Mainland passengers and discharging local cargo, left for Seattle at midnight.

Inbound from Orient ports, the Blue Funnel liner Ss. Ixion was due alongside Rithet Piers about 4 o'clock this morning, according to A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated, local agents for the company. The Ixion has cargo and some steerage passengers for the port. On the completion of business here, the ship will proceed to Vancouver.

From California ports, the Kingsley Navigation Company's freighter Ss. Texada berthed at Ogden Point Piers at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with freight for local discharge. Completing business here, the Texada departed for Mainland ports.

Progress on the alterations to the Ss. Princess Adelaide, of the B.C. Coast fleet, is proceeding favorably; and it is expected by officials of the firm that the vessel will be ready to hand over to Canadian Pacific Steamships early in February. Waiting the arrival of a five-ton casting, which is required to be on hand before repairs can be started on the Ss. Princess Norah, no work has yet been started on the ship by Messrs. Yarrows, Limited, who have the contract for repairing the vessel.

TREASURE OF FURS SOUGHT

Pilot Claims Baychimo Abandoned—Will Try to Locate Ship

PORTLAND, Jan. 14 (AP).—A lost treasure of furs, valued at $1,500,000, is the reward sought by William R. Graham, Alaska flyer, who paused here today en route to the frozen North. Graham said he will use his specially-constructed plane in a search for the steamer Baychimo, which is frozen fast in the Arctic ice, somewhere south of Point Barrow.

The flyer said the ship was abandoned by the Hudson's Bay Company when it became icebound, and he intends to exercise salvage rights, if he can find it.

HARD TO FIND

The ice packs are said to have shifted the position of the ship considerably since it was deserted last October. Graham believes the vessel must now be covered with snow. To add further to the complications, observation will be difficult in the half-light of the Arctic.

Graham will make Wainwright, Alaska, his base for the flight. Before flying operations start he will attempt to calculate the drift of the ice packs. The flyer recently received a contract to carry mail between Nome and Unalakleet. He has flown in Alaska since 1929.

LOCAL TALENT PRESENTS SHOW

Beautiful Production to Be Put On by the Victoria Boy Scouts' Association at the Shrine Hall—Over 150 Victoria Artistes Will Take Part

"The Magic Carpet," which the Victoria Boy Scouts' Association will produce at the Shrine Auditorium on February 5 and 6, will be a very attractive and beautiful show. Many of Victoria's most talented and well-known people will take part and are now very busy with their rehearsals. Mrs. Sydney Barker, who will be responsible for a number of scenes, is presenting one entitled "The Home of the Magic Carpet," a spectacular Eastern scene, portraying the courtyard in the palace of an Oriental potentate. There, surrounded by beautiful dancing girls, waited on by dusky slaves and with all the glamour of the East, the carpet boy offers his wondrous rugs. With appropriate singing and dancing, this scene will be one of the most beautiful attractions in the production.

The whole performance promises a very distinctive and ambitious effort on the part of over 150 local artists who will be taking part. The production is under the management of Mr. Sydney Oliver.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14 (CP).—North German Lloyd Ss. Justin is delayed by rough weather and will not arrive here until Friday. She expects to reach Race Rocks at 9 o'clock tonight, according to a wireless report received by Dodwell & Co., agents for the line.

The little steamer, Myra, which arrived a few days ago from the Great Lakes, via Panama Canal, will sail for the East Coast on Monday. The ship brought 1,500 tons of Eastern Canadian cargo and will carry at least that much back. Today she is loading flour at terminal dock for Eastern Canadian ports. Later she will move to New Westminster to load freight for St. Pierre et Miquelon.

DISAPPEARANCE IS MYSTIFYING

Oil Company's Attendant Vanishes From Post—Was Trusted Employee

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14 (CP).—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of L. G. Bond, attendant, whose absence from the Imperial Oil Company's scow in Coal Harbor, where he is employed, was discovered by W. E. Haley, relief attendant, at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Haley rowed out to the scow to take over his duties from Bond and discovered the stateroom empty and the light burning. No trace of Bond was to be seen, and it was stated that the rowboat used by the attendant had disappeared.

Bond was previously employed as relief man for the Imperial Oil Company's scows, but had been out of work some time. He was again placed on the payroll some three days ago. It is stated that Bond was well liked and trusted by officials of the company, who took the first opportunity available to give him steady employment.

At the Theatres

DOMINION THEATRE Ruth St. Denis, recognized as a "first lady" of dance, and a premiere danseuse internationally famous, staged the Cambodian dances which lend an exotic atmosphere to one of the scenes in "The Cheat." This Paramount edition of a famous silent hit, in which a beautiful woman flirts with disgrace, is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, with Tallulah Bankhead in the leading role.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Buck Jones, who plays the leading role in "The Range Feud," Columbia Western, showing today and tomorrow at the Columbia Theatre, had no stage or screen experience previous to his memorable debut as star rider in a rodeo show in England. It was after he had been discharged from the United States fighting air force at the close of the war. Since that time he has appeared either as star or featured player in about fifty pictures, and he is destined for many more as he is signed to a long-term contract by Columbia Pictures.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Josephine Dunn, the platinum haired blonde who appears in the only important feminine role in "Air Police," the latest Thrill-o-Drama now being presented at the Playhouse Theatre, is another alumna of Florenz Ziegfeld's famous training school for screen stars. Born in New York and educated at the Sacred Heart Convent in that city, Miss Dunn was among the first of the Paramount "junior stars" and later was a contract player with M.G.M.

EMPIRE THEATRE Described as the most beautiful screen production yet to eminate from British studios, "The Chinese Bungalow," with the great English actor, Matheson Lang, is drawing crowded houses to the Empire. It is no exaggeration to say that Matheson Lang's dramatic art in this picture version of his biggest stage success is superb and he is fortunate to be supported by a delightful cast composed of Jill Esmond Moore, recently seen here with Ruth Chatterton, Ann Neagle and Ballard Berkley.

MYSTERY THRILLER COMING TO CAPITOL

Following his excellent dramatic performance in "Seed," John Boles appears in another nonsinging role, that of Victor in Universal's "Frankenstein," which comes to the Capitol on Monday next. Colin Clive, Mae Clarke, Boris Karloff, Dwight Frye, Edward Van Sloan and Frederick Kerr complete the cast of the thriller, which is based upon the Shelley story of a mad young scientist who created human life.

CRITICS PRAISE WORK OF ENGLISH COMEDIAN

On the last appearance in England of Harry Thurston, England's great character comedian, The London Times had the following to say:

"Harry Thurston was responsible for the cabaret performance presented at the Savoy Hotel last evening during the dinner tendered to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, who was the guest of honor of the Society of Associated American Press Representatives in Great Britain. Turn after turn followed one another with lightning rapidity; the high spot of the evening was Mr. Thurston's spontaneous wit as master of ceremonies.

BRITISH PLAYERS TO APPEAR JANUARY 25

The dgbut of Sir Barry Jackson's company of British players will be made here at the Royal Victoria Theatre during the week commencing Monday, January 25, when this famous aggregation of artists will present two outstanding plays from their repertoire of London successes.

The first will be Rudolf Besier's romantic drama of the Brownings, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," which will be presented for the first four days of the week with a matinee on Wednesday. Wherever this play has been presented, it has established new records in Canada, and is still running in its second year at the Queen's Theatre, London, under Sir Barry's management.

For Friday and Saturday, with a matinee on Saturday, that rollicking comedy of a Devon fishing village, "Yellow Sands," the combined efforts of Eden and Adelaide Phillpotts, will be the presentation. This play ran for over two years at the Haymarket Theatre, London, when Sir Barry first produced it, and has proved one of the most popular of his 400 presentations.

Cariboo Country Is Lecture Theme

"I wish there was a Keats, a Shelley or even a Sir Walter Scott among you who would undertake the work of making immortal the sublime scenery of the Cariboo," said John Hosie in his lecture to the Authors' Association in the Archives Chambers, at the Parliament Buildings, last night.

Mr. Hosie showed his interested audience a large number of photographs of the Cariboo Trail, and by his many intimate anecdotes of early pioneer days, he brought home to his listeners the romance and hardship faced by our ancestors.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Hosie at the conclusion of the meeting, and C. C. Pemberton gave a brief address in which he expressed his appreciation of the lecture.

Before the commencement of the address, Mrs. J. R. Angus, secretary of the Authors' Association, was presented with a bouquet by members, on the occasion of her birthday.

"LEANING TOWER OF PISA"

The Leaning Tower of Pisa, as its name indicates, is situated in the small Italian town of Pisa. Nearly every street in this town has its quota of notable buildings, but the "Leaning Tower" is perhaps the most heard and talked of. The tower, if it can be so called, really does lean, and the evidence of the eye can safely be accepted. In the strictest sense of the word, the building can not be called a tower. It is really a campanile or bell-tower. Though it is less than two hundred feet in height, it was nearly two hundred years before the last masonry work was done on it. Many people claim that the tower was meant to lean from the start, while others claim that the trick has been done solely by the ance the whole structure. The last story, the eighth, is much smaller than the others, and leans well over to the north.

The tower is made entirely of marble and the walls at the base are over thirteen feet thick, while at the top they are only about half this thickness.

The bottom story is surrounded by a range of semi-circular arches, supported by fifteen columns, and the next six stories above are supported by thirty columns each. The top story, as before mentioned, is much smaller than the others and has only twelve columns.

When measured in 1829, it was found that the tower was fifteen and a half feet out of the perpendicular, and when measured again in 1910 was sixteen and a half feet out.

THE LEANING TOWER OF PISA

sinking of the foundation on one side. Experts tell us now, that these people were both right and wrong. The architect who designed the tower meant it to be perfectly upright, but when the work had proceeded some way it was found to be inclining to the south.

The foundations of the building are only ten feet deep and consist of wooden piles driven into the ground. The building was only thirty-five feet in height when the piles on the south side sank, giving the building quite a tilt on that side. This happened during the year 1174, and it was not until the year 1350 that work was again commenced on it. The stories which were put on that time were so constructed that they helped to balA party of Rome engineers who measured it a few years ago found that it had tilted even more during the few years, and, fearing for its safety, started a campaign to have it supported and a new foundation put in.

Their measurements, they say, show an even greater tilt than the previous measurements.

The building was started when the people of Pisa grew jealous of the great bell tower of Venice and decided they wanted one as good if not better than it, and although it has met with many strange accidents, the tower still stands, while the tower of Venice fell some years ago.

INCREASE SEEN IN MEMBERSHIPS

Women's Auxiliary and Sunday School Enrollments Larger at St. Luke's Church

The parishioners of St. Luke's Parish held their annual meeting in St. Luke's Hall, with a large attendance. The rector, Rev. S. Lyall, presided, and in his report drew attention to the increased membership in both the Woman's Auxiliary and the Sunday school. During the year a girls' branch of the W.A. had been formed, in addition to the senior and junior branches; and, under the directorship of Major Hardinge, a troop of Boy Scouts had been established.

The people's warden, Colonel G. A. Phillips, presented the annual statement, showing the finances to have been well maintained, and all the important synod appointments and assessments met in full. The retiring wardens, Messrs. Twining and Phillips, were thanked by the meeting for their good work during the past three years.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Rector's warden, Major J. B. Hardinge; people's warden, Colonel A. A. Sharland; church committee, Messrs. Bell, Hallier, Colonel Goodland, McTavish, Maddock, Mitchell, Colonel Phillips, Twining, Mrs. Eastwood and Miss M. Holmes; delegates to synod, Colonel Wilby, Colonel Phillips, Colonel Goodland and L. C. Lytton.

LECTURER GIVES KEY TO SUCCESS

Mrs. Clara M. Killen Believes "Power to Know" Is Directing Impulse of Individual

"How Can I Find My Right Place In Life?" was the subject of an enlightening metaphysical lecture given in the Macabees' Hall, Fort Street, last night by Mrs. Clara M. Killen, a former resident of New Zealand, who is giving a series of lectures in Victoria.

Her lecture last night was quite out of the ordinary and had a special appeal to thinking people who wish to learn more of the infinite power within, the power to know, which is the guiding force of everything in one's life in the present and directing force of the future.

POWER TO KNOW

Mrs. Killen described the power to know as something that can be easily "contacted" if the person so desires. It is, she said, a wonderful power which creates harmony, happiness and is the direction finder of things that belong to the everyday life of the individual. It is the way to peace and freedom. "The power to know can," the lecturer said, "be consulted. It is always with you and can tell you the things that you ought to do, the place you ought to occupy in the world. It is a power more easily discovered with children because their minds are free from care and worry and are filled with happiness and innocence, and therefore they are more susceptible to the power to know."

Mrs. Killen is an interesting lecturer, plain speaking, but knowing her subject from experience of many years. Quiet spoken, she instills into her audience a feeling of something that is deeper, something requiring greater thought. Her lectures are inspirational, but not dramatic. She speaks with deep simplicity, but her teachings are nevertheless masterful.

Will Direct Ladies' Choir This Evening

IRA DILWORTH

During the past year the Victoria Ladies' Choir has been rehearsing under Ira Dilworth as honorary conductor and W. H. Muncy as assistant conductor, with Miss Olive Heale as honorary accompanist. The recital tonight will be the first occasion on which Mr. Dilworth will conduct the public rendition of his own arrangement of a Bach chorale, which the choir sings before each rehearsal and concert.

Among the numbers conducted by Mr. Muncy is one of special interest to a Victoria audience, since it is composed by Sir Hugh Roberton, who will be remembered as an adjudicator at the Victoria Musical Festival, 1931. This is "The Shepherdess." Mr. Muncy will also conduct the choir in an arrangement of Tschaikowsky's "Ye Who the Longing Know" and a negro spiritual, "I'm So Glad Trouble Don't Last Alway."

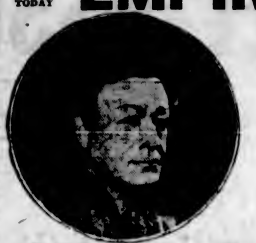

Ernest Caldwell, the eminent Canadian baritone, will be presented for the first time to a Victoria audience by the Victoria Ladies' Choir this evening at the Shrine Auditorium. An excellent group of songs has been chosen by Mr. Caldwell. The recital will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

Motion Pictures Theme of Debate

"Resolved That Motion Pictures Are a Detriment to Modern Youth" was the subject of a very interesting and instructive debate featured at the regular meeting of the Victoria City Temple Young People's Society. The judges, Mrs. P. MacMillan, A. Lumley and R. Snider, awarded the decision to the Hustlers' Club team, Allan Paver and Stanley Hotchkinson, who debated the negative side. The affirmative speakers were the Misses Mona Bradford and Kathleen Oakley.

The judges had considerable difficulty in reaching a decision owing to the very narrow margin between the two sides. This debate was the result of a challenge sent by the Hustlers' Club to the Young People's Society, and it was decided that the Young People's Society would retaliate with a similar challenge in the near future.

The meeting was favored with a solo by Miss Phyllis Deaville, several violin solos by Mr. Veitch, and two humorous recitations by Master Edward Lewis. Refreshments were served and the meeting was brought to a close with a sing-song led by Alfred Redfern. Robert Osselton, president of the society, presided.

DIEGEL ASSUMES LEAD IN CALIENTE OPEN GOLF

Leafs Chalk Up 6-4 Victory Over Montrealers—Rangers Best Boston by 3-1 Count—Falcons Blank Hawks Under 2-to-0 Score

MONTREAL, Jan. 14 (CP).—The Toronto Maple Leafs, safe in first place of the Canadian Section standing of the National Hockey League, scored a 6-4 victory over the Montreal Maroons in a fast and exciting encounter here tonight. The Maroons played fast and sound hockey and the outcome was in doubt till the last two minutes of the game.

The Maroons started off well with a brace of goals within the first three minutes of play. Archie Wilcox and then Nels Stewart scored unassisted. Chuck Conacher scored two goals, one on a pass from Joe Primeau in the first and on a lone effort in the last period. Primeau got one in the first on a double assist, C. Conacher to Jackson, and Jackson counted on a lone try in the third period. Red Horner took Blair's pass for another Toronto goal and Gracie got the other alone.

The Leafs were leading, 3-2, at the end of the first period, but Babe Siebert tied it up in the second with a long shot. Two more goals in the third put the Leafs ahead again. Babe Siebert's second goal, this time on a pass from Lionel Conacher, cut the Toronto lead by one, but Chuck Conacher's last-minute tally made it 5 to 4.

Summary

First Period—1, Maroons, Wilcox, :50; 2, Maroons, Stewart, 11:55; 3, Toronto, C. Conacher (Primeau), 5:34; 4, Toronto, Primeau (C. Conacher and Jackson), 4:50; 5, Toronto, Horner (Blair), 4:00.

Second Period—6, Maroons, Siebert, 16:56.

Third Period—7, Toronto, Gracie, 9:11; 8, Toronto, Jackson, 5:17; 9, Maroons, Siebert (L. Conacher), 1:54; 10, Toronto, C. Conacher, 1:46.

RANGERS WIDEN LEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The New York Rangers continued their campaign for revenge for the indignities of the past National Hockey League season tonight, when they trounced the Boston Bruins, 3 to 1.

Two goals in a brief space of the second period, when George Owen, Bruin defence man, was in the penalty box, decided the exciting game, and some great work by Johnny Roach in the Ranger net enabled the Rangers to hold their advantage, although three Boston stars, Eddie Shore, Cooney Weiland and Harry Oliver, were out of action. Roach was called on for forty-nine saves, many of which seemed almost impossible. Tiny Thompson, Boston goalie, stopped twenty-nine shots.

Murray Murdoch started the scoring for the Rangers with his first goal of the season and Bill Cook made the other two tallies. Marty Barry scored Boston's only counter just a second before the final bell when a penalty to Johnson aided the final Bruin attack.

Summary

Second Period—1, Rangers, Murdoch (Johnson and Dillon), 8:24; 2, Rangers, W. Cook (Boucher), 1:10. Penalties: Owen, Siebert.

Third Period—3, Rangers, Cook, 4:05; 4, Boston, Barry (A. Cook), 15:53. Penalties: Somers, Johnson.

FALCONS BLANK HAWKS

DETROIT, Jan. 14.—Detroit's Falcons kept up their home winning streak tonight, downing the Chicago Black Hawks, 2 to 0, in a fast but ragged National League hockey match.

The Hawks, tired after a hard game last night with the Canadiens, of Montreal, were unable to keep up the fast pace set by an improved Falcon forward line.

Hec Kilrea, Falcon wing man, scored the first goal, taking a pass from Larry Aurie less than three minutes after play started. Two Detroit newcomers, Frank Carson and Happy Emms, teamed for the second goal late in the second period, Emms scoring.

Summary

First Period—1, Detroit, Kilrea (Aurie), 2:14. Penalties: Boucher, Abel.

Third Period—No score. Penalty: Boucher.

Seek Revenge for 1931 Cup Final Defeat

BIRMINGHAM are out to annex the English Cup this year, and so avenge their defeat at the hands of West Bromwich Albion in a bitterly-fought final at Wembley Stadium last year. While "Brum" do not occupy an imposing position in the First Division League table, still they have been known to work soccer wonders once they get going. Above layout shows the personnel of the team which defeated Bradford City at home in a third round cup tie Saturday, 1-0. The team: (op row) L. Knighton (manager), Hibbs, Blyth, R. C. Tewkesbury, Morrall, Tremelling, Fellingham, Bradford; (second row) Cringan, Haywood, Briggs, Barkas, Hicks, Curtis, Leslie; (bottom row), Robinson, Horsman, Randle, Crosbie, Firth and Booton.

Ground Conditions May Force Ruggers To Rest Tomorrow

IF Jack Frost continues to dominate conditions in the city today as he has done since Monday, the senior and intermediate Rugby fixtures scheduled tomorrow afternoon will be canceled, according to information received yesterday from Secretary Fred Cabeldu of the Victoria Rugby Union. Unless Jupiter Pluvius intercepts today and loosens up the grounds, Rugby players will have a day of rest tomorrow. At the present time the pitches are dangerous to play on.

International Golf Match Expected to Be Held This Year

Walker Cup Fixture Between Great Britain and United States Will Not Be Called Off, Report Indicates—Invitation Now on Way

LONDON, Jan. 14.—An obscure point of letter-writing etiquette and threatening, it seems, to leave the 1932 Walker Cup golf matches unplayed, tonight was well on its way to satisfactory conclusion.

For weeks officials of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews have been waiting for an invitation to send their team to the United States. They have read in newspapers about Francis Oulmet being named captain of the American team, but no other team members chosen, dates set or course selected.

The British say they didn't know exactly what to do, but being strict ritualists on matters of invitations, did nothing.

Today the gulf between the shy Anglo-American golfing authorities was bridged when it was learned that what amounts to an American invitation from H. H. Ramsay, president of the United States Golf Association, is expected on the next mail boat. It is not giving away official secrets to say that British acceptance is expected.

The crux of this international problem, it seems, has been the feeling on each side of the Atlantic that economic conditions on the other side might interfere with the amateur golf team classic.

Britain, it is admitted, has her economic troubles, but as yet they are not serious enough to interfere with her golf. It is not the economic depression so much as the depression in the quality of amateur golf that is this country's chief concern.

YOUNG TEAM

But Great Britain will have a fair team, composed mostly of promising youngsters as yet unselected. There is no reason why they should not do as well as the seasoned British team did at Sandwich two years ago.

In explaining today at New York, the failure of the Royal and Ancient and the U.S.G.A. to get together, H. H. Ramsay said it always has been customary for the visiting team to open diplomatic negotiations.

Charlie Smith Is Chosen Secretary Of Soccer League

CHARLIE Smith, football enthusiast and well known in local golf circles, was appointed secretary of the Victoria and District Football League this week, according to word received from officials of the loop. Although not connected with any of the First Division elevens, Smith has been keenly interested in the league for several years, and his appointment will be a popular one. He will attend his first meeting Monday evening, at the Y.M.C.A., when the league will select an all-star squad to meet Nanaimo on Sunday, January 24, at the Up-Island centre. Smith is at present secretary of the Victoria Greenkeepers' Association.

Home Course Pro Shoots Brilliant 68 to Go to Top

Leo Diegel Takes Two-Stroke Lead at Half-Way Mark of Rich Tournament With Total of 140—Charley Guest in Second Place—Gene Sarazen Third—Harry Cooper Well Up

Walter Hagen Plays Steadily; Macdonald Smith Withdraws

AGUA CALIENTE, Jan. 14 (AP).—Led by Leo Diegel, home pro, a bunch of the boys were burning it up on the 6,838-yard course here today. They played havoc with par, bringing the scores for the first two rounds of the $15,000 Agua Caliente open tournament below anything done in the two previous meetings for the world's richest golf prize.

Larrupin Lou was laying them in close to the pin and sinking putts all over his home course. He went out in 35, ducking one under par, and came back with a 33, three strokes under par, for a 68, a new course record. That figure, coupled with the 70 he made yesterday, set Diegel two strokes in front of Charley Guest, his nearest competitor, for the $5,000 first place money.

Guest, nicknamed "The Beau," who registered from Deal, N.J., blasted his way to a 69 today for a total of 140 strokes for the thirty-six holes played.

Diegel's 68 was tied by Paul Runyon, White Plains, N.Y., pro, who formerly held the North and South match play championship. But his brilliant card of 34-34 gave him no better than a tie for sixth place in the standing when coupled with the 74 he took yesterday in the rain, wind and mud.

MORRISON SLIPS

The "Great Mudder," as big Fred Morrison of Culver City, Cal., was promptly dubbed yesterday when he finished the first round in 69, found the course more difficult under a brilliant sun. He was two over par today with a 74. His 143 total, one under par, gave him a tie for fourth place.

After matching Diegel's 70 yesterday, Gene Sarazen, the husky veteran who won the first Agua Caliente tournament in 1930, made even par today, 72, to fall into third place, two strokes behind Guest and four behind the "Larruper."

Bracketed with Morrison in fourth spot tonight was Harry Cooper, of Chicago. Steady golf was the keynote of Cooper's play, as he had a 71-72.

Walter Hagen, the veteran who flashes in the East but ordinarily hides his talent in a bunker on the West Coast, hit his stride with a 70 today. His 74 yesterday placed him in the 144 tie with the rising young Runyan.

MAC SMITH WITHDRAWS

Cold, overcast and stormy the first day, warm and brilliantly clear the second, was a contrast which was too much for Macdonald Smith, the Carnoustie Scot who won the Los Angeles open early this week, but made only a 78 yesterday. Mac Smith withdrew and spent the day nursing a cold in his hotel room.

J. G. Hunter, of Pasadena, who was tied yesterday at 73 with Charles Dawson, of Chicago, for first-round amateur honors, was one up on Dawson tonight. He made another 73, while Johnny took a 74 for the second round.

So many of the original starters picked up today that the officials did not cut the field tonight. Eighty pros and twenty-three amateurs probably will tee off tomorrow.

JERICHO CAPTURES TWO-MILE HURDLE

HURST Park, England, Jan. 14 (AP).—J. H. Whitney's Jericho, at odds of 8 to 13, won the Mole hurdle race by half a length today from F. W. Wilmot's Dromkeen and eight others.

The race was over a two-mile course, and the stakes were £150.

PAT McKAY LOSES

JOKERS WILL FACE ROVERS THIS EVENING

Formidable Squads to Meet in Roller Fixture—Wallace Signed by Jokers

CROSS JUNIORS WILL CLASH WITH MONARCHS

Strengthened by the addition of Ian Wallace, star defence man for the Victoria City squad last year, winners of the city championship, Jokers will skate on the floor against the Rovers this evening at the King Rink in the feature fixture on the Victoria Roller Hockey League programme confident of scoring their first win in the race for the second half honors in the senior division. In the curtain raiser Cross Juniors will clash with the undefeated Monarchs in an intermediate tussle, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Last week Jokers suffered their first setback of the season at the hands of Burnetts by a lone goal after twenty minutes of overtime. Burnetts played splendid hockey but the Jokers were forced to play throughout with two of their regulars absent. With a full squad on deck, Manager Tommy Rickinson is sure that his aggregation will click in old-time fashion and come through with a win.

Danny Pastro will guard the net for Jokers, with Gran Bothwell, "Blondie" Rickinson and Wallace sharing the defence duty. "Red" Lawson, Dal Munro, Albert Woods, Les Taylor and Burnett doing work on the front line. The Rovers will be strong, with the following in uniform: Parkington, Simmons, Farmer, Hemming, J. Carlow, Moore, H. Bossom and B. Carlow.

The intermediate tussle is expected to provide plenty of action with two powerful teams taking the floor. Due to their past record, the Monarchs are favored to come through.

Basketball and Dance Scheduled At J.B.A.A. Club

Hudson's Bay first string squad of fair sex basketballers will journey to the Gorge gymnasium tomorrow evening to try conclusions with the J.B.A.A. No. 2 quintette in an exhibition fixture. The teams will have their best bets in uniform and a close tussle is expected. Following the game, the visiting players will be guests of the club at a dance, starting at 9 o'clock.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS FROM KAPLAN

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 14 (AP).—Ed. (Strangler) Lewis, formerly heavyweight wrestling champion, gained a one-fall victory over Abe Kaplan, Montreal, here last night. After one hour and ten minutes of wrestling, with punishing headlocks, Kaplan was unable to return to the battle. Lewis weighed 235; Kaplan, 220.

SONNENBERG WINS FROM PAT McGILL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14 (AP).—Gus Sonnenberg, of Providence, one-time claimant of the world's wrestling title, tossed Pat McGill, of Omaha, with a flying tackle last night to win the feature bout of a wrestling card. The bout lasted 26 mins. 43 secs.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

125-Mile Run in One Day—Euchidas of Plataea, Greece, ran from Plataea to Delphos and return in a single day between sunrise and sunset. This run was made to fetch the sacred fire of the sacrifices which had been defiled by the invading Persians in the year 480 B.C. The great runner covered 1,006 stadia (about 125 miles) on foot before dark and dropped dead on his return to Plataea.

Insurance Agent Robert James—Robert James, agent for the New York Life Insurance Company, selects his prospects wisely and well. In December, 1931, Mr. James completed his tenth contract-year with the company. During this time he has written over 500 policies, and has never handled a death claim on any of them.

Doubtless the policy-holders feel better about this record than does Mr. James.

WEATHER MAY HOLD UP GAMES

Teams All Ready to Start Sports at at Lake Placid—Ski Trials Billed Sunday

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—It seems to be up to the weather now so far as the preparations for the Winter Olympic games at Lake Placid next month are concerned.

Teams from European countries are arriving almost daily. Most of the final try-outs for positions on the American team are to be held within a week, two sets of trials have been completed, and still they are waiting for cold weather to prepare for the most spectacular events.

If the weather, which has removed most of the ice and washed the snow from the slopes of the Adirondacks, permits, the coming week-end will see Olympic trials in three sports.

At Lake Placid, the preliminary bobsleigh try-outs are scheduled. The men's speed skating events, already postponed once, are slated to be held at Albany Sunday, and the women's tests are scheduled for Oconomowoc, Wis. The ski jumping trials are scheduled for Canton next Sunday.

J.B.A.A. Cagers Will Journey to Up-Island Centre

Coach Alan Wright and his J.B.A.A. No. 1 squad of cagers and the caramen's senior "C" quintette will journey to Chemainus tomorrow evening to play return fixtures with the Up-Islanders. Both local squads will be at full strength and expect to return with a couple of victories.

Kaplan Badly Injured During Lewis Encounter

PORTLAND, Jan. 14 (AP).—Abe Kaplan, professional wrestler, was admitted to a hospital here today for a treatment to a dislocation of several vertebrae at the base of his neck, received in a match last night with Ed (Strangler) Lewis.

Hospital attendants said the giant wrestler was in a semi-conscious condition when received.

Lewis won the match when it appeared he was about to lose. He uncorked a hard wallop on Kaplan's chin with the heel of his hand. The blow knocked Kaplan flat, and while he was on the floor, Lewis pounded rabbit punches on his neck and then applied his famous headlock. Kaplan was unable to continue.

BUFFALO ICE CLUB MAY BE SOLD SOON

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Sale of the Buffalo franchise of the American Hockey League to a group of Chicagoans, headed by P. L. Smithers, is pending, T. J. Shaughnessy, vice-president of the league, said yesterday.

A tentative agreement was reached whereby the Chicagoans would purchase the controlling interest in the club and retain Larry Welch as president of the Buffalo Majors.

JOKERS' LINE-UP

EQUIPOISE TO RUN IN SPRING

Famous Colt Will Be Sent to Post Again Following Breakdown Last Season

RED BANK, N.J., Jan. 14 (AP).—Chances that Equipoise, which went wrong on the eve of the last Kentucky Derby, will return to the races this Spring are none too bright at C. V. Whitney's Brookdale Farm, here.

Equipoise, now a four-year-old, was thrown out of training prior to the Preakness, but ran in the event, finishing fourth. He went on to the Derby, but a blind crack was discovered a few hours before post time, and as the result the Winter book favorite was withdrawn for the first time in the history of the Blue Grass classic.

Trainer Tom Healy is hopeful of getting him to the races, but the way the colt looks now, Healy is none too certain about the prospect.

CITY EXPECTED TO GET PART OF SWIM TRIALS

Babe Ruth Refuses To Accept Contract Offered by Ruppert

Home-Run King Will Hold Out for One-Year Contract for $80,000 or Two Years at $70,000 —Document Returned to Club

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—Baseball's greatest wage earner, Babe Ruth, cast a withering glance today at a contract calling for $70,000, a reduction of 12 1-2 per cent from last year, stuffed it back in his pocket and hurried out to get in a few rounds of golf. The big fellow is a holdout again. He doesn't like Colonel Jacob Ruppert's offer for 1932. He's going to stand firm either for $80,000 for one year, or $70,000 for a two-year contract.

"No, sir, I won't sign that thing," said the Babe. "I think I'm worth the other $10,000 after the season I had. They're making a joke of this cutting business.

"Where do they get all this cutting?" he demanded. "If they keep it up, pretty soon the public's going to want its cut, too. Then where'll they be? I haven't heard of them reducing the admission prices.

"Nope, I'm not going to call Colonel Ruppert about it. I'm just going to send this contract right back."

RUPPERT NOT EXCITED

The owner of the Yanks, meanwhile, had adopted his usual philosophic attitude where the Babe and money matters are concerned. They've always gotten together before, he reasons, so why get excited. Informed of Ruth's demand, Colonel Ruppert said:

"I do not think we can do better than a one-year contract at $70,000. I haven't talked with Ruth yet, but we will discuss the matter, and I am sure we can reach an agreement quickly. We have never had much trouble doing so before."

The amount offered Ruth is the same he received for the three-year period from 1927-29. For five years before that he had received $52,500 annually. The last two seasons he has received $80,000.

In view of the general reduction of salaries in both leagues, Yank officials consider their offer to Ruth more than fair. He, on the other hand, points to the fact he enjoyed one of his best seasons in 1931, tying for the home run leadership and batting .373, second only to Al. Simmons, of the Athletics. He is in fine condition for the coming campaign and feels he is due for another big year.

NORTHAMPTON TOWN DOWNS DARLINGTON IN SOCCER REPLAY

LONDON, Jan. 14 (CP).—In replays from the third round of the English Football Association competition today, Northampton Town defeated Darlington, 2 to 0, and Watford beat Fulham, 3 to 0.

In an English League, Third Division, Northern Section, match, Crewe Alexandra won over Hull, 4 to 2.

BOBBY JONES

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 14.—Bobby Jones, grand slam golfer, who has won cups by bushels and championships at wholesale, today wore a grin like a beginner who had broken 100 for the first time. He shot his second hole in one at the Hill Country Club here yesterday. It was on the 136-yard uphill No. 14. He used a No. 4 iron. He made his first hole in one in Atlanta in 1926, on his home course.

LEVINSKY AND UZCUDUN WILL MEET TONIGHT

Chicago Heavyweight and Spaniard to Battle in Ten-Round Mix

MAIER AND BAIN TO MIX IN SEMI

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP).—King Levinsky, the wild swinging heavyweight from Chicago's Ghetto, and Paolino Uzcudun, the durable Spaniard, will meet tomorrow night in the first major fisticuff attraction of the 1932 Chicago season at the Stadium.

Levinsky, whose most recent accomplishment was a ten-round decision over Master Boxer Tommy Louchran, will have a chance to give his right-hand punch a thorough testing, for Uzcudun has yet to be knocked from his feet, let alone knocked out. They are scheduled for ten rounds.

Flanking the feature will be another installment of the National Boxing Association's tournament to find a successor to Maxie Rosenbloom, as fight-heavyweight champion of the world.

Dave Maier, Milwaukee southpaw, will meet Abe Bain, of Newark, N.J., in a ten-rounder, and Baxter Caimes, of Wichita, Kas., will tackle Bob Olin, of New York, over the same distance.

SONS OF ENGLAND INSTALL OFFICERS

Lodge Pride of the Island, No. 131, Sons of England Benefit Society, opened the year's work on January 12 at the S.O.E. Hall, Broad Street. During the evening Worthy District Deputy Brother Wyman, acting as Supreme Lodge representative, installed the 1932 officers, who were elected in Decembr last. Mr. Willoughby, of Lodge Alexander, acted as Supreme guide.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the district deputy presented the Past President's jewel to W. J. C. Brown, who vacates the chair after a good year's work. In acknowledging the gift, Mr. Brown thanked the officers and brothers for their support and solicited the same good will and assistance for his successor. Supper was served after the lodge closed.

"No, sir; certainly not."

"Are you certain?"

"Yes, I couldn't get the cork out."—Hummel, Hamburg.

Lengthy Programme Of Events Released By Canadian Heads

Victoria and Vancouver Expected to Split Trials to Determine Canada's Representatives at Next Summer's Sports in South

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—The approaching 1932 Olympiad, to be staged at Los Angeles between July 30 and August 14, brings with it a fever of activity in every branch of athletic endeavor, with swimming numbered among the foremost, particularly in British Columbia, the chosen venue for the Canadian trials. The meeting of the British Columbia section of the C.A.S.C. will be held Saturday night, with representatives from every swimming organization in the province present, Victoria in particular sending George I. Warren to lay a proposal before the assembly that should be attractive.

The outcome of the meeting will probably see part of the trials in Victoria, and the rest in Vancouver, as the expense involved will be no small item. The living expenses of the competing athletes will have to be shouldered, as well as the cost of medals for thirteen events, a matter of $234.

The complete list of Canadian championship events which will be competed for in the Olympic trials follows:

1. 100 yards, free style, men.
2. Springboard diving (3 metres), men.
3. 100 yards free style, women.
4. 200 yards breaststroke, women.
5. Springboard diving (3 metres), women.
6. 100 yards backstroke, women.
7. High diving (5 and 10 metres), women.
8. 100 yards backstroke, men.
9. High diving (5 and 10 metres), men.
10. 200 yards breaststroke, men.
11. 400 yards free style, women.
12. One mile, free style, men.
13. 400 yards free style, men.

NO RELAY EVENTS

There will be no relay events, the first four place winners of the men's 400-yard race automatically being chosen to represent Canada in the relay.

The official list of diving events for the Olympic games has been decided upon as under:

SPRINGBOARD DIVING

Men

1. Running pike dive, 3 metres.
2. Back somersault, 3 metres.
3. Running reverse somersault (Moliberg), with tuck, 3 metres.

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS SURPLUS

Chief of Esquimalt Police Delmar Hodnett Keeps Expenses Within Estimates

A surplus of $1,270 over the 1931 estimates was shown in the annual report of Chief of Esquimalt Police Delmar Hodnett, made public yesterday.

The estimates for the year amounted to $8,636 and the expenditures amounted to $7,366.30. The chief reported that a total of 1,346 complaints had been attended during the year and that the municipality had had twenty-five fire calls.

Forty-seven convictions were secured in police court during the year and $1,995 was collected in fines and licences.

Security Prices Move Higher at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP).—Large scale covering by the short interest added substantially to the stock market's gains during the morning hours today.

Thereafter the advance was subject to profit taking, but a late spurt by the rails served to keep the balance of the day's changes comfortably in the plus column.

At its best the stock list was 1 to 4 points higher. These gains were largely built on a short retreat which in the first hour gave the market a turnover of 600,000 shares, the largest in several months.

In addition to the rails, which were up 1 to 3, tobaccos accomplished further recovery. Several independent steels reacted well to speculative hopes for a revival in their industry later this month or early next. American Telephone was supported by official announcement that the dividend had been more than earned last year, even though the margin was small.

U.S. Steel climbed to 46 1-4 before tiring; it closed 1-8 lower at 44 1-2. For most other leaders extreme gains were pared to fractions. Auburn ran up 3 and then sagged 2 net. Turnover of 2,653,100 shares was the largest in nearly a month.

Brokers' loans, contrary to some forecasts, sagged $5,000,000, thus maintaining the trend of more than four months.

Strength in United States Government issues and railroad mortgages buoyed up the entire list and even the industrials and utilities, which have been inclined to lag, registered moderate gains generally. Sales totaled $17,727,000.

WHEAT PRICES DOWN SLIGHTLY

Late Selling Pressure Wipes Out Early Gains at Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, Jan. 14 (CP).—Last-minute selling, which found support lacking, wiped out earlier gains on the wheat market today and wheat prices eased downward to close with a loss of 1-2c. May closed at 62 1-2 and July option at 63.

Firmness in the stock markets and a small amount of export worked overnight accounted for 1-2c advance at the opening, which was held throughout until the sudden influx of selling orders caught the market unawares and sent values skidding. Trading continued dull, the brief closing flurry being the only activity shown.

Foreign news generally was on the bearish side. Advices from Argentina indicated that larger exports from that country are in prospect. Clearances of wheat from Russia also increased.

No demand was exhibited for cash wheat, spreads closing unchanged. Coarse grain trading also was slow, prices moving within a narrow range.

Key Issues Continue To Record Gains at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, Jan. 14 (CP).—With volume expanded to over 10,000 shares for the first time this year, the advance was continued today on the Montreal Stock Exchange. At no time, however, did the list reveal the buoyancy shown on the New York Exchange and most price changes were of a fractional nature. Toward the end of the session a slightly weaker feeling was in evidence.

Canadian Pacific Railway, in advancing to a high for the year at 17 3-4, provided the feature. Its close at 17 1-2 was 7-8 higher than yesterday's final figure. Brazilian Traction touched 13 for the first time in 1932 and was up 1-4. International Nickel went up to 10 3-4 before closing unchanged at 10 1-2. McColl-Frontenac showed heavy sales, amounting to 2,620, at its pegged level of 9 7-8. Two-point gains were shown by Steel of Canada at 22 and Consolidated Smelters at 71.

Total sales were 10,525 shares.

Bond sales totaled $5,000 and included an advance of 70 cents to 104.70 in Victory, 1937, and a dollar loss to 96 in National Service, 1941.

Sterling was strong at $4.1233. United States funds were unchanged at 19 per cent premium.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP).—Stimulated by a wave of buying in New York, prices again advanced today on the Toronto Stock Exchange. In brokerage circles it is again asserted the market forecasts business six months ahead, indicating high hopes are being entertained for the settlement of the world's major problems during the coming six months and that the latter half of 1932 may see materially improved trade conditions.

On the Toronto board sales totaled 12,925 shares, a sharp improvement in turnover. Of the forty-nine issues which were traded, eighteen were higher at the close, fifteen were off and sixteen unchanged.

Leading local issues, in point of value, were the interlisted stocks. Canadian Pacific, with sales of 1,216 shares, was up 5-8 at 17 5-8. Brazilian Traction was turned over in excess of 1,200 shares and gained 1-4 to 12 3-4.

Ford of Canada showed a loss of 1-2 at 13 3-8.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP).—Mixed price action with increased sales volume featured trading today on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange. Market leaders were generally firm in price. Transactions totaled 273,754 shares, with seventy issues traded, of which twenty-six advanced in price, twenty-four declined and twenty closed unchanged.

The base metal section developed firmness under increased buying. Noranda, with sales of 5,325 shares, rose to $17.50 but closed at $16.55, down 5 cents. International Nickel advanced 25 cents to $10.50, and Hudson Bay gained 10 cents to $2.75.

Leaders in the gold section made minor gains.

Favorable gains appeared in the oil list. International Petroleum was up 50 cents to $11.35, and Imperial rose 35 cents to $10.35.

PRECIOUS METAL GROUP DECLINES

Pioneer Gains Nine Cents but Others Are Lower at Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14 (CP).—Price changes were mixed in a session of apathetic trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today.

The precious metals group, usually in the van of advancing prices, eased off today and, with the exception of Pioneer, active issues in this group were off fractionally to 2 points. Pioneer, in light trading, gained 8c to 95c. Premier lost 2 to 60, while Lorne Gold at 17 1-2 and Noble Five at 6 1-4, were each off fractions. Big Missouri gained 1-2 to 15.

BONERS

Solon was one of the three great kings of Judah. He was a poet and some of his songs are contained in our book of praise which we call psalms. Whenever he met Pompey he took off his hat!

SCOTS SAVE THE POUND

The drop in the exchange value of the pound sterling is reported to have caused worry in the Highlands of Scotland. When rumor in one village said the pound was only worth fifteen shillings instead of the customary twenty, many savers raided their "stockings" and took the banknotes to the stores. There the notes were changed into twenty shillings in silver, and the villagers went home satisfied.

BRITISH DEAD IN FREE STATE

Identification and verification of the 3,000 graves of British soldiers in the Irish Free State is being continued. Headstones are now being erected by the Imperial War Graves Commission. According to the latest report of the Free State Commissioners of Public Works, more than 1,300 graves have been located and verified in 140 cemeteries and graveyards.

Tribute to the daring of an unknown student who climbed to the top of the Mitchell Tower at Aberdeen University, Scotland, recently, by means of the lightning rod and lashed a grotesquely clad skeleton to the weathervane, is paid in the students' magazine. The skeleton has been left on the vane.

That Body of Yours

By James W Barton, M.D.

DECAY OF TEETH

It has recently been stated that the public is being preyed on and even prayed for, by the food faddists, in an endeavor to prevent decay of teeth.

Dr. J. A. Marshall, San Francisco, says that the new discoveries about foods-vitamins and the value of lime and phosphorous have been so rapid and so spectacular that the physicians and dentists haven't had time or been able to conduct sufficient investigations regarding them as yet. The result is that the faddists seize upon these facts and give them to the public to further their own food fads.

That decay of teeth can be traced to lack of certain vitamins or food factors in the diet has been amply proven by research workers in the United States and Great Britain.

However, this lack is not the entire cause of the decay of teeth and pyorrhoea, as other factors seem to enter into it, in the opinion of Dr. Marshall.

There are organisms that get into the blood stream and about the margins of the gums that cause decay of the teeth and pyorrhoea.

Then there are certain chemicals in the body, some of which are helpful and others harmful to the teeth.

The diet that is lacking in lime and phosphorous and certain vitamins causes early decay of the teeth.

And finally, the ductless glands—thyroid, adrenal, pituitary and so forth—which are the regulators of the body processes, can also be responsible for the condition of the teeth.

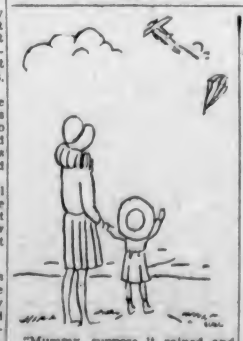

However, as far as can be learned by observation and the microscope, the diet is the most important factor in preserving the teeth or allowing them to decay.

Now, the ideal diet for everybody has not yet been arranged, nor is it ever likely to be, but a diet that will suit practically everybody, except those whose ailments prevent the use of the general list of foods, is not hard to arrange.

This diet requires that you take one part meat and eggs to two parts fat (cream, butter and so forth), to four parts starches, vegetables and sugar. Where the individual works hard outdoors even more meat and eggs may be eaten.

And to make sure the teeth will receive the proper amount of lime phosphorous and vitamins, all that is necessary is to add some raw vegetables or raw fruit to the diet at least once every day.

Proceeding over Drumochter Pass in Scotland at night, an automobile was charged by a stag so furiously that the animal broke its neck and the car was ditched. The two occupants of the machine were not injured, but had to walk seven stormy miles to Dalwhinnie.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT
by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

INACCURATE POST-MORTEMS

Post-mortems at the bridge table are usually inaccurate, because they fail to take into account anything but the most obvious play. Most players in their post-hand analysis concede tricks to aces and kings, failing to remember that accurate play and accurate counting of the distribution of suits may nullify the value of otherwise taking honors.

The hand below, in which the South cards were held by Mr. Walter Malowan, shows how an accurate count of the cards held by his opponents enabled him to make what appeared to be an impossible contract.

North and South not vulnerable. East and West vulnerable.

North: ♠ K J 9 4 ♥ J 7 4 ♦ A 7 2 ♣ 10 5 4
West: ♠ 6 ♥ A K 8 6 5 3 ♦ 3 ♣ Q J 9 8 7
East: ♠ 5 2 ♥ Q 10 9 2 ♦ K Q J 9 8 5 ♣ K
South: ♠ A Q 10 8 7 3 ♥ — ♦ 10 6 4 ♣ A 6 3 2

The Bidding:
(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	2♥	2♠(1)	3♥(2)
4♠(3)	Pass(4)	Pass	Pass

1—This raise is not justified on the basis of playing-tricks. It is, however, sound from the defensive standpoint.

2—A sound raise based both on honor holdings and playing-tricks.

3—South's four-spade bid is optimistic in view of his partner's single raise which may be the showing of only slight support for the bid in view of the scoring situation.

4—West, vulnerable, declines to risk a bid of five hearts. Actually this contract would have been penalized only one trick.

West elected to open his singleton diamond. This lead was not a particularly desirable one, but was based on the hope that his partner might hold the ace of diamonds and permit him to utilize his lone trump in ruffing. South correctly read the lead for a singleton and thus had the first bit of information as to suit distribution. Apparently, the combined hands contained four losing tricks—two in diamonds and two in clubs. In order, if possible, to reduce the losers to three and thus make his contract, South won the diamond trick with the ace and led a heart from Dummy and trumped.

Elimination of the hearts from the Dummy hand was an essential part of the campaign. A spade was led, taken in the Dummy, and another heart ruffed in the closed hand. Dummy's last heart was led and through this process of suit elimination, Mr. Malowan had quite accurate information as to the distribution of the hands.

West had held originally one spade and one diamond. Apparently, his remaining cards had been six hearts and five clubs. East's raise of West's heart bid and West's failure to bid five hearts seemed to make it more probable that he held six rather than seven hearts. East, therefore, held originally two spades, four hearts, six diamonds and one club. East's singleton club must be an honor, as otherwise West, with king, queen and jack of clubs, in addition to his heart holding, would have continued the bidding. Mr. Malowan, therefore, led the deuce of clubs from his own hand and East won with his singleton king. He now cashed two diamond tricks, but having done this, was through, as his next lead permitted South to discard a losing club in the Dummy which he trumped in the closed hand, thus making his contract.

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: What is a deep finesse?

Answer: A deep finesse is a finesse against three or more outstanding higher cards. (Example: A, K, 9, x.)

PENSIONS AND WORK

Sir,—Re Albert Munckton's letter in Sunday's Colonist. I don't think Mr. Munckton needs to think of giving any portion of his pension, as no one expects a man with a pension of $30, or even $60, a month, to give up any of it. But I do think that men who are getting $50 up to $100, and in Government jobs, should be forced to give up either their pension or their job. They are returned men deliberately robbing their comrades and little children of their daily bred. Their comrades are overtaxed to pay these persons double pay. What a picture! Men who have fought side by side, and now many of them with disabilities begging for work, only to be told there is nothing doing by the comrades who have secured big pensions and good jobs.

Can we ever expect world peace or prosperity while these conditions are allowed to exist? Never!

M. E. HUTCHINSON.

HOLLY THEFTS

Sir,—For the past three or four Christmas seasons the practice of taking holly from local gardens without the consent of the owners has been growing. The increase in the number of complaints covering the Christmas season just passed has been remarkable. Local stores selling holly report that they were pestered by young people trying to sell them small quantities, many of these showing signs of hasty removal from the tree. Householders will remember the number of times they were called to the door by holly peddlers. This Fall, I think it is the first time, reports of loss of fruit from local gardens were common enough to be noticable; also house-to-house fruit peddling was much more general than usual. No one can have any possible objection to children or adults trying to sell the produce of their own gardens, but there seems to be an unescapable connection between the sudden increase in petty pilfering from gardens and the door-to-door peddling by young men and children.
